The REVIEW will be the monthpiece of no clique, but will continue to support Liberal principles. It will endeavor to deal with public questions in a manner freed from any partizan considerations. It will strive to be, above all, a well conducted local paper, which will reflect the best aspects of the community, and whose aim will be to promote the best interests of this town and surrounding country.

We are aware that to be and to do all this requires effort, effort on our part, and on the part of our readers. As for ourselves, it is well known to many supporters of the REVIEW, that we bring with us a practical knowledge of the business, and are thus returning to a first love. Moreover a residence and active life in South Grey for over 20 years has given us a tolerably fair idea of the community and its wants. We will endeavor to utilize these qualifications with all the wisdom and energy we are possessed of, and would bespeak from all present or past friends of the REVIEW, either Subscribers or Advertisers, a continuance of their favors and their in
