TELLS AGE OF EGG

In removing the slip of a boiled egg, a slightly sunken space is observed at the top. This is known as the "air cell". When eggs are being graded under a strong light, this space is plainly visible and, in part, indicates the age of the egg, and in part, condition under which the egg has been kept. Thus the size of the air cell is indicative of quality and is one of the chief considerations in classifying eggs into different grades. Nowadays, everybody knows that rading is essential to intelligent buying.

THE LIBERAL SWEEP

Few expected the Liberal landslide which came in Tuesday's voting. Premier King had 176 seats House out of 245. Now he has 184, the greatest vote of confidence ever given any leader in Canadian history. The vote is a definite mandate of approval of the King Government's war record to date, and authority to continue the good work. It is a rebuke to Premier Hepburn and others who have endeavored to harass the Prime Minister. Parliament is to meet early in May, and will sit most of the summer. The conduct of the war on Canada's behalf is in safe and tried hands.

MISS MACPHAIL OUT OF PARLIAMENTARY LIFE

While giving Mr. Harris full credit for his sweeping victory in this riding, many both here and throughout the continent, regret the loss of Miss Agnes Macphail, for fourteen years Canada's only woman member from the House of Commons. During her eighteen years she has represented this riding, she has given full-time service, her best services, and advertised South Grey, latterly

Grey—Bruce, nation-wide. Many did not see eye to eye with her in many questions of public policy, but she ever endeavored to maintain an independent viewpoint, to vote upon any issue upon its merits as she saw it. All will give her credit for being consistent and sincere.

What brought about her defeat after such a long tenure? There were several things. The winter election and snow-blocked rural roads, were a factor though not a deciding one. The main cause as we see it was that the electors, Dominion-wide, believed that Mackenzie King was doing his best for Canada in prosecuting the war, wanted his party's united effort, and said so by supporting his candidates. Miss Macphail alienated a considerable portion of her former Liberal supporters in this campaign, by her bitter attacks upon the Prime Minister at all her meetings, and these, somewhat resentful, left her. Some electors considered her too much of a pacifist for a war-time Parliament, others thought she had had a sufficiently long term as representative, and another factor—she was up against the best Liberal organization for years, and two energetic opponents. The combination was too much for her to overcome, but Miss Macphail is a good loser—her first experience in six campaigns—and she takes her defeat gracefully and uncomplainingly.

THE TRUTH ABOUT FINLAND

A cartoon in an American newspaper reflects a too common American opinion that Finland lost the war with Russia because the Allies "let her down."

The cartoon shows France and England, as firemen, looking out of the firehall window and congratulating themselves that as the blaze was out they would not now have to run to the fire.

The truth is that: 1. Britain and France had more responsibility to Finland than the United States had.

2. Britain and France sent substantial aid. 3. They were at all times willing to send more help but Finland and other Scandinavian countries would not make it possible.

Dorothy Thompson, in the New York Herald-Tribune, puts it more accurately than the Boakes Carters the Walter Winchells, the radio commentators and the "liberal" cartoonists have put.

"The greatest neutral in the world, supported by the overwhelming sympathies of its own population, refused to do anything of vital importance to aid neutral Finland. Congressional debate greatly encouraged the Russians and Germans to believe that, no matter what happened, the United States would not even risk a really useful dollar.

"The Allies, despite the fact that they are already engaged in a serious struggle with Germany, offered to send a hundred thousand men and depleted their own war material stores to send substantial assistance to the Finns. "Further assistance was impossible because the Germans threatened the whole Scandinavian peninsula with invasion if they allowed it."

HEPBURN WAS QUIET AT CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

It was a case of "All quiet on the Ontario front" during this last week of the campaign.

With Premier Hepburn boiling over daily, fired by hot antipathy towards the King administration, the situation reached a crisis in which Mr. Hepburn's cabinet ministers had to make a decision and make it quickly.

When the Honorable Harry Nixon could no longer stand the tactics of his chieftain, he resigned. And right there, the other cabinet ministers who had been supporting the King administration on the hustings, had to choose between tossing in their resignations with that of Mr. Nixon's, and thus wreck the Ontario Liberal organization, or healing the breach quickly by some other means.

The inside story of how the family quarrel was patched up may not be told for some little time, but it remains evident that Mr. Hepburn swallowed considerable pride during the process. Certainly Mr. Nixon obtained a very healthy guarantee from his Premier before reconsidering his resignation. It was very noticeable that during the ten days preceding the election itself, Ontario electors listened to no further blarney concerning the St. Thomas Air Force School, the film, "Time Marches On," and other general criticism which Mr. Hepburn had been casting at Ottawa.

While the patch is considered a good one, there are a number of parties in close touch with Queen's Park who are firmly of the opinion that the type of explosive which Mr. Hepburn carries around with him can not be bottled up for any great length of time by mere patch work. In passing, it might be pointed out that one thing the Ontario Premier did well at the height of the controversy was a job of press agent work done unwittingly for the distributors of the film, "Time Marches On" which is being shown in Ontario now.

THE WELCOME SIGN IS OUT

With Europe's gateways closed to tourist traffic, it is expected that the coming tourist season in Canada will be one of the busiest on record. Tourists from the United States have the opportunity this year of observing a country at war going quietly and confidently about the work in hand. Today United States money is at a ten per cent. premium in Canada, while Canadian Customs restrictions are fewer, and highways, hotels and tourist camps better than ever before.

