

Home Education The Corner-stone

Of Our Educational System

Mrs. W. N. Ross, school science convenor of the St. Thomas, Ont., Home and School Council in a recent address on "New Course of Study," said that "it was through pressure of public opinion that the new course was adopted. Home is the corner stone of our educational system," said the speaker, "where first and foremost the child must be taught to live with, not only himself but his fellows. He must work out his own aims and standards," she said. Though health is stressed in the new curriculum, it should be remembered that it is not what a child knows about his health, it is what he does about it that is important. Mental health is allied to happiness, and activity with a reasonable amount of success is necessary to a child," Mrs. Ross thought.

Work Out Own Standards

As for parents, Mrs. Ross advised he should budget his energy and completely drop the habit of allowing the child to affect his nerves. A God-given gift, and one that may mean so much to a child is a saving sense of humor in a parent.

Trade Balance Highest Ever

Under U. S. Pact — Canada $9,514,959 Ahead For Seven Months

Canada had a favorable balance of trade of $9,514,959 with the United States at the conclusion of the first seven months' operation of the Canada-United States trade agreement, as compared with an unfavorable balance of $98,779,540 in the same period of 1938, Trade Minister Euler said in a statement at Ottawa.

The favorable balance was the highest for the seven-month period for any year since 1919, when monthly balances were first kept, Mr. Euler said. Domestic exports to the United States amounted to $245,260,403, compared with $143,462,142 in 1938, and with the exception of 1937, were the highest for any corresponding period since 1930. Advances were shown in most commodities.

Highest Since 1919

Despite prices for meat, the volume of Canadian exports to the United Kingdom for the first seven months of 1939 was well maintained, at $184,240,939, Mr. Euler said. This compared with $186,727,215 in the same period last year. Canada's favorable balance of trade with the United Kingdom amounted to $118,607,213, which was lower than in the first seven months of 1938, owing to the heavy re-exportation of gold during the early part of the year.

B. C. Highway Hope Recedes

War Complicates Situation; Financing More Difficult of Road Through to Alaska

War still further complicates and will likely postpone construction of the proposed Alaskan highway through British Columbia, and the Yukon, in the unofficial opinion of Government officials at Ottawa.

It is believed that neither the Dominion nor British Columbia will find it possible, in war time, to finance the costly undertaking.

Presumably, the United States Government may be still more anxious to have the highway built, under either existing circumstances or possible future developments on the Pacific Coast. However, even if the American Government were disposed to provide the necessary funds by way of loan — and there already has been an unofficial intimation of such a loan might be considered as calculated to place obvious limits on Canada's freedom of international action.

Ontario Drops Public Works

War Makes Prices and Delivery of Materials Too Uncertain, It Is Said

Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario minister of public works, has announced further curtailment of the provincial public works program as a result of the war.

The government has abandoned indefinitely its proposed new mental hospital and associated plants at Port Arthur and a number of storage buildings which had been planned in connection with the Ontario Hospital at St. Thomas.

Last month it was announced that all road construction was being halted and only maintenance work would go on. Mr. Campbell said the war made it impossible to be certain of prices for materials and delivery.

Sunday School Lesson

LESSON III

THE TEMPTATION OF JESUS

Matthew 4

Printed Text, Matt. 4:1-11.

Golden Text.—For we have... one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Heb. 4:15.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time.—The spring of A.D. 27.

Place.—A wilderness, though its definite location is not known.

The greatest temptation in Our Lord's life occurred immediately after the glorious, exhilarating experience of the baptism, the descent of the Holy Spirit, and the voice from heaven declaring Christ to be God's beloved Son. After spiritual excitement comes the reaction.

1. Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. Why was Jesus tempted? There are several reasons: it gave proof of his true humanity; it was part of his example to us; it formed part of his personal discipline and of his preparation to be a sympathetic intercessor. Of the devil, "Satan" means simply, "adversary."

2. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he afterwards hungered.

The Threefold Attack
3. And the tempter came and said unto him, If thou are the Son of God, command that these stones become bread. The first object of the enemy was to destroy the Lord's faith. Satan cunningly hinted at the obvious inconsistency of a man in as deplorable a condition as Christ was, claiming to be the Son of God.

4. But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. In sum, Christ meant this: Far be it from me to prescribe to God the mode in which he shall provide me substance. Rather will I trust his omnipotent creative power, which can find means to satisfy my hunger, even in the desert, though it may not be with man's food. Christ had no wish to free himself from the sense of human weakness and dependence.

The Easy Way
5. Then the devil taketh him into the holy city; and he set him on the pinnacle of the temple. 6. And saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down; for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and on their hands they shall bear thee up, lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone. Satan here quotes Psalm 91:11, 12. The devil once more insinuates the doubt about Christ's being the Son of God. If Christ will not prove the Messiahship by working a miracle to save himself from being dashed to pieces? It is perhaps a suggestion that Christ should take an easy road to success. Such a prodigious sign or miracle would convince both the priests and the people that he was the Messiah.

7. Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not make trial of the Lord thy God. Christ does not deny the correctness of the Satanic quotation but insists that half-truths often form the worst heresies.

