A New Submarine Torpedo Boat.

A new torpedo boat, designed to work under water, has just been brought under the notice of the Admiralty, and a model four feet eight inches long has been made. The boat was originally designed by the late Lord Milton, who was well known as Wentworth Woodhouse for his skill as mechanic, assisted by Mr. Turner, of the same place, and recently improved by Mr. Councillor White, of Thorp, near Roth-

The new torpedo boat is intended to work under water by means of compresse! air, and in every way resembles a fish. In the fore part or head there are two large eyes, from which radiate a strong electric light that will exhibit the keel of an enemy's vessel for a considerable distance, while a powerful ram is placed just above capable of penetrating an armor-clad. In what may be termed the nostril there is a and fired by electricity with a new explosive, one pound of which, in a recent test. J. D. displaced 137 tons of iron stone in situ.
