ASHFIELD GIANT DIES IN TEXAS

the death of Roderick Bain McKen zie. 74, known commonly as "the Ashfield Giant," who died suddenly to the Markdale Standard. at his home at Houston, Texas.

He was born in Ashfield. As a young man, "Big Rory," as he was familiarly known, was a stone mason. In 1936 Mr McKenzie visited relatives near Priceville and at that time weighed 368 pounds. His record weight had been 427 pounds. He was more than seven feet tall and was a perfect specimen physical manhood. He was a Scottish piper and was at one time Pipe Major of the famous Belleville Kiltie Band, which, during a tour of Britain, played by command before King Edward VII in Balmoral Castle.

Mr McKenzie had been associated with carnival and circus life since leaving Lucknow as a young man. He was assistant manager of Coney Island Dreamland. Later he went to Australia to help in establishing amusement parks.

In 1914 he returned to the show business in the States and became head of his own shows, known as "McGregor Shows." At the time of his death he was still head of the carnival. company.

He is survived by his widow, for merly Miss Christine McDougall of Priceville; also one sister, Mrs James Scott, Barrie; one brother Neil Mc Kenzie, Toronto. Interment was at Duluth, Minn.
