EXCHANGE ECHOES.

In the new Ontario Legislature; barring protests, the members are divided as to occupations as follows:—Farmers, 43; lawyers, 18; merchants, 9; doctors, 6; lumbermen, 7; journalists, 5, cattle drover, miner, marble worker, banker, foundryman, tanner, one each.

There was a meeting in Arthur on Saturday of the Patrons of North Wellington to choose a candidate to represent them at the Dominion Parliament, but on account of the small attendance no choice was made. Another meeting will be held in the fall.—Rep.

Many people are unaware of the fact that letters for England weighing more than half an ounce will be charged extra postage at their destination. This is owing to the regulation in the old country making the maximum one half ounce instead of an ounce as here.

A little item in a newspaper may sometimes make a man an enemy to the paper for life, but it won't stop him reading it. It merely changes him from a subscriber to a borrower. Every publisher can recall the names of many citizens who came under this head.

The S. O. S. intend holding their first annual Scottish game about the end of the month, when a large amount of money will be offered for competition in prizes. Efforts are being made to secure the best attractions, among which are the famous Piper Band of the 48th Highlanders. Further particulars next week.—Mt. Forest Confederate.

Now in Neustadt.—Mr. August Lang has resigned his situation in Benson Bros. general store here and left last week for his old home at Neustadt where he, with his brother, opens this week a general store. Mr. Lang is a steady young man, made many friends during his stay of some ten months in Markdale and was highly respected by his employers. The "Standard" wishes him success in his new venture.

A pathetic story that comes from China gives an illustration of how medical missions prepare the way for the advance of Christianity. A military graduate was successfully treated for a cataract at the mission hospital in Hankow. As he returned to his home, forty-eight other blind men gathered about him and begged, him to lead them to the wonderful foreign doctor. So this strange procession of blind men, each holding on to the other's rope, walked for 250 miles to Hankow, and nearly all were cured.

These are days of great canal schemes. We have now in Canada a water-way from the ocean to Port Arthur by the great lakes and another in contemplation by way of Ottawa river. In the West a scheme has been evolved which will equal either of these. It is proposed by a series of canals to connect the Saskatchewan, the Qu'Appelle, and the Red rivers, and thereby open water communication between Winnipeg, Calgary, Prince Albert, and in fact, all important points of the Territories. It is easy to plan canals, but it is another matter to get the money to pay for digging them.

Wants a High School.—The good people of Chesley having failed in their efforts to get a Division Court with its legal trappings are now advocating a High School. The editor of the Enterprise has a lengthy article in last issue in which the claims of the village are set forth. According to the figures given the village suffers a loss yearly of $4000 by having to send its students to outside High Schools. He comes to the conclusion, however, that the prospect of getting his wish gratified is not a very bright one, and as an alternative he advocates engaging another teacher, and in this way allow the principal to devote his time to P. S. Leaving. Primary and Junior Matriculation.—Bruce Herald.

Biggest man in Canada.—Mr. Leonard Whitton, of Brighton, Ont., without doubt, the largest man in the Dominion passed through Meaford lately. He came by train and left the same evening per steamer Midland. He was certainly a sight to see, as he could not get inside the buss he came down town on the express van, and passed into the Royal hotel. The only person in Meaford who had any personal acquaintance with the big man was Mr. Knox, watchmaker for Mr. Corley, from whom we obtained the following particulars:—Mr. Whitton's present weight is 716 pounds, which is 29 pounds less than he weighed some time ago. He measures around shoulders, 5 feet, 8 inches; around chest, 5 feet, 3 inches; thigh, 4 feet; calf of leg, 2 feet, 1 inch; head at temples, 2 feet, 4 inches.—Meaford Monitor.

