Young Bentinck Lad Sentenced

Before Magistrate Spereaman in court here Friday last, there were no less than twelve cases on the docket, but two being juvenile and two others held over, the busy session was concluded in a couple of hours.

Norman Monto of Elmwood pleaded guilty to not having brakes on his car in working condition, and paid a fine of $10 and costs, amounting to $14.50.

An action against Jas Morrison for reckless driving, laid by Prov. Officer France of Walkerton, was adjourned for two weeks.

Wilfred Woods of Owen Sound was charged with the theft of a caulking gun and caulking compound, from Cross & Sutherland's store here.

A similar charge against a partner of his, John Lethbridge of Preston, was dismissed.

An action against Harold Pressick of Dundalk, for driving without a permit, was also adjourned to next Court.

Stanley Morris and Elvin Morrison of Mount Forest were charged by Prov. Constable Flynn, with hunting in Letter Breen vicinity without a gun license.

Orrin Pollock of Bentinck a 17 year old lad, found three charges facing him. One was for shooting at Lorne Lewis, a neighbor boy, with a shotgun, striking him on the leg, another was for assault on the lad's mother, Mrs. Elton Lewis, striking her on head with his fist; and the third charge, stealing gasoline from a truck at Smith's garage.

Mrs Lewis charged that Pollock struck her on head when she went with Lorne to demand that Pollock give up her son's reflectors, and used foul language, which the deft. denied.

Pollock pleaded guilty to the gasoline theft charge, and drew a sentence for this of 30 days in jail all sentences to run concurrently.

Specialized Service

No man can be perfect at two jobs. For this reason you are wise to place your eyes in the care of the modern optometrist who specializes only in examining eyes and correcting their defects. Those who sell glasses as a "side line" cannot possibly give efficient service.

STOLEN CAR RESTORED TO TORONTO OWNER

Notified that an unoccupied motor car had been left parked at side of highway at Rocky Saugeen, Constable Scott had it towed into Durham last Friday, and notified Toronto to police.

On description, it was recognized as a car reported stolen in the city last Monday, and its owner, William Lavdson of Toronto came to town and secured his car. The thief had abandoned it at the Rocky on running out of gas, but it was not damaged in any way. There is no trace of the culprit.

SEEK NEW MARKETS FOR GREY APPLES

Meaford and Beaver Valley fruit growers are trying to find a market for their fruit this fall; at a special meeting held in Clarksburg it was decided to ask the government for protection against a lower-grade apple said to be coming in from Nova Scotia to the Ontario markets.

The meeting discussed the possibility of having nothing but No 1 grade domestic apples sold. It is expected the crop next month will yield about 70,000 barrels.

The plight of the apple grower this year is not a happy one, with practically shut off on account of hostilities and every available boat space taken up with war materials, and if the apple crop cannot be sold in Ontario, there is little hope it can be disposed anywhere else.

The fact that all Canadian apple growers have lost their best market it would look like business for them to get together, see that their culls and inferior grades are not allowed on the market, and dispose of their No. 1 grade only.

A Mammoth Squash.

Gracing the front of his tractor show window in upper town, Mr Howard Middleton shows a mammoth squash, which was grown on his farm near Tara. The squash tips the scales at about 60 pounds.

Held Weiner Roast.

Building New Home.

Much interest is being displayed in the new home of George and Mrs. Hay, now being erected on Countess Street South. George drew his own plans and every square inch is utilized for a purpose. The outside walls are of log cabin siding; while the inside wall which is insulated, will have no plaster, but gyproc for the finish. It will be occupied this fall.

Tara Creamery Again Robbed.

For the second time within six weeks the Bruce Produce Company of R. M. Player and Son at Tara was robbed when in the early hours of Saturday morning thieves broke into the building, blew the safe to pieces, wrecked the office and escaped with a considerable sum of money. The loss includes an unknown amount in pay envelopes for customers of the creamery and also between $60 and $70, which was locked in the safe.

Two Killed in Air Crash Near Clifford

A barnstorming pilot and a friend died in the wreckage of a light plane Saturday when the machine crashed from a height of 1,500 feet at Clifford.

Roy Fry of Ayr, 27-year-old pilot, and Elton Seip, 26, of Harrison, were almost instantly killed when the nose of the machine buried itself into the ground after a swift plunge earthwards.

Not knowing his son lay dead beneath the wreckage, Adam Seip, well-known farmer of Clifford, ran from the doorstep of his home, from where he had watched the plane spin to the earth, and was the first to reach the scene.

Aided by others who quickly arrived, Seip lifted some of the wreckage and dragged a lifeless body into the open. "My God, it's my boy," he gasped, as he recognized his son. He had to be assisted from the scene.

Elton Seip, employee of an oil company, was returning to his home in Harrison Saturday afternoon and decided to stop at Clifford. It was Fair day and Seip heard that his friend, Fry, was taking up passengers from a field a short distance from the Fair grounds.

Shortly after 6 p.m., Fry and Seip took off. The plane climbed to a considerable height and the pilot put the machine through simple stunts.

What caused the plane to go into a dive from which Fry could not pull it out, may never be known. The steady hum of the motor changed to a stutter and the machine was seen to twist and whirl in a dizzy descent. It is believed Fry switched off the ignition when he realized that a crash was inevitable.

The plane nose-dived into a field on William Penman's farm, within the town limits.
