Durham Fair Was Best for Years

With a fair brand of weather for the first time in several years, Durham Fair last Friday drew over 2000 citizens from town and country, who pronounced it "a good fair" with exception, to our knowledge. The co-operation of the Business Men's Association of Durham in staging the Amateur program was a potent factor in drawing and entertaining the crowds who came. This program was carried on with little interruption, all afternoon with variety enough to suit all.

The day broke warm and dull and while rain threatened at several times during the afternoon, the overcast skies retained their moisture, and the gentle breeze prevailing made the temperature most comfortable. About 5.35 a slight sprinkle occurred, (maybe to maintain Durham's record of rain each Fair!) but so slight, that many never noticed it.

At 1.30 the children of Durham and Hutton Hill schools led by the Band paraded to the grounds, to be admitted free. Exhibits both in the hall and in stock classes, were of excellent quality, and upheld the high standard of Durham Fairs. Grain was a smaller showing, due to the early date, but roots, vegetables and fruit were well up to average. C. Weppler and J. Blasing carried off most prizes in roots, and many in vegetables, while R. Winch also cooped a bunch. Butter was good, but scarce—only 8 entries.

A new feature was work of different grades in Durham and No. 3 Glenelg, schools. In rope splicing and plasticine modelling, No. 9 pupils carried off the prizes, and Durham students in Model School Grounds and Community Park, Collection Weeds, and Still Life. Both schools shared in knot tying.

In apples, plums and pears, R. Louchhead of Collingwood top almost swept the boards, Geo. Bell Arthur Edge and Bert Barber captured some of the apple prizes.

There was a beautiful floral display, the exhibitors being Mrs Edith McDonald, Mrs W. Clark, Mrs W. J. Allan, Jas Milligan, Mrs J. Nichol, Arthur Edge, Mrs J. Newell, T. Whitmore, Mrs Honeyman, J. Hamilton, Mrs N. Whitmore, Gordon McLean.

Baking exhibits were tempting as ever, with keen competition, while ladies' work saw the steady annual exhibitors in this class—Mrs Davis, Mrs Nichol, Mrs Champ and Mrs Ruttie, win most of the awards.

The outstanding hall attraction was the Women's Institute or Club exhibit, where eight societies had most attractive displays. This year Zion Institute took first with 79 points; South Glenelg 2nd with 76; Durham 3rd, 73½; Allan Park 4th, 71½; Sunnyview 5th, 65; Edge Hill Jr Inst. 6th, 60½; Aberdeen 7th, 58½; and Rocky 8th, 51½.

The junior farmers of Glenelg had exhibits from their potato club. There were ten entries and the prize winners were Arthur Newell, William Anderson, Daniel Edge, Ellison Edge, David Aljoe, Allister Aljoe.

Foresters Observe Diamond Jubilee

Brethren from many of the surrounding towns—about 80 including the local brethren, assembled with Durham Lodge, Canadian Order of Foresters on Sunday afternoon, to commemorate their Diamond Jubilee by a special service in Durham Presbyterian Church.

Preceded by the band, the brethren marched to the Church from the lodgeroom at 2.30, and occupied the centre pews. A male choir rendered two anthems, the church being well-filled. Rev. S. W. Hirtle, the pastor delivered an appropriate and thoughtful sermon on benevolence, taking as his text James 1:27: "Purification... is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and keep himself unspotted from the world". True benevolence will be a real sympathy and action; the text gives the whole duty of man—it is the second great commandment of the law. "Your order is nation-wide" said the speaker; "You have in your organization men of every religious creed on earth; all must bow before the throne of God and acknowledge the two commandments of the law."

"The decalogue is not a law; it is God's will. He seeks to develop and train men and created us with a free will. The universe exists for the individual and vice versa. The work of Christ Himself was to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction. We should bear the burdens for those who can no longer do so themselves. True benevolence is a life-sized job for many men. Let us seek to understand the age in which we live; to understand the restlessness of souls of men among whom we move. Then we must maintain communication with God—a two way system—keep our lives clear, and keep God's presence with us when facing the problems of life. If we love God, we will love our neighbor as ourself."

POST OFFICE BEING BRIGHTENED UP
Both exterior and interior of Durham post office are being repainted throughout, the contract being let by the Government to Mr Grant McComb. Any small repairs to walls baseboard, etc. are also being attended to. As well as keeping the building in good shape, the purpose of the work is to provide more employment, the Government stipulating the rate of wages to be paid helpers.

