Brain Fatigue Follows Undue Strain and Emotional

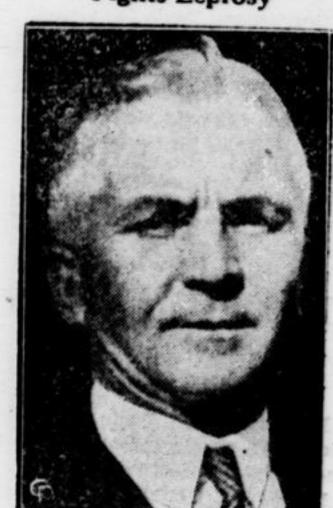

Most people who live emotionally at high pitch suffer from "nerves" at some time, writes a woman doctor. Like an electric battery, we become worn out, and must have a rest before we can be recharged with vitality again. Brain fatigue follows undue strain and emotional stimulation.

The nervous system of every living being is constantly receiving stimuli from the external world. Every sense organ is a receiving apparatus which, through the nerves, sends impressions to the brain, and the brain must tire after a time.

In worry, the mind is constantly fretted, and fretted uselessly. It turns upon itself; the same idea is teasing the psyche, moment after moment. Unhappiness is relieved when we are compelled to use our brains to give attention, to listen to the outside world. The great test of life is its quality of interest. When we are interested we are alive for that moment of eternity.

The worry habit may be due to glandular deficiency. Here again the best help is the family physician, and the cure is associated with achieving balance, harmony among the glands. It is useless to tell a girl who lives in chronic fear that she must not worry; she can perhaps no more help her apprehensive attitude than she can help having red hair or a thick neck or a some of the ridiculous.

Young and Intelligent Minds of the Country Should Have Chance to Be Developed, M. P. Believes

National scholarships provided by the Federal Government were argently needed in this country to develop one phase of the national resources which was being neglected-the intelligent brains of the country, Paul Martin, K. C., M. P., told delegates from the 20 graduating universities of Canada, at their national conference in Royal Victoria College, Montreal.

"I hope and think that the time will rapidly come," he said, "when this waste of human material will te arrested, and that a chance will be given to the many worthwhile young people who, suffering from penury, are at present unable to take advantage of any educational scheme.

One of National Resources

"We have appropriated to date for this year in Ottawa about $22,-000,000 for the development of the national resources such as mining and forests. No one will quarrel with that, but there is just as much justification for the development of this other phase of our national resources."

Export Demand For Holsteins

More than 400 persons attended the annual outing and picnic of the York County Holstein Club in Elm Park, Woodbridge, when Hon. George S. Henry declared the Canadian-type Holstein cow was increasing in popularity with an ever-increasing demand on the export market. Some breeders, he claimed, were attaching too much importance to a high cream test, when it was well known that this particular breed was already noted for its high production.

LESSON XIII PAUL REVIEWS HIS LIFE 2 Cor. 11:16-12:10; Phil. 1:12-24; 3.7-16; 2 Tim. 4:7, 8. Printed Text, Philippiane 1:12-14,

21-24; 3:12-14; 2 Timothy 4:7, 8 Golden Text .- I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. 2 Tim. 4:7. THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time.—The Second Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians was written about A.D. 57, not long after the writing of the First Epistle. The Epistle to the Philippians was written while Paul was a prisoner in Rome, perhaps A.D. 62. The Second Epistle to Timothy was written just before his martyrdom, perhaps A.D. 67.

Place.—The Second Epistle to the Corinthians was written from Ephesus; both the Epistle to the Philippians and the Second Epistle to Timothy were written from

Would you say that the apostle Paul in serving the Lord Jesus Christ had an easy life? Do you find in Paul's record of his many and severe sufferings any word of complaint, any moan or sob? Do you think that Paul was a joyous man? What leads you to believe emphatically that the thorn in Paul's flesh was not some fierce temptation of the flesh, which would be so abhorrent to God? What do you think of the sufferings which Paul endured did for him as regards his own loyalty to and faith in Jesus Christ?

12. Now I would have you know brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the progress of the gospel; 13. so that my bonds became manifest in Christ throughout the whole praetorian guard. and to all the rest; 14. and that most of the brethren in the Lord, being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of God without fear. The apostle's imprisonment was a powerful stimulant to the zeal of the Roman Christians; it indicates one particular direction of the apostle's influence upon the pagans around him.

The "praetorian guard" means the imperial guard. They were ten thousand in number, picked men, originally of Italian birth, but drawn later from Macedonia, Noricum, and Spain.

