PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE IN DAYS OF YORE

25 YEARS AGO
(from Review file, October 28, 1915)

Almost 250 men now in training at Owen Sound and 100 more have enlisted but are not yet in training throughout Grey County, so the campaign of the Grey Co. recruiting League has shown splendid results so far. It is expected over 400 will have enlisted in this quota by Christmas.

The largest crowd we think that ever gathered at the C. P. R. station was that of Thurs. night last. The occasion was the leaving for Walkerton of five young men who are joining the colours and the heartiness of the good-byes left nothing to be desired in the way of public commendation of their actions.

The five who thus freely offer themselves for the defence of their country are: Johnston Allen, Gordon Gun, A. C. Dewar, John Stedman, Lance McGillivray.

Previous to train time a number of citizens met in the Town Hall, Hon. Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P. presiding, and made presentations of wrist watches to Gun and McGillivray, a fountain pen and signet ring to Stedman and fountain pen and locket each to Dewar and Allen.

Lieut. Don L. McKinnon, of Priceville, who enlisted in the Army Service Corps, and was training at Quebec, has thrown up his commission as a lieutenant and came to Oranmore, where he enlisted as a private in the Signalling Division, Canadian Engineers. There were too many on the waiting list ahead of him and Donald believing more men are needed at the front, took a quicker route to get there.

Dornoch West Corr: Mr and Mrs Dcn Campbell have gone to reside in Durham. The neighborhood regrets losing such good kind neighbors and extends a cordial welcome to their son D. A. and his miable young wife, who will occupy the old homestead.

Hon. George J. Brown, whose term of office as Lieutenant Governor of Saskatchewan expired a week ago, is taking up residence in Toronto in the home of the late Senator Cox. Hon. Mr Brown went West in 1882, when no wheat was grown in Saskatchewan, and the C. P. R. system ended at Oak Lake, twenty-five miles west of Brandon.

Dromore Corr: Miss Zell Crawford with Miss Marion Calder and her brother visited Miss Mary Findlay on Sunday, the latter leaving for High School this week.

ZION

Zion United Y. P. entertained the Crawford young people putting on part of the program. A dainty lunch was afterwards served.

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Williams of Kenilworth were guests with Mr and Mrs Victor Williams on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs W. J. Cook were up to Orange Valley Sunday to see their daughter, who had just returned home from Markdale hospital, after spending a couple of weeks there.

Mr and Mrs. Thos. Milligan and son of Hutton Hill, visited Sunday with Mr and Mrs. Herb Allen and Mary.

Mr and Mrs Herb Greenwood and son Murray, and Ptes. Grant and Cecil Greenwood of Camp Borden, were guests at the home of Mr and Mrs W. J. Greenwood Sunday.

Miss Mary Allen entertained the Zion choir to a social evening last Thursday night.

Mr Elmer Harrison of Priceville, was over this way last week and bought some of Mr A. Maynard's poplar bush.

Mr Arthur McNally went to Owen Sound Monday to serve as jurymen.

The Petrolia town council at its meeting on Monday evening was faced with a bylaw to provide for a vote on the subject of the sale of beer and wine under provisions of the Liquor Control Act and in no uncertain manner, the proposition was turned down.

(Little Ireland Correspondence)

A furious engine passed through from the north, puffing and snorting for all it was worth;

Joe Moore and his better half got a great fright;

Jim Tucker declared it was hallow-'een night.

The engine moved on till it came to the jog, and it frightened the life out of Dave Hooper's dog;

And eastward it came till it reached the hall hill—

"It must be an earthquake," says Bob Moore to Bill.

Now if Jonty is home, say won't it be nice,

We will call at his shop and ask his advice,

For he's just the lad to think out a scheme

And we'll never reach home unless we have steam.

Ed. Wells heard the noise and it made his heart sore,

For he thought the Grand Trunk was cutting through to Dromore

But the noise it passed on and made Lothians laugh

For they thought all the time it was Scottie's black calf.

"By the noise that it makes and the way it groans,"

To his wife says Jim Allan, "Here comes Casey Jones,"

For Casey was noted like all men who're late,

For running his engine at a terrible rate.

They again steamed her up and run for an hour,

When the rabbits and steam gauge both went in a shower;

Before these things ended there'll be some one killed dead,

For the steam gauge hit Watson a rap on the head.

I hope the names mentioned won't be much put out,

For the joke among neighbors is well scattered about.

Any names I have missed if ever they squeak,

I'll give them a rub in the paper next week.

Golden Jubilee of Dornoch R. C. Church

ety, in Fr. Buckley's time, replaced it by a carpet of dark red design. (still here?). Miss Ellen Sullivan made the cassocks for the priest and mended the vestments, made the birettas and looked after the sewing in general.

The first organ which was later moved to the school (and is still there) was bought from the church in Glenelg. It was paid for by a concert held in John Duggan's blacksmith shop under the management of Fr. Granottier in 1873. The second organ was bought from Kellestine of Owen Sound. It was considered 1st class at that time. The first furnace was bought in Preston. It was a failure. Fr. Buckley bought a McClary furnace in Chatsworth for $135 including installation.

Most of the statues were paid for by money made at a picnic. The Sanctuary lamp was donated by Wm. O'Mara in memory of his sister Mary. Michael Coleman gave the Statues of the Cross and they were erected by Fr. Cherrier. He had authority from Rome to do so. (And those who knew Fr. Cherrier and his punctilious exactitude in everything will feel quite sure that he carefully explained that fact to the congregation.) The large Statue of the Sacred Heart was given by a parishioner who does not want it known that he gave it. The Statue of St. Anne with the B. V. as a child was donated by Joseph Meloch. St. Joseph's Statue, life-size, was given by Fr. Buckley. The votive candle stand was donated by Hughie McGann.

