-Vice-Chancellor Blake has been addresing the citizens of Kingston on the temperance question. The learned gentleman in the course of his speech said that the life of every nation was being sapped by some sin, and that in 1860 the people of the British Isles spent in intoxicating drinks over 420 million dollars but last year 750 millions, that the city of Kingston wasted last year $250,000 in strong drink, whereas they only contributed for the support of their churches at home and abroad $47,000! The remedy proposed was restrictive legislation, the establishment of coffee-houses, and that the sale of alcholic liquids should be dealt with in the same way as the sale of poisous.
