'O Canada' Now National Song

King Stands at Attention is Ottawa, Giving It New Status

Canada's patriotic song, "O Canada," was celebrated to the status of a national anthem when, following the precedent established by King Edward VIII, on July 26, 1936, King George stood at attention when this was played by the bands.

Alighting from the royal car in front of the National War Memorfal, Their Majesties were greeted by the playing of the National Anthem. The King stood at attention, and remained in this fixed posture when the band swung into "O Can-

Queen Joins in Singing This was repeated in reverse order at the close of the unveiling eeremony. His Majesty stood at attention throughout the singing of the French and English versions of "O Canada." The Queen, it was noted, joined in singing. Her Majesty also sang "God Save the King" at the termmation of the service.

Cars Of Future Will Have Beds

To Be More Like Homes Than Present Vehicles: Washstands Also Visioned by Motor Expert

Automobiles of the future, as visualized by a motor expert, will appear more like homes than vebicles-with movable chairs, sunbath roofs, air-conditioning, beds and washstands. "In the not-too-far distant future, we will walk up to our car, push a button and the door will open the seats will be light movable chairs and the floor will be wide and flat.

Sun-Bath Roof

"A portion of the roof will be made of a curved translucent material which will admit the healthgiving rays of the sun, at the same time removing the glare. A series of buttons will regulate the temperature and humidity to any desired condition of air.

"Pressing of another button will unfold a concealed bed from out of the partition between the passenger and engine compartments. Many little passenger conveniences will be installed, such as toilet and lavatory facilities."

Without Increasing Size Allen said the driver also would be able to carry on a two-way con-Versation with home or office. Movable controls, he said, would make it possible to drive the car from any seat.

"All of this will be done," he added, "without increasing the width or height of the car at all and the length only slightly."

He didn't say how much the cars would cost-or how soon they'll be on the assembly line.

FORECAST: There's that election again. We're talking about it a little prematurely perhaps, but now that the King and Queen are on their way back to England, the prospect of an autumn trip to the polls is No. 1 topic of conversation in Canadian politics.

We believe in getting our guess in early, too . . . on what the House of Commons is going to look like after the battle. It's our opinion that the Government will have lost a number of seats to the Conservatives (in Ontario chiefly); that the Left-Wing group of C.C.F., Socred, Farmer-Labor, etc., will be there in larger numbersthe West may never again vote enthusiastically for Liberals or Conservatives-to hold a very effective balance of power between the two old-line parties. We can see both Liberals and Conservatives toadying to the Left-Wingers in order to gain their voting support in the House. Or are we crazy?

TOPS TODAY: The French General Staff have been heard in recent weeks to brag that the Army of the Republic is now at its greatest efficiency since Napoleon, could lick the Germany Army with one hand tied behind its back.

Major George Fielding Eliot, American military expert, agrees, Says he: "It is the French army, not the German which is pre-eminent in Europe today. This remains a towering fact. But," he warns, "with every year that passes, the conditions are likely to alter in favor of Germany, as her military machine improves, enlarges, gains experience and train-

POST-CONFESSIONAL: When Colonel T. E. Lawrence's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom" was published. the world thought that in it, the great British leader of the Arabs (during the Great War) had made his last confessions. Now new light is being thrown on the mystery-hero's actions after the War with the publication of a chapter previously omitted from the book. This chapter reveals that the Colonel knew all along that the Arabs would be double-crossed by Britain. The Colonel had consistently refused money and decorations from the British Government, reputedly as a protest against Britain's welching on territorial promises made to buy up the Arabs for the Allies.

THE WEEK'S QUESTION: Why was Hitler mad when the story was recently circulated that three new typewriters had been delivered to his Berlin office? Answer: The Fuehrer's eyesight is giving him such a deal of trouble his secretaries have to type his speeches on machines that have extra-large sized letters. Hitler refuses to appear in public with glasses and can't read ordinary printed matter without them.

National Forestry Program's Started

Enrolment in the National Forestry Program is now under way. according to the Dominion Forest Service of the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa. Selection of youths is being made from applicants who are between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, residents of cities, towns or villages, and who are certified by a municipal or relief authority as being unemployed and in necessitous circumstances.

Thousands Enrolled Between 800 and 1,000 youths will be given training in camps under the control of the Dominion and another 3,000 will be enrolled in provincial projects. Dominion operations will be carried out in the following forest experiment stations: Acadia in New Brunswick; Valcartier in Quebec; Petawawa in Ontario, and Kananaskis in Alberta. Assist Rangers and Wardens The projects will include construction of roads, trails, telephone lines, lookout towers, fireguards, and other improvements required for forest protection and development. A number of the young men will be detailed as assistant to the rangers and park wardens, Other classes of work will include the treatment of timber stands to increase growth, improve timber quality and fayour species of high commercial value by thinnings, release cuttings, and similar operations. Attention will be paid to forest recreational developments by the provision of facilities for tourist campsites, fire-places and wells. Provision is also being made for the construction of dams and stream improvements to aid fishing conWhere The Ill-Fated British Submarine Sank

A NEW FLY DOPE The time is drawing near when black flies, mosquitoes and other insects will again plague the quiet and peace of the angler while he peacefully enjoys his early summer fishing. But it may be a consolation to some to know that, at last, a powerful and effective lotion has been invented which will forever protect the fisherman from his annual trials and tribulations.

