The Mastodon in Recent Times.

EVIDENCE AGAINST THE THEORY OF THE ANTIQUITY OF MAN.

Prof. John Collett, Ph. D., State Geologist of Indiana, gives some statistics in relation to the mastodon that dispels the notion that these animals did not live in recent times. Archæologists who argue the great antiquity of man upon this planet based upon the fact that his remains have been found with those of the mastodon, will be compelled to seek other lines of proof for their theory. We quote from page 385, Geological Report for 1880. Prof. Collett says:—

Of the thirty individual speciman of the remains of the mastodon (Mastodon giganteus) found in this State, in almost every case a very considerable part of the skeleton of each animal proved to be in a greater or less condition of decay. The remains have always been discovered in marshes, ponds, or other miry places, indicating, at once, the cause of the death of the animal and the reason of the preservation of the bones from decay. Spots of ground in this condition are found at the summit of the glacial drift or in "old beds" of rivers which have adopted a shorter route and lower level, consequently their date does not reach beyond the most recent changes of the earth's surface; in fact, their existence was so late that the only query is, Why did they become extinct?

A skeleton was discovered in excavating the bed of the canal a few miles north of Covington, Fountain county, bedded in wet peat. The teeth were in good preservation, and Mr. Perrin Kent states that when the large bones were cut open the marrow, still preserved, was utilized by the bog cutters to "grease" their boots, and that chunks of sperm-like substance, 2½ to 3 inches in diameter (adipocere) occupied the place of the kidney fat of the monster. During the past summer of 1880 an almost complete skeleton of a mastodon was found six miles north west from Hoopston, Iroquois county, Ill., which goes far to settle definitely that it was not only a recent animal, but that it survived until the life and vegetation of to-day prevailed. the tusks formed each a full quarter of a circle, were 9 feet long, 22 inches in circumference at the base, and in their water-soaked condition weighed 175 pounds. The lower jaw was well preserved, with a full set of magnificent teeth, and is nearly three feet long. The teeth, as usual, were thickly enameled, and weighed each from 4 to 5 pounds. The leg bones, when joined at the knee, made a total length of 5½ feet, indicating that the animal was no less than 11 feet high, and 15 to 16 feet from brow to rump. On inspecting the remains closely a mass of fibrous, bark-like material was found between the ribs, filling the place of the animal's stomach; when carefully seperated, it proved to be a crushed mass of herbs and grasses, similar to those which still grow in the vicinity. In the same bed of miry clay a multitude of small fresh water and land shells were observed and collected which were kindly determined by Dr. F. Stein, as follows:—

1. Pisidium, closely resembling P. abditum, Haldeman. 2. Valvata tricarinata, Say. 3. Valvata, resembling V. striata. 4. Planorbis parvus, Say.

The shell bearing animals prevailed all over the States of Illinois, Indiana, and parts of Mich., and show conclusively that however other conditions may differ, the animal and vegetable life, and consequently climate, are the same now as when this matsedon sank in his grave of mire and clay.—Clinton (Wis.) Herald.

Use of Lemons.

For all people, in sickness or in health, lemonade is a safe drink. It corrects biliousness. It is a specific against worms and skin complaints. The pipins, crushed, may also be mixed with water and sugar, and used as a drink. Lemon juice is the best anti-scorbutic remedy known. It not only cures the disease, but prevents it. Sailors make a daily use of it for this purpose. A physician suggests rubbing the gums daily with lemon juice to keep them in health. The hands and nails are also kept clean, white, soft and supple by the daily use of lemon instead of soap. It also prevents chilblains. Lemon is used in intermitten fever mixed with strong, hot black tea or coffee without sugar. Neuralgia may be cured by rubbing the part affected with a lemon. It is valuable, also, to cure warts, and to destroy dandruff on the head, by rubbing the roots of the hair with it.

A GOOD NAME.—We once visited a public school. At recess a little fellow came up and spoke to the teacher. As he turned to go down the platform the master said: "This is a boy I can trust." We followed him with our eye and looked at him when he took his seat after recess. He had a fine, open, manly face. We thought a good deal about the master's remark. What a character had that boy earned. He had already gotten what would be worth more to him than a fortune. It would be a passport into the best store in the city, and, what is better, into the confidence and respect of the whole community. We wonder if the boys know, how soon they are rated by other people. Every boy in the neighborhood is known and opinions are formed of him; he has a character, either favorable or unfavorable. A boy of whom the master can say: "I can trust him, he never failed me," will never want employment. The fidelity, promptness and industry which he shows in school are in demand and prized everywhere. He who is faithful in little will be faithful in much.

A lad named Ernest Stover, of North Bixton, attempted to run a race ahead of a locomotive the other day, and was dreadfully mangled by the engine, which pitched him across the ditch. He was instantly killed.

A young lady, daughter of the late Donald and Mrs. Taylor, Belmont, committed suicide on Thursday by taking strychnine. She had been married only a few months to Mr. Joseph Moore. Family trouble is supposed to have been the cause.

Irish Wit.

