Does it Mean You?

A man who prided himself on his morality, and expected to be saved by it, was constantly saying: "I am doing pretty well on the whole. I sometimes get mad swear, but then I'm perfectly honest. work on Sunday when I am particularly busy, but I give a good deal to the poor. and I never was drunk in my life."

This man hired a canny Scotchman build a fence around his pasture lot. gave him very particular directions. In the evening, when the Scotchman came in from work, the man said:

"Well, Jock, is the fence built, and is it tight and strong?"

"I canna just say it is all tight and strong," Jock replied, "but it's a good are you going in such a hurry?" "I'm average fence anyhow. If some parts are a going to the store." "Trade must be active little weak, other parts are extra strong. I with you." "It's not the trade that has don't know but I have left a little gap here called me out. There are three; partand there, a yard or so wide; but then I made ners in our store, and we have only two up for it by doubling the number of rails chairs, The last man that comes in the on each side of the gap. About four bundred tons of first-class phosphate of lime, mined in Burgess last winter and lying on the Rideau, has been sold. There is a good deal of enquiry for the higher grades just now, nothing else being wanted. Mr. Munzie intends to work the Anthony lots during the coming summer, and it is probable that other lots in Burgess will be worked. About 1,200 tons are ready for shipping from the Bucking-

Fresh beef to the value of more than half a million dollars was shipped England from New York and Philadelphia in the month of March. The weight of this addition to John Bull's beef was nearly thirty-five hundred tons, and it represented probably not far from ten thousand animals. So large a demand as this-and the trade, yet in its small beginning, is destined to vast extension-must have an important beneficial effect upon cattle raising interests on this Continent. The rinderpest has rendered the business of the British grazier so hazardous that it will doubtless be greatly reduced as soon as the supply from this side of the Atlantic can be sufficiently increased to furnish meat for the millions of England's beef-loving population, and it will not be strange if the export is ten times greater half a dozen years hence than it is at present.
