Other Royalty Visited Canada

King George and Queen Elizabeth First as Sovereigns

King George and Queen Elizabeth are not the first royalty to come to Canada. But they are the first to visit in the capacity of sovereigns. in 1779, Prince William Henry, later King William IV, in command of H.M.S. Pegasus, was attached to the Halifax and West Indian suadthe Halifax and West Indian squadron of the Royal Navy.

Prince Edward, the son of King George III, and later the father of Queen Victoria, visited Canada in 1791, making a second visit as a member of a British regiment, and a third and last one in 1799.

In 1860, Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, when but 18 years of age, came to this country. He was later known as King Edward VII. In 1901, the Duke of Cornwall and York, with his Duchess, visited the Dominion. It was he who later became King George V.

In 1519, Canada went into a great spasm of enthusiasm when another Prince of Wales made a tour of the country. He was back again in 1927. This Prince of Wales became King Edward VIII.

King George VI, of course, had been in Canada before. In 1913. while a youthful naval cadet, he touched briefly on the shores of this Dominion, Little did he think then that he would some day return to it as the beloved King of

Clean, Fumigate To Banish Moths

Legin Your Attack On Them With A Thorough Cleaning Bee

Begin your attack with a thorough cleaning because moths and carpet beetles dislike notoriety, says McCall's magazine. They seek dark, quiet places to lay their eggs. Brush well all articles in rooms and closets. Thoroughly vacuum clean rugs, upholstered furniture and draperies. Frequent and thorough use of the vacuum cleaner prevents infestation of upholstered furniture and rugs as it removes arvae and eggs.

Spray In Cracks Larvae thrive on the collected wool lint and hair in floor cracks, and behind base boards. Spray these places thoroughly with commercial oil fumigants, which are stainless. Repeated application may be necessary, as the spray must make a direct hit to kill. Power sprays of vacuum cleaners are especially useful for this job and for saturating wool clothes with moth-proofing solution. Fumigate closets, chests and rooms with paradichlorobenzene or napthalene flakes, sold under brand names.

HEADLINES AGAIN: After six weks of keeping people in darkest ignorance, the newspapers are flashing on us the sudden light of European events, For a month and a half we were scarcely let know that such a person as Adolf Hitler existed, so chucked were the pages of Canadian dailies and weeklies with news stories of the royal tour, multitudinous pictures of Their Majesties. Made us uneasy not to hear the latest he was up to. But now the big streamer headlines are back on the front pages, and it's all blood, thunder and crisis once more. 'Sgreat to be in the know again. GAS TAX STRIKE: Although the May returns haven't been figured up yet, it is expected that gasoline tax revenues in Ontario will show a falling-off from 1938 for the second month since the eight-cent tax went into effect. In April they dropped $45,000. Provincial officials, believe, however, that it was only a temporary decrease, and the Government has no intention of rescinding the increase, it is learned.

IMPREGNABLE ROCK: When one thinks of the solid, unchanging things of this world, the Rock of Gibraltar is among those that come first to mind (with or without the life insurance sign on it). But as Fascist boldness in Europe increases, the Rock becomes daily less solld, secure. German guns have been trained on it from across the Straits for several years now. It's even come to the point that one of Italy's most influential newspapers is demanding transfer of the Rock from Britain to Spain, Says Il Telegrafo: "In Spain the question of Gibraltar is essential for the life and independence of the nation."

WHAT, NO TITLES?: In the King's Birthday Honors List this year the name of no Canadian is included (except Sir Harry Oakes', of course, but he has long since fled to the Bahamas). None included because no one was recommended. There was no recommendation because the present Premier, who for the time being does the recommending, is not in favor of titles. Neither is anyone else so far as we can discover, except perhaps the people who can see themselves getting one.

THE WEEK'S QUESTION: Why is the Polish Corridor (which Germany wants surrendered to her) essential to the national life of Poland? Answer: The Corridor is none other than the province of Pomorze which belonged to the ancient kingdom of Poland. The people of the Corridor have always been predominantly Polish. Some of Poland's most important industrial areas are located there. The Corridor is the lifeline passageway through which the nation's economic products are transported to the ocean and the outside world.

Rural Health: Its Conservation

County Health Units Make Valuable Contribution-One of Canada's Most Important Problems

Attention is drawn to the value of the county health units by announcement of the awards in the Canadian Rural Health Conservation Contest for 1938. Financed by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, the contest is conducted in Canada by the Canadian Public Health Association in co-operation with the American Public Health Association. For the second time the major award in Canada has been won by the St. Jean-Iberville-Laprairie-Napierville County Health Unit, the headquarters of which are at St. Jean. Que., and the medical officer, Dr. J. A. Lapierre, D.P.H.

Judging in the contest is made by a carefully selected group of health experts, the communities being appraised on the measures it takes: (1) to provide and safeguard its water supply; (2) to furnish adequate and safe sewerage disposal; (3) to reduce infant and maternal deaths; (4) to combat tuberculosis and syphilis; (5) to protect its citizens against other communicable diseases; (6) to insure healthy children; (7) to protect and safeguard its milk and other foods; (8) to promote effective co-operation with its physicians and dentists in furnishing necessary services to all those who need them; (9) to enlarge and improve its lay-understanding of ways and means of preventing sickness and

Rural health conservation is one of the most important problems in Canada and it is to be hoped that the example set by the various county health units in the Province of Quebec will stimulate action in many other parts of Canada.