Life In Christ 21. For to me to live is Christ. Probably no phase of seven words anywhere in the Bible presents a more perfect, comprehensive, character-molding ideal than these words of Paul, and the man or woman who truly lives them is surely the fullest rounded of all Chris-

22. But if to live in the fleshif this shall bring fruit from my work, then what I shall choose I know not. 23. But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ; for it is very far better. 24. Yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. Phil. 3:12-14. 12. Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect: but I press on, if so be that I may lay hold on that for which also I was laid on by Christ Jesus. Paul had just set forth the absolute centrality of Christ in his own life, and how he gave up everything, counting all as nothing, that he might really win Christ, be found in Christ, know Christ, and all the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings. Still, Paul was not satisfied with what he had attained, even though the greater part of his life was over. Still, Paul was determined to press on for greater knowledge, deeper apprehension of Christ, a closer resemblance to his Master. 13. Brethren I count not myself yet to have laid hold: but one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before. 14. I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. The truth is, we ought always to be making progress; since not to be going forward is to be losing ground. These are the twin secrets of true advance in our highest life: "forgetting those things that are behind, reaching forward to those things that are before."

2 Tim. 4:7. 7. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith. Paul had suffered everything, had endured every conceivable insult, had kept churches from going to pieces, had labored with souls far

Queen Is Interested In Girl Scout's Medal

A suitable destroyer for weeds or grass in driveways is common salt, the cheaper and coarser the better. Not only will a liberal application of this about one or two handfuls to the square foot destroy grass, weeds, poison ivy, etc., but it will also bind gravel together into an even surface, keep down dust and repel frost. In some parts of Canada salt is used on all gravel roads and gives a surface equal to light pavement. PESTS

Garden insect enemies are divided into two groups-those that eat holes in the foliage and those that suck out the juices. For the first-named, poison is usually applied, while the suckers are attacked with a burning spray which penetrates. Often when both are present, a combination of poison and something that burns, such as lims sulphur and arsenate, gives lime, sulphur and arsenate, gives the biting insects is usually quite apparent, but the presence of the other kind is only shown at first by a wilting or withering of the foli-trunks, comparatively few wear the entire pyjama suit, and many eliminate it altogether, says a story in the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Laundries notice the difference, and Canadian manufacturers of men's apparel have also taken notice of this summer custom. They have produced for this summer a sleeping jacket which is styled after a pyjama coat, but which comes down to the knee like a short nightshirt. "It's more respectable than just a pyjama top," remarked the manager of a Yonge street haberdashery.

With Buttons and Sash The new style of sleeping jacket does not herald a popular return to the pre-war style of nightshirt, although that still is adhered to by some men, haberdashers claim, They say men don't like pulling it over their heads. But the sleeping jacket has buttons like the shorter coat, and some even have a sash to make it look like a short dressing gown.

RADIO NOTES W

By MADGE ARCHER

Rumors of a basic change in the set-up of the Magic Key of RCA program, mooted in this column last week, have been definitely confirmed. Beginning Monday, June 26, from 8.30 to 9.30 p.m., E.S.T., over the Blue network the new schedule will start.

The series will be of a much lighter nature than has been the plan to date. Serious music will be discarded altogether and popular dance bands will be featured. The rest of the program will include novelty acts and dramatic sketches. No direct details have so far been announced but the sponsors are emphatic that they will avoid the set formula so beloved by those who produce the variety broadcasts at present.

NBC announces its racing broadcasts for the coming month. The Kent Handicap will be described on Saturday, June 24, at 5.15 p.m., the Stars and Stripes Handicap on Tuesday, July 4th, at 6.15 p.m., the Hollywood Derby on Saturday, July 8, and the Massachusetts Handicap on July 12. All will be broadcast over the NBC Blue network.

Four new programs will begin on Mutual on Saturday, June 24. They are "Hawaii Calls" at 8,30 p.m., "Fiesta Time" at 9 p.m., George Fisher's Hollywood Whispers at 9.30 p.m., and Sons of Pioneers, a male singing group, at 9.45 p.m. AROUND THE DIAL after dark, the Journal of the American Medical Association recommends special training of motorists at night. It points out that night driving involves a different technique because of the difference in visibility and in the reactions of motorists.

PLINY seems to have been responsible for a belief that exists, even up to today, that rusty iron, rotten cloth, or other "noxious objects" in the soil will produce poisonous mushrooms. Equally erroneous is the belief that a bright coin, dropped in a stew of mushrooms, will turn black if the plants are poisonous, but will remain bright if the species be edible
