We have had our attention called to the disparaging remarks Mr. Day in the Hopeville correspondence, Oct. 4th. We apologise to Mr. Day for the appearance of remarks calculated to injure his reputation. We are only too willing to retract anything of that nature, and have pleasure in doing so now. We make room for a brief notice from our Hopeville correspondent. He relates the mysterious disappearance of an estimable and highly respected farmer, and a reference to the Rev. Mr. Allen, of F. Hill. He disappeared Friday morning last, and is believed to have been in the neighborhood of the late Walter Small, who has been seen by his neighbors. (Mr. McPhail has turned up all right.)

Rev. Mr. Jensen leaves next Monday on a lecturing tour through the cities and towns to the south of us. His subject is "Holland" and his object is a worthy one. He is a native of that land, and has spent some of his life in the study of the Bible, the headquarters of which is in England but having branches in Canada. Rev. Dr. Michelson, D. D., of Elora, is expected to occupy Mr. Jensen's pulpit.

While in Egrement last week we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Andrew Underdonk, the contractor who built some sections of the Canadian Pacific railway. This gentleman is a native of the United States, and has been in Canada for many years. He is a very successful contractor, and has built many fine buildings in his native land. He is now in Canada on business, and is expected to stay here for some time.

On Wednesday last week at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gray, Mr. William Matthews was united in marriage to Miss Mary Gray, one of the most estimable young ladies for miles around. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock and was attended by the Rev. Mr. Jensen, Mr. J. W. Mitchell and Miss Robena Watson, cousin of the bride, and other friends. The bride was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Lou Reynolds, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Gray and Miss Lou Reynolds. The wedding was a very nice one, and was attended by many friends. The Review extends best wishes to the young couple.

W. Taylor, the Sheffield Cutler will stay in Durham a short time longer. Scissors and knives ground and made as good as new. Saws filed and set, razors ground honed and set ready for shaving. Umbrellas and parasols neatly repaired. Have your knives hollow ground before I go away by latest improved machinery no better work done in Canada; the proprietor of this establishment is a thorough practical cutler and guarantees all work that is entrusted to him. If you want first class work come down direct to Workshop on Wheels opposite Midlough House, Lambton Street, Lower Town, Durham.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.—The annual meeting was better attended than usual, and the absence of the agent has not, therefore injured the Society. The President, Rev. Mr. Connor was the Chair and Bled it well. There was no dragging. His opening remarks were appropriate and related to the work of the Bible throughout the world. Rev. Mr. McGregor and Mr. Jensen also spoke. The former declared eloquently with the influence of "the Book" on the individual and the world, while the latter made a strong appeal to the individual and the world, while the latter made a strong appeal to the individual and the world.

PER CONTRA.

Our congratulations to our local correspondent in throwing off the shackles of partyism have not been received in a kindly spirit. This we regret. The matter and the manner of his reply show that he has made no progress in the paths of liberalism. If, indeed, he has started on the road at all, a large portion of the column he devotes to us in his last issue, is occupied with what is known among the vulgar as "muddlinging," and has led some to remark that the Chronicle was aiming to regain the appellation applied to it by an eminent legal light some years ago of "The Durham Smut Machine."

Muddlinging is no practice of true liberalism, and of course in this line we cannot follow him. But we must take the opportunity of pointing out where his credulity has been imposed upon, or where he has allowed his imagination to run riot.

It is not true, and Mr. M. should know it, that the Review is ruled by any set of politicians or worshippers any party bosses, nor has any attempt been made in our time by any party to shape its policy or editorial course.

It is not true that we were the right hand man of Rev. Mr. Straith, though one might well be worse in the Equal Rights agitation, and it is not true that these gentlemen "worried themselves, &c., in a very little blackhouse" on this or any other question.

It is not true that we once stated we would never vote for Doctor Landarkin, though without the rhetorical embellishments our friend gives us, that this intention would be honored in the breach than in the observance, and consequently, we did, when opportunity offered, vote for Dr. Landarkin and for those principles of public policy which he has consistently supported, and which now have virtually received the commendation of the Patrons.

So we might go on. It is true we were a patron, and the patron still, but we never proffered our services at any of our contemporary. We did attend the two patron meetings, one in Benwick, and one in Egrement, and discussed the financial and other aspects of the question, but we were invited to do so, and could do so still.

Again it is just as true that we wrote Mr. McNeil's address as that we wrote any of the campaign sheets, and that we wrote either as just as true as that we wrote the Chronicle of last week. Your insinuation Mr. Mitchell "that we would deny it anyway" is, we would like to think, quite unworthy of you.

Grison, Equal Rightism, Patronism, are virtually one and the same thing. The liberty of the subject is the foundation stone upon which all rests, and to one might refer to some of our leading men who are lights in the liberal party, who hold the principles of public policy underlying all these "isms," and at one and the same time.

But our friend has been so long in the "blackhouse," that as yet he fails to appreciate the beauty of the light even when groping after it. Naturalists tell us that the fish in the waters of the dark Kentucky cave have eyes, but do not see. Nature has taken away the function that had so long remained unused. And so with our contemporary.

Still the column we have referred to gives us some glimpsing of hope that if our contemporary's power of vision is not completely gone, and if his motives are pure, and his efforts to shake off the "shackles" sincere, then we may be able to assist him in his efforts, and Mr. Gordon will have abundant material for an interesting lecture.

FLESHERTON STATION. Died.—In Bertram, Texas, U. S. on Friday Nov. 26th, 1904, Mrs. Jessie Sinclair, widow of the deceased Mr. John Sinclair, aged 78 years. Mrs. Sinclair was a native of Durham, Ontario, and was a member of the Durham Baptist Church. She was a very kind and generous woman, and was beloved by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, Mr. John Sinclair, and her children, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sinclair, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sinclair. Her funeral will be held on Monday, Dec. 6th, at 10 o'clock, from the Durham Baptist Church. Interment in the Durham Baptist Cemetery.

EDGE HILL ECHOES. The Dealer has a few last week. The tax collector is on his rounds. Miss, Bussie is under the weather again. Mr. D. McFarlane has finished taking out his hair. Mr. A. K. is making preparations for building a house next summer. Miss Maggie Turnbull came home last week to attend her brother's wedding. Dan, Edge has let a job of cutting 200 cords of wood to the Benwickers. Mr. Wm. Connor held a well attended prayer meeting in the Grape Hill Tuesday night. Messrs. Wm. Mathews, and Theo. Ritchie, have each taken up themselves fine partners. We extend hearty congratulations to them. The municipal year is beginning to look a little better. We will not attempt to forecast the result as yet. We learn that our foreman deputy, never it to be so good as we have seen any one else applying for a job, but as the old ones there is no one else of sufficient class our friend Mr. Arvoe who, made his bid last week a year ago. Unless something unforeseen turns up, we will be able to announce the result of the election's early in January.

"When I was a Boy,"

Writes Postmaster J. C. WOODSON, Forest Hill, W. Va., "I had a bronchial cough of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary medicines, and advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take

A Bad Cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without its service this season.

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as a safe and really adopted in all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines, special study, and I am convinced that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminence over other medicines of the class."—Chas. Davenport, Dover, N. J.
