strength of his army is variously estimated; but at any rate it is stronger than first accounts led us to suppose. One account places his strength at four regiments of infantry (1,500 regulars), one regiment of cavalry (with 800 horses), 36 Krupp guns, and 12 mitrailleurs. Two deserting officers from his forces have taken refuge in Cairo, and claim that he has eight regiments of infantry, four batteries of artillery, and one of mitrailleurs.

AFFAIRS IN ALEXANDRIA.
Although it is gratifying that the first reports of the second massacre and the burning of the city are scarcely borne out upon close investigation, yet the reality is bad enough. Long lines of streets are still burning; clouds of dense smoke envelop the city; corpses of slain Europeans, including many women, are floating about in the harbour; thousands of persons are homeless and starving; and refugees who have been hiding in the dismantled forts or in the ruins of the pillaged houses, continue to be found on all hands. To prevent a pestilence large bodies of men are employed in burying the dead with every possible despatch. The Khedive is taking, under the advice of Admiral Seymour, steps to re-establish order, and will immediately issue a proclamation declaring the city to be under martial law. All enforcement of martial law is under his name, and the British authorities act in his behalf.

The grain market has been reopened to meet the demands of local consumption, and the ordinary inhabitants are being invited and encouraged to resume their normal occupations. The English sailors flogged ten Arabs who had been guilty of committing arson and pillage; and five men publicly shot. Four were guilty of murder, and one was a spy. A few ventur-some Arabs are still firing houses in secluded parts of the city; but such fires are soon suppressed. Last night a foray of Bedouins into the city took place, and a number of loyal Egyptian soldiers were killed. The Bedouins were repulsed. The American marines were cordially co-operating with our sailors in maintaining order, and appear to be the only other power that is disposed to do more than play.

Alexandria, July 18.—Plenty of mules have also been landed. The English force is thus ready to move at a moment's notice.

The "Northumberland" with 700, the "Tamar" with 91 marines, and the "Salmon" and "Agincourt" have arrived. The marines will land at the Gabari Fort, and the two regiments of the Ramleh Palace.

OUTSIDE ALEXANDRIA.
Port Said, July 17.—Arabi Pasha is said to be only fifteen miles from this place.
He is also said to have some troops near Suez and close to Ismailia. An immense number of refugees are here. Many more women and children are expected. The sturdy Europeans are imperfectly armed with revolvers and sporting guns. They fear they will be attacked by a large force of Bedouins, who, it is stated, are assembling in the desert. There are also 1,500 Arabs at Port Said, six miles hence, throwing up earthworks. Three British, four French, and two Italian men-of-war and one Spanish war ship are in the harbour. The Governor is loyal to the Khedive, and the Egyptian Colonel, who commands 250 men, is suspected of disloyal-ty.

Alexandria, July 17.—Bad news comes from the interior, the details of which are very meagre. The anti-European fanat-ism is awakening all round, and murder is the result. Refugees from Cairo report that a Holy War is being proclaimed and that the Europeans are being massacred in Tante, Mansoura, and Zagazig, where a consul has been killed.

The ironclads "Minotaur", "Sultan", and "Temeraire" have arrived off Aboukir to prevent Arabi Pasha cutting the Canal dikes. A white flag was hoisted directly the ships appeared. It is said that Arabi Pasha has appointed Ali Femi, the notorious Anglophobe, to command the force intended to look after the Suez Canal. His intentions are evident.

SCENES IN CAIRO.
Cairo, July 17.—Seven hundred and fifty Europeans, mostly Italians, with the Italian Consul and an escort of forty soldiers left here on Saturday. The German residents and the German Consul left on Friday. Both parties have arrived safely at Ismailia.

Anarchy prevails in the provinces. It is reported that eighty Europeans have been massacred at Martah.

London, July 18.—There is a temporary lull even in the tide of rumours, but none in the warlike preparations, unless, perhaps, a report that the Government has informed shipowners that it will not require to hire any more transports. But the Government fleet of transports at present in England is already large enough to carry over an army of 200,000 men, including cavalry and exclusive of stores, siege guns, horses and ammunition. The war ships now at Gibraltar, Malta, and Cyprus will be utilized to carry the infantry and engineer companies now at these stations to their various destinations in Egypt. The troops en route from Cyprus and those still to leave that island are four companies of the first Battalion Royal Scots Regiment (late 35th Foot) with a detachment of the Royal Engineers. These will be brigaded with the Naval Brigade at Port Said, and will look after the galleys and the field artillery. From Malta the regiments ordered are the first Battalion Lothian Regiment (late first Royal Scots), the 1st Battalion South Staffords Regiment (late 38th Foot) 1st Battalion Gordon Highlanders (late 75th Foot) 2nd Battalion Manchester Regiment (late 60th Foot), 3rd Battalion King's Royal Rifle Corps (late 60th rifles), and the 17th Company Royal Engineers.
This contingent is under the command of Major-General the Hon. Percy R. Basil Fielding, C. B., now commanding a brigade at Malta. Sir Garnet Wolseley will be in command, and Sir Evelyn Wood as his Chief of Staff, an important command being also intended for Colonel Reivers H. Buller, V. C., C. B. C. M. G. of South African force.

Alexandria, July 18, noon.—For the first time since the bombardment began we have passed a quiet night—that is to say, quiet by comparison. Of course there have been Arabs and mounted Egipt-ians arrested for plundering and a little pistol firing. But there has been no alarm from without, and no fear of any serious disturbance from inside the walls. Fears, however, are chiefly for Cairo, on which Arabi is said to be retreating. The Government of that city is loyal, but the troops are not all depended on, and there is an ugly spirit at work. Several intellectual stimulants have been made to fire the town, the Europeans are not infrequently in-sulted.

gives entire satisfaction, and sales increasing plaint, Dyspepsia and Kidney complaints, in their worst form.—227.

An honest medicine is the noblest work of man, and we can assure our readers that Dr.
Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only reliable, but is almost infallible to cure Cholera, Malaria, Dysentery, Canker of the Stomach and bowels, and the various summer complaints are often sudden and fatal.—227.

I. F. Smith, Druggist of Danville, under date of June 1st, writes of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, "It sells immense in fact has the largest sale during the summer months of any patent medicine in stock" and he adds that he can heartily recommend it to the public. The above named remedy is nature's grand cure for Cholera, Dysentery and all summer complaints.—227.

The whole population of Egypt, including her great Soudan Provinces, is estimated at about seventeen millions of people. A European estimate of Lower Egypt places the population at about two millions of whom 1,750,000 were Moslem Egyptians (peasants, and townsmen), 1-150,000 Copts or Christian Egyptians, who are the purest and of the most ancient race, and 10,000 Turks, principally noblemen and upper classes, and 70,000 Arabs, the remainder being mostly Greeks and Armenians.

ing like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all