We consider our worthy M. P. deserves to rank as a Patron of Industry after the experience he had on his farm one day the past week. On that day one of his mares gave birth to a colt, the foal unfortunately being deposited in the water of the river which runs across the farm. Seeing that the colt was likely to perish unless helped, our M. P., no doubt feeling that the price of horses might improve, very correctly stripped off, and entering the water bore the young horse in safety to dry land. In the meantime the excited mother of the colt was tramping along the muddy bank and in her anxiety for the welfare of her offspring, doubtless never noticed that she was tramping the beauty out of the M. P's white vest and other clothes. It is needless to say he noticed the fact and we venture to say would not like to have had many of his brethren in the House of Commons see the pickle he was in. The colt that cost him so much trouble to save has since, we understand, very ungratefully gone and broken its leg.—Mt. Forest Rep.

LIMITATIONS.

God made the lark for flights of song
Ascending clear to cloudlands' edges;
The sparrow's note to float along
Among the orchards and the hedges;
For poets, too, God sets the mark,
Their sphere of song makes wide or narrow:
Some seek the sky as does the lark,
Some cling to earth as clings the sparrow.

Charles S. O'Neill, in Aug. Donahoe's.

Investigation Invited.—Of course it is proper to inquire about what any man says, Is it true? The most rigid investigation is invited into the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Special attention is called to the high character of the persons whose testimonials are published by the proprietors of this medicine, as evidenced by their occupations or indorsements. In fact, no matter where a testimonial in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla may be from, it is reliable and as worthy of confidence as if it came from your most trusted neighbor.

Mgr. Satolli's approval of Bishop Watterson's condemnation of the liquor dealers, and the refusal of the latter to grant episcopal approval to Catholic societies that admit members of the trade to their membership, has awakened the resentment of men in the business belonging to that church, even in dioceses outside the jurisdiction of Bishop Watterson. Liquor dealers in New York who were interviewed with respect to the decision were quite outspoken, the general declaration being that they would rather leave the church than leave the counter. Another statement common to nearly all was that saloon keepers were generous contributors to church funds.

A sum of no less than $1,000,000 is to be appropriated by the United States Senate for the purpose of destroying root and branch the Russian thistle in North Dakota. Probably no noxious weed has ever provoked such vigorous opposition, and it is apparently the policy of the legislators to exterminate it at any cost. Amendments to include the cockle burr, Canadian thistle, cocoa grass and other varieties of grass were voted down, it being the apparent purpose of a majority of the Senators to permit the Government to tackle only the Russian thistle at present. We have some interest in the matter, for there is some danger of an invasion of the Canadian west by this objectionable Russian weed. It has already been discovered in Manitoba.

Some persons are inclined to regard the proposal to place a special tax on bachelors as a species of humorous hot weather proposition, of which we will hear no more when a cooler season and calmer thought prevail. But the advocates of the scheme are dead in earnest, and if they have their way will drive all unaffiliated males either to taxpaying or matrimony. The Mayor of Ottawa has a a good deal to answer for, since he it was who started the discussion. If his idea prevails, every unmarried man at the capital will be compelled to buy a tag or go to gaol.

The Rev. B. Fay Mills who made a considerable stir in Montreal a short time ago, undertook to supply Talmage's congregation during his absence, but gave up the attempt in three weeks. The failure of Mr. Mills in Brooklyn and the very indifferent success that attended the efforts of Moody as a pastor in Chicago might teach the average evangelist to be a little more modest, or perhaps we should say a little less patronising and censorious in speaking of and to pastors. If men like Moody and Mills cannot work a congregation how long would an ordinary evangelist keep one together.—Canada Presbyterian.

The following is an extract from the account of the fire in Markdale given in the 'Standard' of last week:—

The saw mill and cheese box factory (the building in which the fire originated) was rapidly reduced to ashes, then came the strip shed then the office, then the veneer factory, and then a building at the rear which contained stock and machinery. The next was a large store house and basket factory which was filled to the top with veneer and fruit basket. The whole force was directed to saving this building. The wind blew straight towards it and the heat was almost sufficient to roast men alive, yet a number took their lives in their hands, mounted the roof and fought with determination, saving the building and staying the further progress of the hungry monster. Had this building been burned it would have been utterly impossible to have saved Hill's planing factory or Henry's tannery, while the elevators could not have been rescued, and the tremendous volcano of fiery cinders which a stack of dry veneer would have sent broadcast would almost certainly have swept the village out of existence.

