KNOX CORNERS

Sorry to miss the service at Knox on Sunday, but listened in to good messages on the radio. In one, "Courage for the New Year" was the subject. The old year with its joys and sorrows, and our mistakes are written indelibly in the records of the past. May we profit by our failures. We need courage for many things in life, but perhaps more than any we need the courage of our convictions to live for God, and if we do, our lives will tell for Jesus and we shall indeed have a happy New Year.

Mr and Mrs T. Wallace spent a few days last week with relatives in Toronto. Mrs Arthur Petty accompanied them and visited with her sister in the city.

Miss Harriett Wilton entertained the young people of the neighborhood at her home on Friday evening.

Miss Florence McIvride spent the Christmas vacation at the parental home and Miss Vessie spent the holidays at her home in Glenelg.

Mrs Harry Caldwell and Mrs Stanley Mountain visited us on Friday. Pleased to have Miss Dorean Mountain and Myrtle on Saturday.

We extend our sympathy to all who will mourn the passing of the late Mrs Ramage, who died at the Durham Hospital on Friday. She was a good mother and a kind friend and will be much missed. Many will be lonely at the beginning of this new year for the loved ones who have passed on recently.

We had eleven callers on New Year's day—all unexpected. All neighbors anxious to do some act of kindness for us on the first day of the New Year. Thank you, come again.

A happy New Year everybody!

"The FIRESIDE PHILOSOPHER"
By ALFRED BIGGS

Tricksters can't face a steady eye.
Harsh words always hurt the speaker.
Adverse criticism often is merely jealousy.
Mean people always expect most generosity.
Some folk find happiness in being unhappy.

NEW YEAR'S

New Years; with all its glad tidings; Has dawned upon this earthly sphere. When is heard the chiming bells, On a midnight, cool and clear. New ambitions; hopes and fears; Have come to stay with us awhile. Let us meet them; not with tears; But to greet them with a smile. If the world was just so peaceful; Peoples' hearts would not be strained, And more to God that we should listen; Who has for years in Heaven reigned. Let us then be all united; At the threshold of this New Year. Let us see as others see us, And be like one large family here. —James E. Stafford, Durham, Ont.

In Australia there is a huge farm of 9,000,000 acres. On this great cattle-range there are 160,000 cattle, with 120 white men and 140 black men to care for them. Each year there are about 22,000 calves born to this great herd.

THEY MET AND ARE SATISFIED

They met to-day—the one who closed her eyes under the pain forever and the woe;

And one who found the mansions in the skies in all their splendor a few short years ago.

What will they say when first their eyes shall meet? Or will a silence take the place of words?

As only saints can know how strangely sweet a rapture such as only Heaven affords.

Will he who went before ask first for those left far behind—those whom he loved so well? Or will the other, new to Heaven's peace, question of all its meaning? Who can tell?

One went three years ago, and one to-day took the long journey, far across the tide;

This only do we know—they met to-day, and meeting—both, I know are satisfied.

—British Weekly.
