

15 Per Cent People Are Allergic

Are Sensitive to Different Irritants — Science Learns to Control Suffering

One of the most recent developments of medical science is the progress that has been made in the control of allergies. Put shortly, says the Winnipeg Free Press, an allergy is a sensitivity to an allergen (protein) which exhibits itself in the form of hay fever, asthma, hives, headache, or nausea.

It is estimated that some 15 per cent of the nation suffers from allergies of one sort or another, and that at least 25 per cent. lunges itself to be allergic.

Persons who had allergies as recently as the 19th Century just went right on having them, but today the situation is different. Medical science, combining the cumulative of a detective with the patience of Job, has managed to cope with a certain amount of the suffering and embarrassment connected with allergies.

Put To Tests

For example, a victim of asthma is taken to hand and is subjected to all sorts of conditions to try to discover the precipitating cause of it. A cause which may be the hair of a pony, horse dander, cotton-wool, oak, birch, radish, sea food, and a wide combination of other substances. When the allergen is successfully traced, the patient may be desensitized, or if no treatment is possible he can usually keep clear of the offending substance.

Oldest Indian Race Is Found

Teletmetra Horizon Found in Mississippi Valley is More Ancient Than Any in the United States

Traces of a prehistoric race of Indians, the oldest yet found in the Mississippi Valley, have been discovered on an island of Lake Pontchartrain by Prof. J. A. Ford, of Louisiana State University, and a WPA survey.

The new findings were named the Teletmetra culture. This culture, Prof. Ford said, antedates the Marksville culture which previously was the oldest civilization established in the Mississippi Valley — about 1,200 years old.

About 1,200 Years Old

In ancient times, American Indians living along the Gulf coast apparently subsisted upon shell fish and small mammals, birds and fish. Prof. Ford said that "One observation indicates that they ranged on beaches near their principal food supply."

Hunted With Spears

"They had decorated pottery vessels, often with four added legs," the professor said. "They hunted with the arrow-tipped throwing board or atlatl, or spear. These spears were fitted with chipped flint projectile points, or bonebone points made from the long bones of large birds or small animals."

The United States has ample reserve of helium gas for any emergency requirements that may be foreseen, according to the Department of the Interior.

LESSON 1
THE CHRISTIAN'S CONFESSION OF FAITH—Matthew

16: 13-28
PRINTED TEXT, Matt. 16: 13-24
GOLDEN TEXT, Matt. 16: 13-24
Christ, the Son of the Living God, Matt. 16: 16.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING
Time—Autumn, A.D. 29, in the third period of the Galilean ministry.

Place—At or near Caesarea Philippi, in the northern part of Galilee, in the southern foothills of Mount Hermon.