It is estimated that United States tourists spend in Europe each year nearly three hundred million dollars. Some of this money will no doubt be diverted to the tourist trade of Canada this year. United States tourists are learning, too, despite some adverse and misleading propaganda, that Canada at war is just as good a neighbor as Canada at peace, and that the flow of legitimate tourist traffic entering and leaving this country since its entry into war is just as free.

The welcome sign is out, nor has there ever been a better time for its display.

U. F. O. and Liberals Hold Durham Meetings

A fair crowd attended the political meeting in Durham Town Hall last Thursday afternoon in the interests of Miss Agnes Macphail, U. F. O. candidate.

Mr. Robert Lawson occupied the chair and the speakers were Rev. Wm. Howey of Owen Sound, F. R. Oliver, M. P. P., and Miss Macphail. Music was supplied by Mrs. Howey, who accompanied also for community singing while Mr. Howey led.

A pleasant surprise awaited Miss Macphail at the close when she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of spring flowers by Mrs. T. Turnbull, who represented the Allan Park and the Rocky Saugeen United Farm Women and the Co-Operative Store. Miss Macphail expressed her deep appreciation.

The Liberal meeting which was held on Saturday afternoon, encountered cold, blustery weather, which reduced the attendance. Dr. T. H. Sneath, president of the Association, was in the chair, and the principal speaker was Col. F. Hunter M. P. P. for a Toronto riding. He spoke mainly on Finland and its crisis, to aid which valiant little nation Col. Hunter had recruited and was to lead a Canadian contingent, but it was disbanded when peace was arranged. The candidate, W. E. Harris, was unable to get through from Dundalk, on account of the storm.

The loss to Canadian farmers by weeds is practically impossible to estimate correctly, but the amount must approximately every year to more than 70 million dollars. To learn the most effective and least expensive methods of weed eradication, many experiments are in progress, superintended by the Field Husbandry Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms Service.

The largest turkey farm in England produces 6,000 birds yearly. The largest turkey undertaking in the United States is worked on a co-operative basis and maintains a breeding stock of 118,000 birds on 13 farms looked after by 19 young married couples. In 1939 more than 640,000 turkeys were produced. Hogs on Canadian farms on December 1, 1939, totalled 4,769,900, compared with 3,563,800 on December 1, 1938.

MISSION BAND STAGED INTERESTING PROGRAM

The members of the Little Helpers Mission Band of Knox United entertained interested friends on the occasion of their thanksgiving service last Wednesday evening. The president, Inez Lawrence, opened the programme with the worship service.

Six little girls gave an Easter drill and fourteen boys and girls took part in an Easter acrobatic. The program was followed by a series of pictures entitled, "Bhika, the Bhil On," a story showing the life of the children of India. Kenneth McCullough acted the lantern and Mrs. H. C. Maclean told the story.

Tied Seaforth 5-5, but Lost the Round

It was curtains for the season for Durham here last Thursday night when they went down fighting, to hold the strong Seaforth team to a 5 all tie. As Seaforth however, had won their home game 11-5 over Durham two nights before, it was too much of a handicap for Durham to overcome, and the round ended 16-10 in Seaforth's favour.

The Seaforth Beavers are worthy victors. They have a heavier, speedy and well balanced team, which should make a bold bid for the title. Good luck to them. A big crowd saw the final contest and went home well pleased with the brand of hockey displayed. It was the fastest of the year, featured by Durham's fighting finish, when, down 2-5 at end of second and 9 down on round, the locals scored 3 to 0 in final frame to pull into a tie.

The Durham boys are to be congratulated for making the second semi-final round, one of the last six teams in Int. B. hockey. It was hoped that any of the team or fans farther than they would be able to progress, at the opening of the season, and they gave local fans a good season's sport, without which it would have been a long, dull winter. Their big mistake was in not signing up more players at start of season. With Lawrence out the last few games with a broken shoulder, the team lacked sufficient reserve strength, and regulars often had insufficient relief. Two more regular players signed up might easily have carried the team into the finals.

Dean and Tucker were most prominent on Durham's score sheet, the former with two goals and an assist, the latter with three assists. The McFadden brothers, Sills and Flannery were the Beavers' best. R. McFadden being the outstanding player on the ice, and a good prospect for "pro" ranks.

Durham opened the scoring in every period. A Tucker to Dean play was Durham's 1st, then Seaforth replied with 3, the visitors coasting in on Watt to beat him at close range. It was still 3-1 for Seaforth for 18 minutes of close battling in second frame, when Dean broke the deadlock again on Tucker's pass. R. McFadden banged in 2 more for the visitors, all three in the final 2 minutes of the period.

Down nine goals now, Durham opened a strong offensive in 3rd frame to cut down the lead, and Cassidy at goal mouth beat Stade on a nice pass from Tucker. Bell of the Beavers gashed Gordie McDonald over the head, the blood spurting out, and this precipitated a lively scrap for ten seconds the outcome of which was that Bell drew a match penalty (about 13 min. left to play) while McDonald got 2 minutes. With a man advantage Durham often had the Beavers cornered up behind their blue line, and scored two more to tie up the game, also another which went uncounted. Hainsworth of Kitchener, former Toronto Maple Leaf goalie, again refereed, and made a good job of it. Seaforth drew 10 penalties and Durham 7.

SEAFORTH: Goal, Stade; defence, T. Sills and Hubert; centre, R. McFadden; wings, A. McFadden and Leppard; alternates, Flannery, Hildebrand, McCallum, Bell, Muir and P. Sills.

DURHAM: Goal, Watt; defence, Cassidy and O. McDonald; centre, R. McGirr; wings—Tucker, Dean; alt.—G. McGirr, G. McDonald, Moeses, Kress.
