

Chat about House-Plants.

Now is the time to root slips easily. Roses, heliotropes, petunias, verbenas, geraniums, and many other plants, if rooted now, will make strong blooming plants for the house next winter.

Place the slips in a box containing a mixture of two thirds good garden soil and one-third sand, set the box in the shade, keep the soil moist, and the slips will quickly take root and commence to grow.

Never exaggerate. Never betray a confidence. Never wantonly frighten another. Never leave home with unkind words.

Never neglect to call upon your friends. Never laugh at the mistakes of others. Never give a promise that you do not intend to keep.

Never speak much of your own performance. Never send a present hoping for one in return.

Never fail to be punctual at the time appointed. Never make yourself the hero of your own story.

The wonderful accuracy with which the carrier-pigeon determines the direction of its distant home has long been a subject of remark. It is evident that they cannot be guided by remembrance, for they will return directly from places never visited by them before.

Each bird, there seems to be, as Mr. J. H. Farre has suggested, an undefined faculty, kind of topographical sense, which enables certain birds and insects to find their way.

This faculty is very well developed in certain insects. The sand-wasp for example, boring its mine until a late hour of the day, closes the opening with a stone and then goes away to a distance, but the next day it can find its home again.

Each moth rose vertically and directed its flight towards the south, where the nests were. Mr. Fabre asserts that this peculiar sense of locality is totally absent in man, or that man has nothing analogous to it.

On the contrary, it seems that this faculty either exists in man in an undeveloped condition, or else that it once existed and in the course of time has been almost lost.

The woodsman, the hunter, the trapper and the Indian certainly can find their way through pathless forests, where their more civilized fellows would be lost.

In cases of chronic disease which doctors have failed to cure, Burdock Blood Bitters has achieved its greatest triumph. All diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Piles, Female Complaints and all forms of lost vitality are promptly cured by this great renovating Tonic.

As the result of a public agitation and a petition signed by over two thousand people, the saloon and tavern licenses in Brockville have been reduced in number from twenty-one to fifteen and the rate has been fixed at $100 per year.

Why become a suffering martyr to Head-ache, when Burdock Blood Bitters will surely cure the cause of all varieties of either Sick or Nervous Headache, cleanse the System, regulate the Secretions, relieve Constipation of the Bowels, purify the Blood, renovate the Liver and tone up the Nervous System, and distressing headache will be unknown? Sample Bottles 10 Cents, Large Bottles $1.00 - $1.50.

There are 964 noblemen and gentlemen now being educated at Eton College. The list includes an Indian Prince, Duke, 21 lords, 3 counts, 5 baronets, and 2 honorables.

DRIVEN TO DESPERATION.—"I only want to show you one thing more, professor; I have invented a short way of boring mountains, which I think will prove valuable."

A Little Miss has a grandfather who has taught her to open and shut his crust with an ordinary silk one. Suddenly she came with the child coming with the new stove-pipe wrinkled like an accordion.

They have a good joke on a "professor of ventilation" down east, who being put into a room at a hotel with another guest, asked him to raise a window at night, as the air was close.

HELP.—Fourscore by making money when a golden chance is offered, thereby always keeping poverty from your door. Generally become wealthy while those who do not improve such chances remain in poverty.