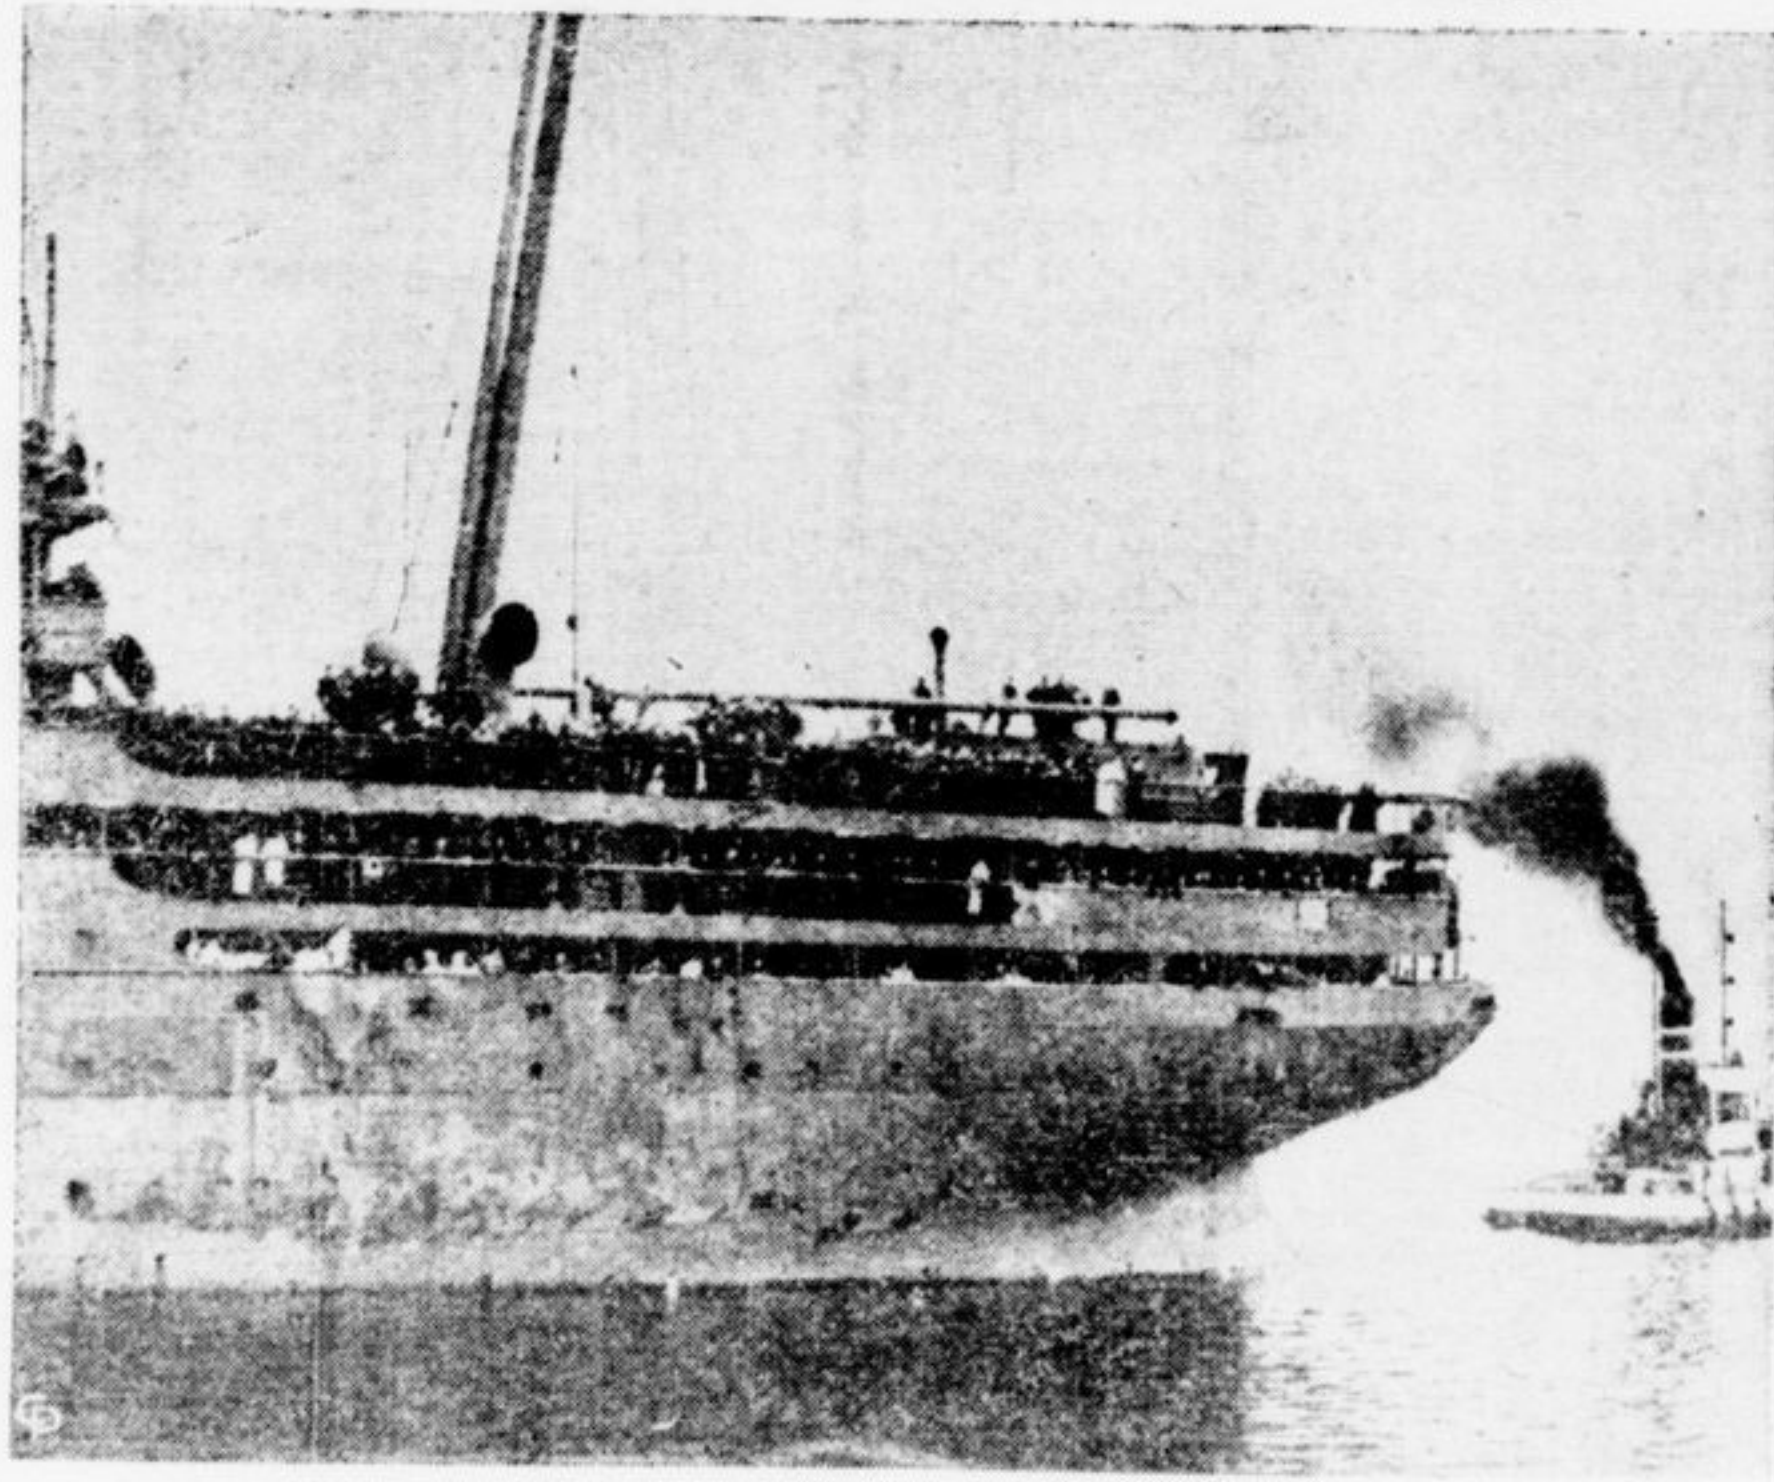

The two and one-half years Christ and his disciples have lived and walked and prayed and talked together. The cross is only six months away. This was one of the most critical hours in all our Lord's life, since, if this group of disciples now failed to realize his deity and Messiahship, there was no time to attempt to bring such a conviction to another group.

13. Now when Jesus came into the part of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say that the Son of man is? 14. And they said, Some say John the Baptist; some Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. In their answer to his first question is given their impression of how greatly the personality of the people respected the Master. They had only good to say of him. 15. He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? 16. And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. The word "Christ" is the Greek translation of the Hebrew word "Messiah" which means "anointed."

