Six Kicking Mules.

AN OCCURRENCE IN GUATEMALA

A Standard reporter a few days ago heard the following story from the lips of a well known citizen: "While in Guatemala recently I was travelling from Esquintla to the capital city over one of the most rugged and villainous roads to be found probably the wide world over. On nearing the summit of a high range of hills, where a turn of the road revealed an immense ravine or chasm some 500 feet deep, I overtook a Mexican riding a mule with a string of five more attached to the leader. The custom of leading mules in that country is as follows: Their tails are tied in knots, with a bunch of grass or cornstalk leaves fastened to each as a bait. A strip of cowhide is firmly tied from the tail of the leading mule around the neck of the one following, and so on to the last. The rider mounts the leader and urges him on by a vigorous application of whip and spur, the baited tails enticing the rest to follow.

"The leading mule stumbled over a boulder, the rider commenced to yell, whip and spur. This unlooked for indignity made the mule lash out, reaching the head of No. 2 with a terrible whack. He, aroused and insulted, did likewise, with the result to No. 3, who followed suit on to No. 4. Ditto from 4 to 5 and 5 to 6, only being last had to kick at vacancy. How there were six mules all kicking behind, as mules never kicked before. The Mexican swore, spurred and whipped to its utmost. It was soon evident they were kicking down the hill with the sheer force of kicking. It was the most ludicrous sight I ever saw. I expected every moment something would give way, but rider, mules, tails and cowhide held together.

At last the edge of the precipice was reached by the hind mule, who tumbled over, dragging the next after him—still kicking. He pulled the one preceding over, and soon until the first was reached—all still kicking. Looking down the ravine, I could dimly discern the mass of mulosity, all in a heap, still kickin', and, for aught I know are still kicking there to this day, as a Guatemala mule never tires of kicking."—Portland (Oregon) Standard.

A Big Investment.

G. M. Everest, of Forest, states that Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam still holds its own amongst the many common remedies in the market. He says that he has sold it for nearly sixteen years and the sales are steadily increasing. One family has purchased over 50 bottles for various members and friends. c244

Heavy rains have caused great floods in England, and in certain parts traffic has been carried on in boats. The rains have also prevented the sowing of autumn wheat. Sheep rot has also appeared.

About one third of this sum is contributed by American. The aggregate of all that is contributed yearly by American Churches for all their benevolent and educational institutions is estimated at $7,000,000. But all this how small in comparison with what is wasted. It is estimated that the people of this country spend annually $900,000,000 for intoxicating drinks; 7,000,000 in New York City alone for theatrical and other amusements; $80,000,000 is paid yearly to the United States for tobacco.

The geological investigations made by Baron von Richthofen in China show the existence of vast coal districts in the west and north-west. The whole surface of northern China is covered by rich yellow earth, to a depth of 1,000 and 2,000 feet, which overlies all the coal fields; and the great plain of China is bordered on the west by a vast lime stone wall, 2,000 to 8,000 feet high, on the top of which extends a plateau of coal in a superior state of preservation, owing to its capping of hard lime stone, which has resisted denudation. There are over 30,000 square miles of coal-bearing ground of the best quality, in which the coal beds lie perfectly horizontal, thirty feet thick, for a length of 200 miles. According to this authority, these coal beds were deposited primarily around mountains of metamorphic and primary rocks, which then constituted the land, and have lain horizontally and undisturbed ever since.

A. Chard, of Sterlington, in a recent letter, states that he met with an accident some time ago, by which one of his knees was severely injured. A few applications of Hagyards Yellow Oil afforded immediate and complete relief. c244

The elevated roads in New York are being painted, pillars, ties and stations. The entire track is about 50 miles in length, and 100 tons of paint have been used. This is said to be the greatest job in painting in the world.

A Secret.

The secret of beauty lies in pure blood and good health, without the one the other is impossible. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand key that unlocks the secretions and opens the avenue to health by purifying and regulating all the organs to proper action. It cures all scrofulous diseases, acts on the blood, liver, kidneys, skin and bowels, and brings the bloom of health to the pallid cheek. c244

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair

The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
