London, Sept. 16 .- A despatch from Candanar says an Afghan nobleman coming from the direction of Cabul reports that the Ameer has sent for troops from Herat and Balkh, and has summoned the Ghilzais to Cabul for a jehad. One of the troopers of Major Cavagnari's escort arrived at Luadi Khotai vesterday. He says that the roof of the British Residency at Cabul was commanded by other houses, and was consequently untenable. The besieged made a trenen outside. About one in the aftermoon on the day of the massacre Cavagnari received a wound from a ricochetting builet on the forehead. Jenkyne, Major Cavagnari's assistant, who arrived at the Residency during the attack, wrote to the Ameer for help. The Ameer replied, "God will, I am making arrangements." Previous requests from Mr jor Cavagnari had met with the same reply. Jenkyns wrote again when Major Cavagnari wounded, but the bearer of the letter was cut to pieces by the mutineers. The trooper then started, but he was disarmed and impersoned. He succeeded in escaping, and on the 4th visited the Residency, where he saw the corpse of Lieutenant Hamilton, commanding the escort of the British Mission, lying across a mountain gun.
