Goddess of Song! in whose honor Bowleviers fair and the brave, Look down to the foot of yer slave! Look down on yer Paddy, bewildhered-With postry brimmin' his sowl; And tache him to handle his verses. And give thim a musical rowl! ind you, great Appollo, whose singin' eluthered the nymphs of the strame Till widout any clethes but their blushes

They crept to your feet in a dhrame! Look down, ob. ye gods, on your Paddy His sowl wid your janfus inspire. And if its intirely convanyiens, Oh give him the loan of yer lyre! Bo'd sing as he ne'er sang before, Since first be weve music and thought into words by the wonderful magic Dour spirit, not Paddy's had wrought! Oh, brathe on yer slave but a minnit, As be tells of the feelins that stir him And puts into nate little verses The love that he has fer old Durham!

The North, on whose cloud kissin' summits The snow-wreath rests all the year round, Whose valleys are fertile as Ayden Ere Adam and Eve got aground : The South, on whose slope the banana

Grows ripe with the glad golden corn, Where the sheep that strayed from the shephe Were so fearfully, fearfully shorn! The East, land of pilgrims and prachers. Of janius that blossoms in books, Providers of mental provision

Of which half the world are the cooks The West, land of "booms" and of prairies, Of cities that rise in the night, Like palaces built by the fairies, Of which the bold pagans did write

All these, to a town in Grey Connty-With memories so sunny and bright-Can not hold the glim of a candle. Or a blaze of old Edison's light! The hearts Paddy loves there are holden Where the Saugsen is sparkling in light Recollections of hours that were golden

Still hover around him in sight! He has not forgotten the daisies-The lasses, of course Paddy manes-Young ladies, with health-painted faces. And younger ones, still in their teens! Och! could be forget the swate darlints.

That set his rough heart all affame Sure they haunt him and chase him foriver Like the ghost of some beautiful dhrame; And the bhoys-he rembers so well-that, (The jolly and joke-lovin' crew, blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sus-taining elements. It is the purest, safest, and most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The scioduced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Bolls, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Balt Rheum, Scald-head, Ring-worm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions, promotes energy and strength, restores and preserves health, and infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disblood need despair who will give AVER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial.

It is folly to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, of cheap materials, and without medicinal virtues, offered as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a medicine of such concentrated curative power, that it power, that it is by far the best, chenpest, and most reliable blood-purifier known. Physicians know its composition, and prescribe it. It has been widely used for forty years, and has won the unqualified confi-
