

CHRISTMAS NUMBER.

precious babies mocked him in a series of the most awful grins he had ever seen...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

The room was dimly light with Christmas lights. It was just as if some Christmas lamp had been lit right in the room...

Miss Nell had apparently refused to come to the party. It was not that she was afraid of the children...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

"RING-ROUND-A-ROSY"

MISS AGNES HUNTINGTON

Not looking down for a moment, then a bright smile broke over his face and he looked at Betty like his old jolly self...

Whoever put the things there or how they could be put there was a mystery which only grew greater as they tried to solve it...

For she did, dear me, yes, she did. Not any of Mr. Stevens's guests of that day...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

WILLIE KETTERUM AND HIS TROTTERING BONY

Will never hear outside of the jay's house. The guests were Molly Findley and her little brother Jamie...

Then he turned out of the door and bounded upstairs and thumped like mad on Mr. Stevens's door...

Mr. Stevens had evidently been afraid that Nell would come after him and had hurriedly locked the door...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

THE CHRISTMAS TREE. Why, to be sure. That's what I look for every Christmas. Now you can imagine the scene of the comedy he had heard in the dining-room...

THE STATUE

Vertical text on the left edge of the page, including fragments like 'the buy deter', 'for fear', 'prices', 'OWN', 'AM.', 'OVES', 'Prices', 'STONE', 'ystem', 'echnie', 'Custom-', 'he Cash', 'Cash or', 'Profits.', 'ers for', 'we are', 'system of', 'ECHNIE', 'verhaul-', 'Mills,', 'to do', 'work to', 'be public.', 'IALTY.', 'ON BROS.'