An invalid gentleman confined to his room, sent his servant, an Irishman, to see what hour it was by the sun-dial, which was fastened to a post in the garden. The man was not very long gone before he entered the apartment somewhat excited, with the sun-dial in his hand, saying: "Here, sir; pray look at it yourself, for it mystifies me all over."

Travellers complain perhaps more than most people. An exceedingly fat gentleman had to travel by coach from Macon in France, and requiring more room than an ordinary passenger, sent his servant to book two places and pay for them. When he went to the office the next day to take his place, he found one seat had deen booked inside and one out.

It is sometimes much easier to give an order than to see it executed, as an Irish seargent once discovered. "Attention, company," said he in a stentorian voice, "and 'tend to your roll-call. All of ye that are presint, say 'Here,' and all of ye that are not presint, say 'Absent.'"

A loving wish, but not likely to be duly appreciated after a moment's thought, was that made in answer to the son of a fond father, who, when going to war, promised to bring home the head of an enemy, "I should be glad," quoth the parent, "to see you come home without a head provided you come safe."

The late Lord Landsdown used to relate that when, after Turner the painter's death, he went to the artist's house on a foggy morning, in the hope of getting a peep at his reserved works, the old woman in charge, looking up through the area railings, took him for the cat's meat man, and bawling up, told him he "needn't come again, as the cat had died the day before."

A pretty good story is related of one of Governor Tilton's staff. It is said that when the individual referred to first presented himself en militaire to his wife and little daughter, the latter, after gazing at him for a few minutes, turned to her mother, and exclaimed, "Why, ma, that's not a real soldier—it's pa!"

A Tiflis dispatch says: A conflict occurred at Kouba between 70 prisoners and the military guards. Over 25 men were killed or wounded, and 30 prisoners escaped, carrying off rifles.

The growth of Winnepeg is something astonishing. Last year the assessment amounted to $4,008,470. This year it is $9,039,036. We know of no city in America which has thus more than doubled in one year.

Farmersville was the seen of a fatal runaway on Saturday, June 4. A boy named David Parish was driving the team of Mr. Irwin White, when they ran away and upset the waggon. The lad's skull was smashed, and instant death was the result.

A gentlemen saw an old Highlander one day fishing with a bent pin. He said to the man, "Fish will never be caught with that." "Aye, they will," the man replied. "if they'll only take it into their heads."

A person overheard two countrymen, who were observing a naturalist in the field collecting insects, say one to the other: "What's that fellow doing, John?" "Why he's a naturalist." "What's that?" "Why one who catches gnats, to be sure!"

A young man in a dentist's chair in Waterbury, Conn., fancied he was riding a bicycle, and forthwith striking out with great vigor, put each foot through a pane of glass in the window before him. And yet, he felt no pane,—Richmond (Va.) Baton.

IF YOU are suffering with a cold do not fail to try HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM; it is daily relieving its hundreds throughout our Dominion. It is pleasant and palatable.—b168.

At a military dinner, in Ireland, the following was on the toast-list: "May the man who has lost one eye in the glorious service of his beloved country, never see distress with the other." But the person whose duty it was to read the toast, accidentally omitted the important word "distress," which completely changed the sentiment, and caused no end of merriment by the blunder.

The most miserobl man in the world is the dyspeptic, and dyspepsia is one of the most troublesome difficulties to remove. Burdock Blood Bitters always conquer it. It stimulates the secretions, regulates the bowels, acts upon the Liver, aids digestion, and tones up the entire system. Trial Bottles 10 Cents, Large Bottles $1.00.—b168.

A worthy old farmer who thoroughly detested taxes and tax-gatherers, was once called on by a collector a second time for taxes he had once paid, but for which he had mislaid the receipt; and as he told the story to his friend, "Would you believe it, sir, the fellow began to abuse me?" "Well," said his friend, "what did you do?" "Do! why I remonstrated with him." "And to what effect?" "Well, I don't know to what effect, but the poker was bent!"

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, make it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used to never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

Three steamboat captains were arrested at New York on Wednesday for overcrowding their vessels with passengers. This enforcement of a law heretofore partically ignored is one of the fruits of the London disaster.

Amsterdam, by the latest census, has a Jewish population of over 40,000. In that city, as, indeed, in the whole of Holland, the Jews have fared well. There they found an asylum, when in most other parts of Europe they had not a resting place, and there they have remained, prospered and multiplied.

Do not drug the system with nauseous purgatives that only debilitate. Burdock Blood Bitters is nature's own Cathartic, it acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver, and the Kidneys, arousing all the secretions to a healthy action. It purifies the Blood and cures all Humors, even the worst of Scrofula, and tones up the Nervous and Debilitated.—b168.

The Fenians have made a determined attempt to blow up the Town Hall at Liverpool. Two of the persons party to the outrage have been arrested, and their connection with the Fenian organization incontestably proven by documents found in their possession. Reader have you tried every remedy for Chronic disease, Impure Blood, disordered Liver or Kidneys, Nervous and General Debility, Constipation of the Bowels, with the manifold sufferings pertaining thereto?
