Do We Pay Tithes P

Mr. EDITOR, -This question is discusse so extravagent in its views, and so slashing J. A. A. Kelly, 470, Durham, Gold Med. in its denunciations, that I deem it well to present another view of the subject therein

> The whole matter of tithes, we may fair ly assume, was never intended to be a par of the Christian system of doctrine or practice. The new Testament clearly ordains that they who preach the gospel shall live by the gospel, and the manner of contril uting to this ol ject is, for each to lay by weekly a portion of his income, as the Lord hath prospered him. This may be one-fifth, or one-tenth, or less, or more than either of these ratios, according to the best enlightened judgement of the individual himself. There is this fair inference, superior advantages of Gospel truth.
