India's Yield Of Wheat Greater Than Canada's

India Agriculturists Visit Canada to Study Irrigation

Two agricultural experts from India have arrived in Canada and will travel from Quebec to the Prairies chiefly for the purpose of studying hydro-electric power in relation to agricultural uses, and the systems of irrigating arid areas. They will also inspect the big dam projects in the United States. More Land Under Cultivation

Western farmers need have no apprehension about India becoming a competitor. It may surprise Canadians, however, to be informed that in a good year India grows more wheat than the Dominion. We have come to regard ourselves as the world's granary, yet last year India produced 402,000,000 bushels of wheat, or about 55,000,000 more than Canada. The year before, the Indian yield exceeded Canada's by 123,000,000 bushels. India has about 13,000,000 more acres under cultivation than this country.

India Needs Her Grain For Own Peoples

Canada, with a population of 11,-500,000 must have export markets. whereas India, with a population of 350,000,000 needs all her grain for her own people. Occasionally, India has entered the export market when prices were high and good profits could be made, but present and future prospects are that there will be no encouragement in that direction.

The reason why hydro-electric and irrigation systems are being examined is because India is subject to droughts and there is sometimes severe suffering among the natives. All that India wants is to be self-sufficient and to feed her own people.

Police Get Queer Request!

Mrs. Frank Thissen, Ellendale farm mother, wrote Police Chief Frank Forestal:-

"I have six small children. It's almost impossible to call them on a big farm. The official basketball whistle hasn't enough carrying power. Could I get a discarded, but far-reaching, police whistle?"

The chief sent her three whistles and said, "take your pick."

New Rules On Wheat Marketing

Provide Penalties For Breach Of Regulations

Regulations governing the marketing of wheat through the Canadian Wheat Board for the crop year 1939, especially the 5,000-bushel limitation of deliveries, have been issued from the head offices of the board.

Under the Wheat Board Act each farmer or a group of farmers operating as a unit, may deliver 5,000 bushels of wheat to the board. The initial price will be 70 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, Fort Wil-

Sons, Operating Land for Parents May Participate

Under the regulations, employees and dependents of farmers are not grower-producers and are barred from delivering wheat to the board, but sons of farmers, operating land for their parents, may participato under a lease-agreement system.

The farmers will e required to obtain permits for marketing their grain and penalties are provided for breach of the regulations, a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month,

In addition to buying from the grower, the board may buy from landlords, vendors, mortgagees or others "entitled by contract or operation of law to wheat grown by someone else."

CHEAPER PLASTIC

A plastic compound made from the lignin and cellulose of sugar cane bagasse, one of the country's important agricultural waste products, has been manufactured by chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture at the Agricultural By-Products Laboratory, Ames, Iowa. The chemists estimate that this new compound can be manufactured for less than half the cost of the cheapest synthetic plastic compounds now on the market.

VITAMINS AND OLD AGE Evidence that senility and other symptoms of old age are accompanied by typical signs of vitamin deficiency was presented recently by Professor L. A. Cherkes, director of the Odessa Institute of Nutrition, U.S.S.R. Experiments on animals and numerous observations on patients showed, he reported, that the processes taking place on teeth and bones in old age do not differ in anything from those resulting from a deficiency of vitamins in the organism. The observations have led Professor Cherkes to conclude that the digestive tract not only absorbs vitamins from food but also transforms a number of inactive food components into active vitamins.

NEW METALLIC COMPOUND

Discovery of a new metallic compound capable of cutting and smoothing the toughest metals and harder than the hardest steel used to manufacture tools was reported to the American Chemical Society by Philip M. McKenna of the Mc-Kenna Metals Company, Latrobe, Pa. The material is obtained by heating tungsten, titanium and carbon in crucibles of pure graphite, the mixture being heated in a bath of molten nickel to a temperature of 2,000 degrees for a prolonged period. The new compound is only 0.2 softer than a diamond, the hardest substance known; and is expected, because of its ability to retain a sharp cutting edge at high temperatures, to increase the speed with which stainless steels can be machined. thus resulting in considerable economics in manufacture.

To the farmer and prospective settler, the Animal Husbandry Division of the Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, offers the results of many years experience, accruing from the maintenance of approximately 8,000 head of livestock on the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations in different parts of every province of Canada.

The Wrong Note

A new governor was paying his first visit to a Gold Coast town. Two banners greeted him. The first read: "Welcome to our new Governor." The second was: "God help our Administration." On another occasion, when the King and Queen, then Duke and Duchess of York, visited Mauritius, they expressed regret that they couldn't stay more than three days in the island. A local prior printed "stay" as "stand".

If it is a ten-cent piece a bell rings, a five-cent piece sounds a whistle, and a cent fires back a blank cartridge. Prevention Rather Than Cure

Some accidents in the home can be prevented easily-thus saving the harassment of a domestic accident and the pain of the cure. One such accident which is fairly frequent among women painful hammering of a thumb when trying to hammer in a nail Here is a scheme to prevent such a crushing possibility! Next time you are ready to do odd jobs about the house which involve hammering in of nails try sticking the nail through a piece of stout cardboard and holding it with this-"mis-hits" are then harmless, and your thumb remains whole!

The Right Idea

An Austrian baron of royal blood, just arrived in Canada and planning to be a farmer, announces that though he fought on the German side in the last war, " will fight for the English people this war, if it comes. It will fight for Great Britain because I know I will be fighting on the side which stands for the rights of people; I shall be on the right side.

Canada can do with a lot of newcomers who feel like this.