The new lotion, which repels the mosquitoes, black flies and other insects and at the same time has a pleasant odour, is the latest discovery of a group of scientists that are working in collaboration with an industrial company. The work on the part of the research specialists was not any too pleasant according to reports. They spent a great many hours in mosquito-infested swamps, trying many varieties of existing insect repellents and many new formulas. They finally discovered that, in every case, it wasn't the smell which kept the mosquitoes and black flies from biting. They finally invented a new formula and when they used it on their arms and face, it kept the insects away, To this formula, a pleasant perfume was added. Further tests then proved the new lotion to be absolutely harmless for even the most tender skin. So it seems that this summer Canadians enjoying their favourite sport on rivers, lakes and streams can successfully fight off biting insects without having to use a lotion with a strong unpleasant odour and without fear of even harming the most sensitive skin. And THAT is good news!

HERE'S MORE DOPE One of our druggist friends, a contest dabbler in chemicals and anxious to help fellow anglers, has also claimed the following to be the "real stuff":

Oil of citronella - 1 ounce Camphorated oil - 1-3 oz. Oil of tar - 1-3 ounce Oil pennyroyal - one dra.

Castor oil - four ozs. This will make a package easy to carry, can be obtained at any drugstore, stays on longer and is easier to wash off. And 'they" don't like

Live Graciously Writer Advises

Especially In Times of Crisis-Don't Fall Below Standard of Mother's Hospitality, Bride Broder Asks

Bride Broder (Miss Mary White), Toronto woman journalist, speaking at Picton last month, asserted that it was in times of peace that it was essential that people live graciously. By gracious living, the popular columnist explained, she meant "living simply, unhurriedly, calm, hospitable and without ostentatious display." "That we have fallen far below the standard of hospitality of our mothers and grandmothers," was the opinion of Bride Broder. She attributed the so-called depravity among the younger generation to mothers who did not have the time to make a proper home for their children.

Deplores Hurried Atmosphere 'Waste is the opposite to gracious living, as opposite as the poles. There cannot be gracious living in a hurried atmosphere," she said and quoted Earl Baldwin of Bewdley who, while in Toronto, charged that "acceleration today is taken as the manifestation of civilization." Bride Broder frankly added that hurry was a manifestation of empty-headedness, and showed a disordered mind and nature. Gracious living included the elements of living one's daily life as if visitors were always present. When visitors did arrive there was no need of rush and confusion. Gracious living is simple living and not trying "to live up to the Jones-

Vitamins may decide the outcome of the next war, according to Dr. Harold J. Jeghers, assistant professor at Boston University school of medicine. And he believes that the democracies hold the advantage in this respect. Dr. Jeghers said that nightblindness, caused by Vitamin A. deficiency, prevented thousands of

German soldiers from fighting in the trenches at night during the World War. Among many other conditions possible from vitamin deficiencies are skin diseases, exopthalmia, infections, rickets, scurvy, pellagra, beri-beri, excessive bleeding, osteomalacia, nervous disorders and war edema.

IN DOLLARS AND CENTS

Safety campaigns are usually thought of in terms of the human lives and human suffering involved. That is natural enough, and right enough, for they are the first consideration. But there is another side to it, and one not usually so easily grasped. That is the tremendous economic loss involved. More than 100,000 people killed, and 375,000 crippled for life every year, and the annual economic loss is not less than three billion dollars, according to D. D. Fennell, president of the National Safety Council of the United States .- Regina Leader-Post.

Immigration To Dominion On Upswing

Nine Per Cent Higher Last Year, With Increase In

Canadian immigration is on the upswing after striking its lowest known, a report released by the Department of Immigration re-

An increase of nine per cent for the fiscal year ended last March was noted in the report. Last year 17,128 immigrants arrived in the Dominion compared with 15,643 for the year previous. British immigrants totalled 3,375. United States 5,663 and from other countries, 6,-726, it said.

The figures will be considerably higher for the coming year it was understood, due to an influx of German refugees from Czecho-Slovakia. The first of these arrived recently and it is expected when the migration is complete nearly 1,500 families will have been settled on farms in Canada.

A House Should Look Like Home

Architect Says That Is The Prime Requisite In House Building—Have It "Close to

William C. Ludlow, veteran architect and chairman of the committee on public information of the American Institute of Architects. explained what, in his opinion, constituted a good-looking house. He

"First of all, a home must look like a home, and I mean, of course. it must look like a home to the average man. If it is a rectangular box, with a flat roof and plain wall surfaces, it reminds the average man of a factory, a building where economy is the first consideration, a place where the occupants stay as short a time as possible, and gladly leave when the whistle blows.

Must Be A Good Neighbor "Second in importance perhaps to good value, a house must be appropriate in appearance to its environment; it must be a good neighbor to the other houses of its community, and look suitable to the climate. A modernistic or Mediterranean house is just as much out or Los Angeles. "A third requirement for the good-looking house is that it shall fit its site; a tall house 'n a knoll is just as bad as a squatty house in a hollow. For homelike feeling, most houses should be as 'close to the ground' as possible."