8. Again, the devil taketh him into an exceeding high mountain, and showeth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; 9. and he said unto him, All these will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. All these things Satan tempted him with Christ would some day have, and more, by his precious death; why not take them now and thereby escape all the suffering and agony and shame that were between this hour and the resurrection?

The Rejection
10. Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Here for the first time Christ speaks in his own power, and by the victory he has won this day is able actually to command this evil creature to depart from him. Christ today retains that power, and can command Satan to depart from us when we cry to him for deliverance.

11. Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

"E" Is Commonest
In all European languages the letter E is the commonest. On an average it has been found that, in 1,000 letters, E occurs 137 times in English, 145 in Spanish, 178 in German, and 184 in French.

Trenches And Dugouts Fill This English Schoolyard

Pupils are shown leaving the air raid precautions trenches and dugouts in the playground of Southall Technical school after the daily air raid drill on the reopening of school. Southall was the first school to reopen after the outbreak of war. Trenches and shelters are being constructed in all school playgrounds throughout England. Letters mark the shelters to which certain classes are assigned in the event of a raid.

Ridicule Becomes Dangerous Weapon

In the Hands of the User—
Men Tire Quickly Of Girl
Who Is Always "Razzing"

A lot of girls today are being pretty careless with a dangerous weapon — ridicule — and some of them are going to get hurt. They use it on each other — and that isn't so dangerous — but some of them turn it onto men, and then wonder why they don't hold the men they meet and attract.

Going To Get Hurt
It's modern — this idea of poking fun at the person you want to impress. And used occasionally and smartly, it adds spice to a girl's personality. It lifts her out of that namby pamby "such-a-nice-girl" class.

But there are times when it is human to resent razzing. Any girl who wants to get a man in love with her or keep him that way ought to realize those times.

One time, when this line is no-go, is when a man wants sympathy. When he wants sympathy another time is when a man is on the subject of his ambitions and plans for the future. He wants "understanding" then, and he will not take anything else and like it. Ridicule is a dangerous indulgence for a woman. Because no matter how she "dishes it out," for the moment she is being the very opposite of feminine.

Make Good Judges At American Meet

O.A.C. Students Stand Third in International Competition in Judging Dairy Cattle

A team of students from the Ontario Agricultural College were successful entrants in the stock and meat judging competitions at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass.

In the competition in judging dairy cattle there were twelve teams from as many colleges. Maryland State College took first place, Michigan State College second, and the Ontario Agricultural College third. Considering the different breed competitions, the O. A. C. team stood first in judging Jerseys and third in judging Guerneys and Holsteins.

As individual judges and in judging all breeds, C. E. Geen of the O. A. C. stood fifth, A. R. Stansell ninth, and G. W. Innis eleventh. As individual judges in separate breeds, Stansell and Geen first in judging Jerseys and Geen first in judging Brown Swiss cattle.

In the dressed meats competition there were five teams entered. The O. A. C. team stood second in judging beef and third in judging pork and lamb. As individual

City Existence Ruining Zulus

The Zulu Regent, Mshiyeni, made an appeal to the Minister of Native Affairs, of South Africa, H. A. Fagan, at a meeting in Natal to consider giving his people "rights and privileges to make them a strong nation," reports the S.A. Press Association.

Mshiyeni said that in certain cases their traditions had been spoiled. That they did not want their wives running away from them and their girls were being ruined in front of their eyes and they could do nothing.

Not Enough Rights
They felt Zulus were becoming reduced and in time the Zulu would become extinct. He desired the Zulu nation to become a strong people, but he felt they had not the necessary rights and privileges.

He said the authorities had taken over the brewing and selling of beer and the natives were not allowed to make beer in private houses.

In the towns they drank European liquor which went to their heads. He asked whether a better system could be devised.

It Isn't Wise To Rock Baby

It Irritates Rather Than Soothes
Infant, Doctors Declare

"Rock-a-Bye, Baby," the ancient cradle lullaby, should be banned from the modern nursery, according to the Chicago Infant Welfare Society. The society's doctor declared that sentiment must give way to science. Babies must not be rocked. Rocking, the doctors said, irritates rather than soothes the baby, and if he falls asleep, it is only from general exhaustion.

To support its theories, the society claims it lost only 5.8 babies per 1,000 in 1938 as against 42 per 1,000 in 1911.

Farm Animals Need Phosphate

Deficiency of phosphorus in soils and in crops produced thereon is widely prevalent and is the chief reason for mineral supplements in the feeding of livestock. At the University of California, Berkeley, investigations show that phosphorus deficiency not only causes loss of appetite and consequent decrease in beef and milk production but has a profoundly depressing effect on the reproductive powers of breeding animals.

MALE BUMBLEBEES DO NOT SURVIVE THE WINTER MONTHS

ONLY the female bumblebees live through the winter. When spring comes, they crawl forth from their hibernating places and locate a building site. During the early part of the season, only workers—imperfect females—are produced. In late summer, males and perfect females appear.

IN 1932, MANY PERSONS WERE PREPARED FOR THE EARTH'S COLLISION WITH A COMET THEY SOLD THEIR BELONGINGS AND GATHERED IN CHURCHES.
