ADVERTISING GOT RESULTS BUT

Does advertising always pay? For some people it does, for others it does not. A week ago Friday evening some stray young cattle were on the Highway in front of Jos. Copeland's home. A car struck and killed one of them, doing considerable damage to the car. As they had no tags on the owner of the cattle was not known. Mr. Copeland put them in his yard and advertised them. The next Thursday the paper was distributed to its readers, and that evening the cattle were still at Mr. Copeland's but when they got up next morning, neither hide, hair or hoof of one of them could be seen. The owner possibly thought 'twould be to his advantage to set them away without even one word of thanks to Mr. Copeland. Well, advertising paid the owner that time, but what about the other fellow?—Dundalk Herald.

"FLOWING GOLD" VITAL TO GERMANY

A view of a railway yard beside one of the many oil refineries in Rumania is seen above. The oil is piped down to the large tanks from the wells in the hills (background) and refined and pumped into the tank cars on the sidings. Rumania has ordered her already large military preparations speeded up, following authoritative reports that Germany was challenging the government's ban on export of aviation gasoline to the Reich.

in connection with the supplying of firearms to volunteer civil guards. Mr. Conant said that jurisdiction in connection with the sale and disposition of firearms rests with the Federal Government, but the Ontario Government is considering the whole question of firearms in connection with shops which are selling rifles and shotguns without licenses. Volunteer civil guards will be supplied with arms by the province.

Magistrate Watt, of Guelph, held police court at Mount Forest with the result that several citizens who failed to show due respect for the town bylaws or proper judgment in operating their motor vehicles were ordered to part with some hard-earned cash for the privilege. One gentleman from Varney paid a dollar and costs on each of two charges, not stopping at a stop street and driving with one headlight. A Normanby farmer parked in front of a fire hydrant on Main street and paid $2 and costs for his error. A Kenilworth motorist, who crashed into Memorial Park a couple of weeks ago, paid $10 and costs for reckless driving and had his permit cancelled for 12 months, while a Normanby man charged with drunk driving, had the charge reduced, and paid $10 and costs. The defendant in an assault charge arising out of a scrap in a beverage room was fined $10 and costs. It pays to keep within the law!—Confederate.

There are 186,035 Canadians receiving Old Age pensions, and cost to Dominion Government in the fiscal year ended last March 31 was $29,080,630, F.D. Shaw (Lib. Red Deer) was informed in the Commons yesterday, in a reply tabled by Finance Minister Ralston.

A young Goderich business man, who wishes his name withheld, had a thrilling experience a few nights ago. While he was driving away from an Ipperwash Beach dance hall about midnight his lights picked up the form of a man lying half buried in the sand at the side of the road, just at the intersection of the main highway to Sarnia. Another car immediately ahead started picking up speed and instantly the Goderich man assumed he was a hit-and-run driver and gave chase, leaving the man lying in the sand. The chase continued for eleven miles down the road at a 50-70 mile clip. The local man never did catch the fellow ahead, but he got close enough to get his marker numbers, so turned back to give attention to the supposedly injured—perhaps fatally injured—man in the sand. Well, it was found he wasn't quite dead, just dead drunk, and not a mark on him. "Please go away and leave me alone," was all that the Goderich man and his companion could get out of him. They pulled him well off the travelled portion of the road and came home. A well-known boot-leggers spot is said to be located close to the scene of action.—Signal-Star.

OBITUARY

OTTO M. SEIM

The death took place very suddenly on Thursday morning at his home in Bradford, Ont., of Otto M. Seim, a former well known resident of this district. He had not been in good health for some years and had been suffering from a heart condition. Though living quietly he had taken an active interest in village affairs, and had been a member and chairman of the School Board.

Mr. Seim was born in Normanby township 58 years ago, a son of Conrad Seim and Elizabeth Schenk Seim. He was educated at the local schools, taught school for a number of years; went into the newspaper business, publishing in succession the Holstein Leader, the Hanna (Alberta) Herald; the Hepworth Progress and the Bradford Witness, which he sold to S. S. MacKenzie six years ago, but continued to live in Bradford.

He married Miss Grace Hunt of Egremont, who with a family of three sons and three daughters, survives. Dr. Andrew Seim, Mount Forest, is a brother. Three other brothers and two sisters survive, of a family of ten.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon with interment at Bradford. The minister of the United Church, of which he was a member, conducted the service, and was assisted by the Rev. Winfield Hunt, London, brother-in-law of the deceased. Some seven cars from this vicinity attended. There was a large local attendance testifying to the respect in which the deceased was held.