Founding of the Church

17. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jonah; for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father who is in heaven. There was no sudden revelation granted to Peter. The revelation was made possible by Peter's ever deepening knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. All the facts of Christ's life are available for men, but not all men recognize him as Christ. 18. And I also say unto thee, that thou art Peter. This is the name which the Lord Jesus gave to Simon, son of Jonah, at the very beginning of Peter's companionship with the Lord. And upon this rock I will build my church. This one of the most disputed, discussed passages of the New Testament. Here we have the first mention of the church in the word of God. Is this not the correct interpretation? Is it not that Christ is the chief cornerstone of the church, that believers are built up a spiritual house, resting as they do on him who is the cornerstone. Peter himself is a stone in this heavenly structure. And the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it. The correct interpretation of this may be that the gates of Hades shall not swallow up the church.

"Tell No Man"

19. I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. The conditions of salvation are divinely stipulated—the conditions that we must become living stones and members of the new spiritual race. 20. Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ. Until the disciples' own views of his Messianic work were greatly corrected, any statement by them that he was the Messiah would do more harm than good. It would have brought Jesus prematurely into open antagonism to the Jewish rulers. 21. From that time began Jesus to show unto his disciples, that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up. 22. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord; this shall never be unto thee. These words were said to Christ out of love for him, but as the apostle Paul reminds us, love can often be at fault unless it is ruled with wisdom.

How To Be True Disciples

23. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan; thou art a stumbling-block unto me; for thou mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. Peter was here a trap set to catch Jesus. Christ now informs the disciples that they too, if they are to be followers of his, must live a life of self-denial, and probably a life marked by suffering. 24. Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

During the past few years the improvement effected in market hogs in districts receiving shipments of bacon-type gilts with assistance under the Broad Sow Pol-

MUST WORK TOGETHER

Urging the need for organization and spending a lot more time today in thinking of ways to market produce, V. S. Millburn, Peterboro, secretary of the Dairy Farmers' Association in a recent address to Prince Edward County Milk Producers' Association asked, "Whose fault is it that conditions for the farmer are so bad? Is it the Government's, or the manufacturer's? No, it's our fault — yours and mine — and it is our job to find out what to do about it."