RECEIVES THANKS FROM QUEEN ELIZABETH
Miss Betty Henderson is the proud recipient of a personal "Thank you" card from Buckingham Palace London, England. The birthdays of the Queen's daughter, Princess Margaret Rose and Miss Betty, fall on the same date, 21st August, and a birthday greeting crossed the Atlantic to the royal Princess as coming from Betty. To the latter's delight she received last week the following greeting in return:
"The Lady-in-waiting to Queen Elizabeth is commanded to thank Miss Elizabeth Henderson for the birthday greeting to Princess Margaret Rose, and to say it gave her much pleasure."

New Teacher for High School
With an increased number of pupils this term, Durham High School Board have been forced to advertise for a new teacher, making five on the staff, who will commence duties next week. A lady assistant is sought, quite a few applications are in, and the Board will make a choice Thursday night.

A bus now runs from Dornoch to Durham, driven by John Ray, conveying 16 pupils to the High School each school day. A double trip each way is made from Rocky Saugeen to town.

Anniversary Services at Glenelg Centre

Glenelg Centre Baptist Church Anniversary Services were held on Sunday, Sept. 10th Rev. J. W. Edwards of Leith as guest speaker. The subject for the morning service was "Building" using as text, "But take heed how he buildeth thereupon." "It is wise to have a good foundation no matter what we build; a church, a barn or even a chicken-house. Blessed are those who have a good body or foundation for life and blessed of a good education for life. Most happy are those who have heard and accepted the foundation provided by God for the soul—His Son, Jesus Christ."

For the evening service the speaker chose his text from Exodus 3:2, "The bush burned with fire and the bush was not consumed." Three lessons taught were to (1) the individual; (2) the Family; (3) the Nation, showing how each might be almost burned up by temptations from the Devil, but by their faith in God may not be consumed.

Mr Roy Langford, Markdale ably assisted at both services with vocal and trombone solos, which were vocally enjoyed and appreciated by all. Mrs Priest presided at the organ. The attendance was small at both services because of the inclemency of the weather.

KEARNS — McDONALD
At the manse of Division St. United Church, O. Sound, Saturday morning, at 11 o'clock the marriage was solemnized of Doris Mildred, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs C. E. McDonald and Floyd Clifford, only son of Mrs Margaret Kearns of Durham.

The minister, Rev. E. W. Jewitt, officiated.

The bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white triple sheer over satin and a finger tip veil falling from a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a quilted bolero style jacket with her wedding gown. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, forget-me-nots and maiden-hair fern. Miss Mae McDonald attended her sister as bridesmaid and her becoming gown was of rose taffeta with long graceful skirt, matching jacket and baby blue velvet trimmings and blue sandals. She wore roses in her hair, blue mittens and carried an old-fashioned nose ring of pink gladioli, roses and forget-me-nots. Donald Campbell of Durham was the groomsmen.

A reception and buffet luncheon was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in turquoise blue silk crepe trimmed with wine, and a navy blue hat trimmed with wine flowers. The groom's mother, Mrs Kearns was in orchid sheer, black hat and black and white accessories.

The luncheon table was centred with a four storey wedding cake and decorated with pink phlox, white hydrangea and tall white candles in silver holders. Gladioli, aster zinnias, alysium and snapdragons were used in beautiful bouquets throughout the home. During the luncheon hour telegrams of congratulations were received from Toronto.

Mr and Mrs Kearns left on a honeymoon trip to Barrie, Muskoka and Huntsville, the latter travelling in a queen's orchid sheer dress, yellow coat, orchid hat, shoes and fur and yellow gloves. Mr and Mrs Kearns will make their home in Durham.

Out of town guests were: Mrs M. Kearns, mother of the bridegroom, Miss O. Hahn, Harry King and D. Campbell, all of Durham.

Mr I. B. Lucas, Jr., of Markdale is experimenting with various kinds of fruit trees, has just recently picked 51 peaches from a dwarf tree which he planted a few years ago.

Mrs John Burgess received word last week of the death of her cousin, Mrs Walter Leppington, near Harrison. Mrs Leppington was a daughter of the late Andrew Brown of Mount Forest.