After Fr. Granottier, came Fr. Buckley. He remained in charge of the mission for about 18 years. Fr. Heydon took charge after Fr. Buckley left. He was succeeded by Fr. Shaughnessy who remained for about 7 years. Then Fr. Nicholas Roche attended Dornoch from Toronto. Fr. Joseph Sharpe then was placed in charge and remained until he died of the "flu" in Owen Sound in 1918. All the priests, mentioned so far have laboured among you have gone to meet the Eternal Priest, their Lord and Master Jesus Christ, and I am sure, are often remembered in your prayers as you kneel here before the Altar where they so often offered up the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for you and your dear ones departed or living.

Fr. Sharpe was succeeded by Fr. Michael Pickett, so well known to many of you and who was born not far from Dornoch. He remained only six months when he was assigned to other duties. It was then that I had the honour and the pleasure of taking charge of this church for some three months. It was during this period that the families of the parish were consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. I hope that you still have in your homes the pictures of the Sacred Heart which you obtained at Mass one Sunday, on which were printed the Act of Consecration and where there was space for the names of the members of the family. Mr. Eddie Barry was the bell-ringer at the time (Lord have mercy on him) he was a dear old character; and has too, passed to his reward. Eddie had instructions to ring the bell at 2 in the afternoon and all the families were to recite the Act of Consecration. I still remember very vividly, Eddie coming to me after Mass with a worried look on his face and saying, "Father, how can I ring the bell and be at home at the same time to say the Act of Consecration?" Eddie had great faith but he evidently thought it would be too much to expect that the Lord would allow him to be present in two places at the same time.

Fr. Chas. Collins was then placed in charge of Dornoch and attended the Church for several years. Fr. Joseph McGahey (now Captain McGahey, a Chaplain in the army) and Fr. John Sullivan have been here in more recent years, but these are fresh memories and need hardly be recalled. More recent still are the services of Fr. Leavey and your present genial pastor Fr. Ryan. We Basilian Frs. have still a warm spot in our hearts for the people of Dornoch and we are glad to see you in such good hands.

But to go back to older memories which makes pleasant recalling. I must not overlook the history of our parish school which with the church has played such an intimate part in your lives. A school was opened on the Town Line in 1860. John Eppes-nahan already mentioned was first teacher. The list of teachers after the school was transferred to the old log church is as follows: Miss Kate Brennan, Miss Mary Murphy,

Britain Trains her Girl Arms Workers

Drill instruction for one of the many thousands of British girls being trained in arms production. From every walk of life these girls voluntarily enter instructional centres so that they can serve their country in this vital war work.

Miss Nagle for six months felt that deeds and accomplishments Howard taught one year; Mrs James Vasey, two yrs.; Miss Cecilia Julian, Miss Ellen Quirk, Miss Nora O'Neill, Miss Mary O'Mara, of London; Miss Breen, Biddulph; Mary Delane (3 yrs) Miss K. Ryan, Seaford; Miss M. Dowd Chatsworth; Miss Mary Bigley of Peterboro; Miss Sullivan of Stratford; Miss Devereaux of St. Augustine complete the list of teachers up to 1920. The new school was opened in 1917 at a cost of $3000.

I have reserved for special mention Miss Cecilia McGrath who taught in the old log school on the Town Line from 1868 to 1870. Miss McGrath afterwards became Mrs Roach of Brechin and was the mother of two priests, both Basilian Fathers and both became pastors of Owen Sound. I need not mention their names. It was truly a remarkable coincidence.

The second school building was a frame structure and was built on Richard Moran's farm. Later it was moved out to Dornoch. It was attached to the log church and continued to be used as a school. When the present church was built, the old log church was used as a school and the old frame school was used as a woodshed. Part of this frame school later became the garage which was built at the end of the sheds.

I have come to the end of my rambling account of Dornoch Mission with its church and school, its priests and parishioners and school teachers, I have played the part of a historian rather than a preacher or orator. I felt that deeds and accomplishments Howard taught one year; Mrs James Vasey, two yrs.; Miss Cecilia Julian, Miss Ellen Quirk, Miss Nora O'Neill, Miss Mary O'Mara, of London; Miss Breen, Biddulph; Mary Delane (3 yrs) Miss K. Ryan, Seaford; Miss M. Dowd Chatsworth; Miss Mary Bigley of Peterboro; Miss Sullivan of Stratford; Miss Devereaux of St. Augustine complete the list of teachers up to 1920. The new school was opened in 1917 at a cost of $3000.

May you ever keep alive that glorious Catholic faith that they handed down to you. May this church built by the sweat of their brows and hallowed by the incense of their Christian lives, be ever your most precious possession, your most beloved meeting-place with God, while you are still wayfarers here below, and the source of that spiritual strength which will enable you to reach your eternal home—where you will rejoice all your dear ones who have gone before.

The blessing I wish you in the name of—

Brazil is to dump no more coffee into the sea because of a surplus. Instead she will extract the caffeine and the oil from the beans, and make the residue into a plastic material.

Kincardine Council has decided that no cars may be parked on the streets between the hours of 1 and 7 a. m. so that the snow plow will have a chance to do its work this winter. But there will be fellows who will say: "I didn't think it was going to snow so I left the car out."
