For the Grey Review. Mir John and the Syndicate. BY W. M. CLARK. Historians may tell of the progress of nations, What record can equal for bold arrogation, The spirits to-day in our Canada found. We've heard of the fame of the noble McKenzie, Who deluged the country with ruin and debt (?) And left in his reckless extravagant frenzy A burden so heavy it rests on us yet.

McDenald the National Policy gave us, To rescue from bankruptcy certain (or worse), And by the increased cost of living to save us From perishing under the national curse.

POETRY

We've heard of the mammoth steel rail specule Devised by McKenzie, that paid us so well, Of the great Kaministiquia harbour location, The St. Francis locks, and the Neebing hotel.

But all stand eclipsed by the glorious McDonald, Who boldly determined to mount to the top, By giving a few monied strangers the country For building a railway to open it up.

Twenty-five million acres of forest and meadow, Selected with care from the best of the land, With twenty-five million hard dollars (no shadow) Deposited safe in the Syndicates' hand, Oh Canada! Who can foretell thy progression,

Or who can imagine the next noble plan, Which devised with an eye to pure party aggres-May grandly eclipse all the triumphs of man.

Shalt thou be confined by the noble Atlantic? Or shall the Pacific thy limits decree? Can the North Pole impede a career so romanti-Or shall the equator thy boundary be? Oh! who (when he's gone) shall be found to con trol thee, With muscle sufficient the brakes to apply? Methinks I at some future crisis behold thee, Sail from us aloft a balloon in the sky.

With our country placed under the heel of With power from the settler the prairie to close, Like the ox for the slaughter confined to the man- CRABB-MERIDITH-At the residence of the bride's Shall we calmly submit to be led by the nose? Let Canada's sons but maintain their position, And make themselves heard by the power of Sir John must succumb to the grand opposition. And wish he'd kept out of that bargain, I guess.

QUACK DOCTORS' ENORMOUS PROFITS .-"England," says the London correspondent of the Canada Medical Record, "is the best quacked country in the world, and the colossal fortunes that have been and are amassed by the vendors of pills and ointments and blood mixtures, surpasses all belief. The fact that the revenue of the country derives more than £200,000 per annum from the stamps for the sale of patent medicines deserve more than a passing mention and more than a passing thought. The endowments of hospitals &c, in later life from some of the huge sums made carries one back in thought to the times of and prior to the middle ages, when the barons of those days, after during nearly their whole existence leading a life of robbery and murder, violation and committing nearly every vile thing they could on the face the beautiful earth, would on their deathhads think to make their peace with heaven by building a church or endowing a monastry."

Consumption has well been compared to a worm in the bud, that saps vitality from the fairest flower. It steals the rose bloom from the cheek and robs the vital spark from the stalwart and the strong. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam "nips the worm in the bud." It is the best cure and most effectual lung healer known to medical science. Price 25cts per bettle.-b156.

THE Rev. William F. Clarke, in a letter to the Listowel Banner, repudiates the title of "Rev." and disclaims any further right of its being prefixed to his name. He says the time has now arrived to raise the question, "By what rule of propriety or law of right the term "Rev." is applied to the ministers of the gospel?' Might we ask why Mr. W. F. Clarke used the title of Rev. so long, without all at once making this discovery.

The Old Reliable.

Wilson's Wild Cherry has been nick-named "The Old Reliable Cough Remedy," by a gentleman who has used it for many years, and it richly deserves the name, because its success in curing Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Loss of Voice has been almost universal. For children and adults, in old standing cases and in new, it always gives immediate relief and offects a speedy cure, and is now the standard cure for these diseases. Be sure to get the genuine in White Wrappers, as there are many imitations. Sold by Druggists and Medicine Dealers. Cracked Hands, Cracked Lips and Roughness of the Skin can be cured by a few applications of Guibourt's Parisian Balm, which only costs 25 cents, and is sold by all leading Druggists in Western Ontaria. Try it. d154

And gives them every chance to pay. Performs his work the neatest way? Who shod your horses first of all That they could leither slip nor fall, But firmly held that they might haul? Who set the irons on your first sleigh

And waited patintly for the pay, And shall repeat the same to-day? Who mends your hoe, your fork, your spade, And fixes up your cradle blade, And leaves all Blacksmiths in the shade?

Who knows so well to work a file, Or make a tire stay on a while,
And always meets you with a smile?

John Norval. Who ran to help you when you fell, And where the rig was broke would tell, Or fix it up to make it sell?

Who fans the fire to make it burn And strikes the iron at every turn.

And when he's sick who makes you mourn?
