

Casting out Devils.

A noted physician was called to the bedside of a man who was possessed of seven devils. The doctor saw that it was a case of hypochondria, oriental delusion and took his cue accordingly, feeling the patient's pulse, and looking into his eyes and manipulating his forehead and neck with perfect gravity. "My friend," said the physician at length, "you have made a slight mistake, there are eight devils in the place of seven, and the eighth is the leader of the others. We do not often have these cases, but the proper treatment is known to science, and the instrument for driving these spirits out of the human body is provided. Come to my office and you shall be cured." The patient declared that he was powerless to rise. "Ah! I forgot," said the physician, stepping to the mantelpiece, "here is a bible; put your right hand upon it." The man obeyed. "Now you can rise!" and sure enough the man arose instantly; the imagination was all-potent. Having dressed himself he followed the doctor to his office, where an electrical battery was prepared for use. After giving him a violent shock, the doctor gravely told him one devil was gone, bidding him to go about his work and return on the following day. The patient went away well satisfied, and, coming the next day received a similar treatment each day the doctor declared that another devil had departed from his body. On the eighth day, when the patient came, the doctor looked grave and told him it would be very hard to drive out the last devil, and he must be firm and patient. He then charged the battery to its full height, and gave the man a shock that sent him flat on the floor. "All right said the doctor he is gone and you are cured." The man was perfectly satisfied, and the cure was complete. So much for the power of imagination.

Some genius proposes to introduce paper shirts. But a shirt made out of story-paper would have many tales.

A tart temper seldom sweetens with age and a sharp tongue is the only edged tool that grows keener with constant use.

Zimmerman (on solitude) says Those beings are only fit for solitude who like nobody, are like nobody, and are liked by nobody.

When a clergyman remarked, they were to have a nave in the church, an old lady whispers that she "knew the party to whom he referred."

An orator declaring that Fortune knocked at every man's door once, an old Irishman said, "When she knocked at mine I must have been out."

The characteristic of the umbrella is its power of changing shapes. You can leave a brand-new silk with an ivory or rose-wood handle at any public gathering; within three hours it will turn itself into a light blue or faded brown cotton, somewhat less in size than a circus tent, with a handle like a telegraph pole and five fractional ribs.

WELL TAUGHT.—A man who had been questioning his son, who had just returned from an expensive school, says the boy answers four questions out of five correctly in every branch of his studies. To four questions out of five the boy says "I don't know and his answer is always a true one." When he hazards any other, it is apt to be wrong.

Literary young man at a party: "Miss Jones, have you seen Crabbe's Tales?" Young lady seriously: "I was not aware of the fact that crabs had tails." Literary young man covered with confusion: "I beg pardon ma'am I should have said read Crabbe's Tales?" Young lady, angrily, scornful: "And I was not aware that red crabs had tails either." Exit young man.

A recent death announcement in a New York paper closes with the following poetic gem, which eclipses anything in the elegiac line that Philadelphia has ever produced:

It was a cough
That carried me off;
It was a coffin
They carried me off in.

A pupil in an English school was asked in an examination paper: "Why is the tropic of cancer so called, and why is it situated twenty three and a half degrees from the equator?" The answer constructed on a basis of purest logic, was: "The Tropic of Cancer is so called from a Latin word cancer meaning a crab, because there are a great many crabs in that portion of the globe, and it is situated twenty three and a half degrees from the equator because there are more crabs there than any where else." Another pupil asked to define the word "battress" wrote out its meaning "A female who makes but cr."

A clergyman was annoyed by people talking and giggling. He paused, looked at the disturbers, "I am always afraid to reprove those who misbehave for this reason. Some years since as I was preaching a young man who sat before me who was constantly laughing, talking and making unbecoming grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service a gentleman said to me, 'Sir, you have made a great mistake, that young man was an idiot.' Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave themselves in chapel, lest I should repent that mistake and reprove another idiot." During the rest of the service there was good order.

A writer in the Illustrated London News says Tucking Turkish Pashas, I may hint that Fez covers a multitude of nationalities and that it is somewhat difficult to tell where the Osmanli ends or the Giaour begins. I have heard of a Pasha of Mecca who had been an English drummer-boy in the force with which Sir Ralph Abercrombie invaded Egypt, and most of us are familiar with the story of the Burrian Admiral, who on the part of the Charina Catherine, was despatched to treat with the Turkish Pasha commanding one of the armies of the Sultan. Mustafaz III. Coffee and pipes having been served, the negotiators were left alone, when the Turkish Pasha said to the Russian Admiral, 'Hoo's a, we, ye' Sandie! They were both canny Scots from Greenock!"

The following was lately affixed to a church in Hertfordshire, and read in the church: "This is to give notice that no person is to be buried in this churchyard but those living in the parish, and those who wish to be buried are desired to apply to the parish clerk."

PETTIT'S EYE-SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attend the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHROMO-SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. It is USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, &c. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch; which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race. They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plasters they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other Plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect. They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting, and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TICDOLORREX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plaster contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition. They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAR BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-continued Consumption. Prepared by GEORGE E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.
