INDIAN CENSUS IN CANADA

Canada is taking a census of her Indian population this year. Word from the Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, indicated that throughout the Dominion, Indian agents are gathering vital statistics in their various agencies, while in the outlying districts the information is being collected by R. C. M. P., clergy, traders and others. The Indian census is taken and published quinquennially, the last one taken in 1934 accounted for an Indian population of 112,510 in Canada. As the Indian population is supposed to be increasing annually at the rate of one per cent, it is estimated that this year's census will show their numbers to be in excess of 118,000.

Last census of the Indian population in Saskatchewan was taken in 1936 and revealed that there were 12,836 Indians residing in reserves in the province.

NEW LEGAL WEIGHTS FOR POTATO BAG

Since July 1, 1939, when important alterations were made in the standard size of bags in which potatoes are packed for sale, the adoption of the new legal weights has been proceeding smoothly. These new weights are now the only legal standards for potatoes packed in cotton, jute, or mesh bags for sale. They are 100 lb., 50 lb., 25 lb., and 15 lb. The regulations under the Fruit, Vegetables and Hcney Act which legalized the new weights on July 1, abolished the 80 lb. and the 90 lb. bags which were extensively used in the Dominion, particularly in Eastern Canada.

The abolition of the 80 lb. and the 90 lb. bags together with the new computation of weights, has brought about many advantages both to the buyer and to the seller. The new bag-weights are computed in quarters of the hundredweight, and it is easy to recognize on sight the differences in weight when the bags are on display. For example, the difference between the 100 lb. and the 75 lb. bag, and between the 75 lb. and the 50 lb. will be readily apparent. The 50 lb. bag should not be mistaken for a bushel, as the legal weight for a bushel of potatoes is 56 lb. Under the old system it was not so easy to distinguish between the 80 lb. and 90 lb. bags. When these bags were offered for sale simultaneously, the buyer was likely to be confused. In the interest of fair dealing and uniformity of business, the abolition of the 80 and 90 lb. bags is beneficial all round. It will also tend to decrease the number of different sizes of bags the shipper will have to stock, and it will encourage the use of new bags in place of second-hand ones.

Especially in Western Canada, the 100 lb. bag has been in extensive use throughout Canada, and because it is also the principal bag container for potatoes in the United States, it is regarded as the import and export trade bag.

All bags in which potatoes are sold must carry a tag on which the name and address of the grower or packer is clearly marked, together with the correct grade and weight of the contents.

In the Old Testament, the Jews were taught to tithe, and one-tenth of their income was given to God. Many still practise tithing. ### A FACT A WEEK ABOUT CANADA

WHY WE TRADE

From the beginning of time men have travelled and traded. They have given gifts and received presents in return. They gave what they had to give and they received in payments things they had not. Women, too, have travelled and traded. One of the most spectacular journeys in all history was the romantic visit paid by the Queen of Sheba to the Court of Solomon, her train laden with gifts from the jungles of Africa. Laden they returned.

The Phoenicians travelled to ancient Britain to trade the silks of China, the cottons of India and the frankincense and myrrh and spices of Araby for the tin of Cornwall and the skins of the beasts of the forests.

Just as the Greeks and the Romans travelled abroad for the things that had become necessities to them, and which they did not possess themselves, so the more modern traders in their best equipped craft have sailed to the far corners of the earth carrying with them beads of glass and other alluring ornaments to give to unsophisticated people, and to bring back to their own countrymen, the pearls and the ivory that they craved.

There is no reason in condemning the exchange that was made. If an African chief wanted a top-hat, a gold-laced coat, and a trinket or two, he got value in the pleasure of possession. These things meant little or nothing to the salesman but what did mean a great deal to him and his people was the tusk of an African elephant, for which the native had no need at all. The African exchanged it gladly for eye-glittering ornaments that glittered for him just the same as do the things displayed in a five-cent store to tempt our own children, as well as lots of grown-ups.

Trading at its best is giving to others what they require and getting from them what we need.