BASS POSTER

Angler Ernest Grand of Toronto is credited with the idea for the bass poster picturing the legal minimum size, which the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries is posting throughout the bass resorts of Ontario this year. Twenty-five thousand were printed at a cost of $600 at the recommendation of that active organization, the Ontario Federation of Anglers, we are reliably informed.

WE'RE ALL FOR IT And speaking of the Ontario Federation of Anglers recalls to mind their current progress report covering the 1938-39 season of their popular and widespread conservation activities. We quote from this report what we think will be interesting information for every conservation-minded citizen of Ontario: "If politicians, newspaper critics, non-member clubs, conversationalists rather than conservationalists, or other individuals or groups of men, feel that they can do more with a $1,000 grant of public money, in a constructive, consistent way, on behalf of conservation and restoration of wild life in Ontario, the Federation would like to hear from them, and the letter will be published in our next bulletin.

"It is our opinion that over a period of years our affiliated clubs, through the Federation, have given the Department of Game and Fisheries more constructive help with their many problems than any other voluntary agency. We have had the satisfaction of seeing many of our recommendations accepted and carried out.

"Why should the government not subscribe to our work under these circumstances, even more fully than at present? Next year. we propose asking the government for $3,000, justified on the basis of what we have started and will accomplish in this present year

"Our experience with the present Department of Game and Fisheries has been that they do willingly accept honest, constructive criticism."

Ontario Fruit's Fine Prospects

There's Going To Be A Bumper Crop In Some Districts This Year-Outlook Bright in Others

Bright prospects for the fruit crop in Ontario are forecast in the first fruit and vegetable crop report of the season issued by the Ontario Department of Agricul-

Weather conditions have been favorable for growth of fruit in Western Ontario and frost damage has been negligible. Nearly all varieties of fruit trees, plants and vines wintered well and showed good to heavy blossom, with the exception of Spy apples in some They've Weathered Well Spies showed average to good in Norfolk County and the Georgian Bay district, but light elsewhere. Trees generally wintered well and rodent injury to young trees was the only damage reported.

Cherries, peaches, pears and plums all showed a heavy yield to come.

Grape vines are in a healthier and hardier condition than for some seasons past. Strawberry plantations are in excellent condition. Raspberry acreage was reduced slightly this year.

OVERPOPULATED With huge throngs meeting them at every place they stopped at, the King and Queen may have gathered the idea Canada is overpopulated.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

WE COULD LEAD THE WAY Just as Canada encouraged by her acts the collapse of the League of Nations, so today Canada by vigorous action which would again receive the "approval of all sections" of this country could help to lead the way to the only way of peaceful life that offers itself .-Winnipeg Free Press.

GONE WITH THE WIND

In St. Thomas a memorial fountain erected years ago for the watering of horses is to be moved to a park and filled with flowers because there are few, if any horses left to use it and because it interferes with motor traffic. Like the hitching-post, the watering-trough is today an urban anachronism and it may soon join the cigar-store Indians in the museums .- Brockville Recorder and

CANADA'S SHAME

If there is any one thing which the Federal and Provincial Governments have failed in during recent years, it has been in the handling of the single unemployed men. The United States has its CCC camps, and South Africa has formed semi-military regiments where youths are given a training. However, every effort in Canada seems to have failed to touch the problems as a whole. - London Free Press.

Neighbors Lend Farmers Grain

Newcomers to Burgessville District, Unused to Canadian Methods, Are Helped By Older Residents

International friendship was evidenced when 15 neighbors of John Bezsejovsky and Andrew Stentimrey, Holbrook, near Burgessville, Ont., helped the two "new Canadians" with spring seeding.

The two men are of Hungarian birth, but resided in Slovakia until the fear of what might happen in the future caused them to move to Canada in September, 1938, with their wives and Stentimrey's fam-

Unfamiliar with Canadian ways of farming they, were far behind with seeding this spring, and had reached the end of their rope in more ways than one.

Paid Back After Harvest One neighbor loaned them sufficient seed grain, to be paid back after harvest, and one day seven tractors and eight teams of horses were pulling plows, harrows, etc., and finally seed drills over 23 acres of land.

Expedition To Indian Village

The first archeological expedition ever sent out by the University of Westen Ontario has pitched camo at an old Indian village site, Clearville, near Morpeth, to spend six weeks investigating the historical evidence found there. Under the leadership of Wilfrid Jury, who with his father, A. II. Jury, is honorary curator of the Indian Museum at the University, the party is conducting an archeological survey of the ancient camp

The Clearville site is on the farm of John Cochrane, of Deart, and Mr. Cochrane gave permission to the archeologists to conduct their survey. They are camping on the spot during the excavation, which must be done very carefully, in order that no bit of evidence, no matter how small, may be damaged.