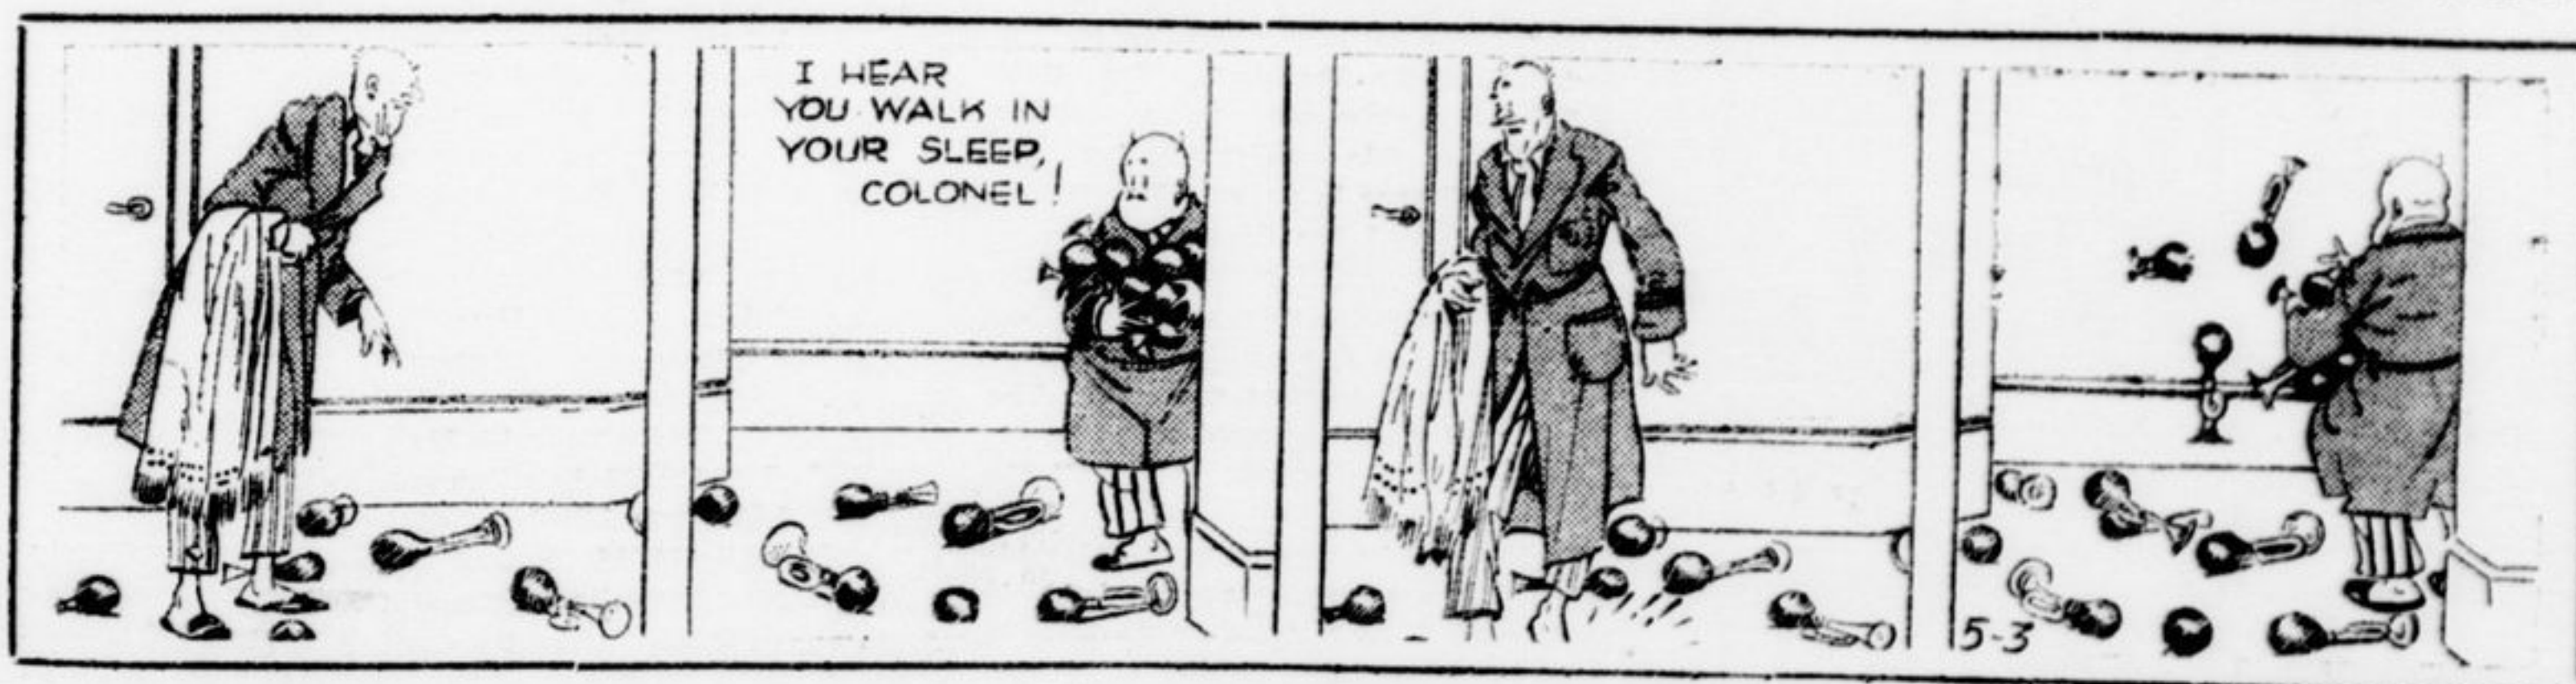

"We need legislation to level production out," he said, "but we can't get it until we get down to work and organize, talk, think and work at our plan till we can speak with one voice and the people will know what we want and will support it."