The Canada Farmers' Sun has the following sensible article on the importation of London street waifs into this country: Canada has enough waifs in her cities and towns already without importing others, but the Dominion Government has just promised another $200,000 for emigration purposes. Dr. Barnardo's slum children have ruined many Canadian homes. Their association contaminates many innocent boys and girls in the country. They are a recognized pest, yet they are still brought here; nay, more, we pay to have then come. There are thousands of boys and girls in our cities in need of homes in the country, and there are thousands of homes in the country who need good boys and girls. The supply is equal to the demand, maybe it is greater and something should be done to bring would-be employers on the farms and the army of idle children in the cities more closely together. Meantime the Dominion grants to aid in bringing foreign waifs to Canada must not be continued.

Mr. Himman Johnston has purchased a new Separator, manufactured by the Massey and Sawyer Co. He is an experienced thresher, and with the assistance of his energetic engineer J. Robinson he will no doubt break the record in fast threshing. He made a start on Tuesday at the barn of Mr. Alex. Beggs.

English Spavin Liniment removes all Hard, Soft or Calloused Lumps and Blemishes from horses, Blood Spavins, Curbs, Splints, Sweeney, Ring-Bone, Stifles, Sprains, all Swollen Throats, Coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one bottle. Warranted by McFarlane & Co.

Dealer—'Here is a bicycle for $150.' Customer—'Fine wheel! Beautiful! A triumph of art, I must say. Wish I could afford to pay that much, but I can't.' 'Well, I'll let you have it for $50. 'Eh? Only $50? Why didn't you say that at once?' 'Because, if I had, you would have said it was a miserably made machine, not worth taking home.

Frances Willard attributes her gain in health and weight to the fact that they made her eat five meals a day in England, and hearty meals at that. There is a growing belief that the "food cure," properly administered is more efficacious than medicine in rebuilding shattered constitutions and toning up weak nerves. It was advocated in this country a few years ago by a celebrated Philadelphia specialist in nervous diseases. Miss Willard weighs 142 pounds now, though she was "almost a skeleton" two years ago.

Lord Wolseley, who was recently in specting troops in Belfast Garrison, has, in reply to an invitation to address a local soldiers' Good Templar Lodge, written expressing sympathy with the movement. His Lordship adds: 'There are yet some great battles to be fought, some, very great enemies to be encountered by the United Kingdom, but the most pressing enemy at present is drink. I am very glad, however, to say we have now but little drunkenness in the army; less indeed, of it in our ranks than in any other class of Her Majesty's subjects. To this fact I consider we owe much of the improvement in every respect that has been steadily going on amongst us for the past twenty years.'

South American Medicine Co.

Gentlemen: I received a letter from you May 27th, stating that you had heard of my wonderful recovery from a spell of sickness of six years duration, through the use of South American Nervine, and asking for my testimonial. I was near thirty-five years old when I took down with nervous prostration. Our family physician treated me, but without benefitting me in the least. My nervous system seemed to be entirely shattered, and I constantly had very severe shaking spells. In addition to this I would have vomiting spells. During the years I lay sick, my folks had an eminent physician from Dayton, Ohio, and two from Columbus, Ohio, to come and examine me. They all said I could not live. I got to having spells like spasms, and would lie cold and stiff for a time after each. At last I lost the use of my body—could not rise from my bed to walk a step, and had to be lifted like a child. Part of the time I could read a little, and one day saw an advertisement of your medicine and concluded to try one bottle. By the time I had taken one and one-half bottles I could rise up and take a step or two by being helped, and after I had taken five bottles in all I felt real well. The shaking went away gradually, and I could eat and sleep good, and my friends could scarcely believe it was I. I am sure this medicine is the best in the world. I belive it saved my life. I give my name and address, so that if anyone doubts my statement they can write me, or our postmaster or any citizen, as all are acquainted with my case. I am now forty-one years of age, and expect to live as long as the Lord has use for me and do all the good I can in helping the suffering.

Newspaper Laws.

We call the special attention of masters and subscriber to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. If any person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payments are made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

2. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for the pay.

3. If a subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he gets.
