Several from this locality were present to pay their last respects. The late Mr. Shorthouse was a native of England, coming as an immigrant boy to the home of Mr. Chas. Gillies, and later acquiring a comfortable home. He served for several years as trustee at S.S. No. 4 and for a short term as sec'y-treas. Sympathy is expressed for his widow who was formerly Lillian Culp.

SWINTON PARK

Harvesting is going steadily on but rather slowly, as much of the grain is lodged, but with the fine weather, is progressing. Frost severe nights last week did not do a bit of good to the gardens or late maturing crops. We are sorry to learn that George Haw is not in his usual good health at present, and we fear he will not be able to enjoy the old-time fiddlers' contest at the Exhibition, where Mr. Haw likes to meet his old-time friends.

Milford Corbett, Dan White and Geo. Watson left this neighborhood last week in search of more money and not such hard work. They went to Thornbury and Collingwood district.

Mr and Mrs John Aldcorn visited last week with Shelburne and McIntyre friends.

Dick Hardy left for the city Sunday, where he will meet Mrs Hardy and daughters, and may spend a day at the Ex. before returning.

Mr and Mrs W. J. McLeod, also daughter Carl of Lambton Mills, with their respective mothers, Mrs. Parslow of Dundalk and Mrs. McLeod of Swinton Park, are away this week on a trip, taking in the Quints, North Bay, Ottawa, Kingston and other points of interest.

J. A. Campbell was in the city at the weekend, but is again at the farm having some work done, also finishing the Moody bridge, which they have been constructing lately.

On Sunday last a good congregation enjoyed a splendid sermon well given by Rev. Mr. Turner of Hillsburg. Next Sunday, regular service at 3.00 p.m., then at 8 p.m. Dr. Margaret McKellar, a returned missionary from India, will conduct service, this being the W.M.S. annual thank offering service. Dr. McKellar comes highly recommended as a speaker, and you will enjoy hearing her.

St. Andrews Sunday School picnic is being held Thursday of this week at 2 p.m. at Black's Beach. Everyone welcome.

Pleased to hear that Agnes Harrison, Thelma Chislett and Agnes McMillan have received their certificates for second year High School work taken up in Public School here under tuition of Mrs. Bailey. They are now eligible for Third Form in High School.
