THE REVIEW

Durham, Dec. 27th, 1894.

—The new Ministry has been formed. The Hon. McKenzie Bowell becomes Premier, and leader of the Senate, while Mr. Foster assumes the leadership of the House of Commons. Sir C. H. Tupper takes the portfolio of minister of Justice, while a new man, Mr. Dickey, of Cumberland P. E. I., a nephew of Sir. C. H. Tupper, accepts the portfolio of Trade and Commerce. Sir Frank Smith, Dr. Montague, the redoubtable champion of ultra protection in Haldimand, and Hon. Donald Ferguson, are appointed to seats in the Cabinet without portfolios. The other ministers retain their old offices. The caliber of the Cabinet is essentially mediocre. There is no one among them of first magnitude or second or third. They are all trimmers and will set their sails to catch the passing breeze. A change of policy is out of the question with such a Cabinet. But a tinkering of the old policy will no doubt be attempted after the improved fashion of last session, and with an eye to the changed condition of parties in the country.

—Lord Jersey's report of the Intercolonial conference held at Ottawa a few days ago has been favorably received by the press, generally. It is regarded as a very able state paper, and making a new departure in colonial affairs and in the relation of the Mother Country to her Colonies. Lord Jersey strongly advocates freedom of intercourse in trade between the colonies, if arrangements can be effected for that purpose, between Great Britain and her dependencies. He does not see any reason to prevent the colonies adopting perferential duties between one another, although in the meantime, the existing commercial treaties between Great Britain and Germany and Belgium will prevent any preferential terms being adopted by the Mother Country towards the colonies. The great obstacle lying in the way and giving all the trouble is the vicious policy of protection adopted by some of the colonies, notably Canada and Australia. They have used their "power" in this line against the Mother Country, but, as the Daily News remarks, there has been no resentment among the British people. Young nations must learn wisdom, it adds, from experience, Protection never in the long run succeeds, and free trade in the long run fails.

While this report is discussed at home and abroad, a resolution has been laid on the table of the Senate of the United States, in the usual grandiloquent style so dear to our neighbors across the line, to the effect that a union of Canada and the United States is desirable, and inviting Canada to cast in her lot with brother Jonathan. She might do worse, but she expects to do much better.

Mr. Bowell has not begun well. A general depression in business prevails throughout the country. Hard times prevail generally. "The biggest deficit ever known in Canada" says the Montreal Witness on the authority of Dalton McCarthy and Sir Richard Cartwright will appear this season in the accounts. Still, the new government of Ottawa begins its work with seventy paid members as compared with seventy-one during Mr. McKenzie's administration. Here is the table given by our contemporary:

	Paid.	Not P'd
1874.—Mackenzie	13	1
1879.—MacDonald	14	1
1887.—MacDonald	15	2
1891.—Abbott	13	1
1892.—Thompson	15	2
1894.—Bowell	17	3

While this is the state of things in Canada, in the United States with a population of 62 millions there are only 8 Cabinet positions and in Great Britain with the needs of the whole British Empire to look after, there are but eighteen Cabinet ministers.

The pressure of public business cannot be the reason of a sudden an increase of ministers while the pressure of hard times requires the most rigid economy in the establishment in the public service. Recently Mr. Bowell has yielded to pressure from without and in this he seeks to strengthen his Government in the House of Commons. At the same time the new Minister of Justice, Sir C. H. Tupper, in view of the approaching election, seeks to strengthen the government in the country by bribing the manufacturers with the promise of high protective duties, and the constituencies with promises of harbours, docks, railways, tunnels, canals and other such public works as might suit the electorate. In all this the people will surely observe that although the personnel of the Government is somewhat changed the machine is to be run upon the old lines.

NEW TEACHERS.

The result of the Model School Examination will be found below. Twenty-four have been successful, and, while we regret the individual failures, we extend congratulations to the successful ones. We believe that in an adjoining county, eight have failed, in Owen Sound and Meaford also, there are two each, which goes to show that the examination has been of a more severe character than usual, as hitherto very few failures took place. This result will strengthen the hands of principals, and stimulate students in the future, as the danger of failure will be more apparent after this. The successful candidates are:—

Ina Paterson, M. Weir and A. Mackenzie, Durham; May Robson, Mary Delaney and Nellie McAssey, Traverston; Walter Nichol and Richard Watters, Priceville; Lizzie Dargavel, Dornoch; Thos. Collinson, Aberdeen; L. Henderson, M. Glazier and Jessie Miller, Yeaton; Tena MacQuarrie, Ventry; Mary Scott, Desmond; Maggie Wallace, Chesley; Jennie Treadgold, Lilyoak; Bella Skene, Dornoch; Agnes Meagher, Lauriston; Jennie Little, Hampden.

NORMANBY.

Municipal matters in Normanby are rapidly coming up to fever heat. Elections by acclamation having apparently run their course for some years at least in that fertile Tp.

Many of the intelligent ratepayers find fault with the personnel of the council of 1895 and 96, (Mr. B ythe excepted) for the following reasons:—

They lacked the courage to strike a rate sufficient to meet their liabilities and have a fair balance on hand, such as was in the hands of the Treasurer in the past years, large sums of money were borrowed to run the machine, and the back rest on those sums make up a formidable item, which the taxpayers have to meet.

Mr. Blythe with his usual courage has met the reverse and raised the taxes already high to level things up.

The increased Tp. rate for 1894 is no fault of Mr. Blythe's, but was forced on him by the condition of affairs as he found them. Messrs. Schenk, McPherson and Morice are the men who are responsible to the people for the wasteful extravagance of the last three years and the ratepayers are filled by better men who will devote themselves for pursuing a course of extravagance which the people do not approve of.

The Nominations are likely to embrace the following for the Municipal fatherhood of Normanby for 1895:—For Reeve, John Blythe, Dr. McLean, and Mr. Walden.

1st Deputy, G. H. Schenk E. Widmeyer, R. Watson, R. Morice, D. Extien, N. Rozell.

2nd Deputy, M. McPhee, W. Koenig, C. Fischer, P. Schauss.

Councillors.—Ed. Ryan, Jno. Black, Martin Ryan, Jas. Flynn, Mat Mearns, Henry Kraft.

We cannot say if all of the above names are really aspirants. When there are so many to choose from a good council will surely be chosen. A friend of the Editor will vote as under:—Reeve, J. Blyth; 1st Dep. R. Watson; N. Rozell; 2nd deputy, Fischer or Schauss; Councillor, Edward Ryan; Councillor, Henry Knight. What think you electors of Normanby? Would not this Council compare favorably with that of the present year.

THE REVIEW VS. CHRONICLE.

Editor Review:

SIR.—It is not my intention to mix up in the controversy now going on between the two papers, as to the past political opinions of the respective Editors, because, as a reader of both, I am only interested in your present opinions. The fact that you both have changed your opinions is simply an evidence that you are thinking men and that you are governed by reason and not by prejudice.

The newspaper business is similar to any other business, in so far as the money part is concerned, men run them with the primary object of making money out of them, and experienced business people admit, that it is bad policy to meddling an opponent. But whilst money is the primary object, yet the Press is a great instructor, either for good or evil according to the reading matter which it gives, so that on the press there rests great responsibilities. The young boy of to-day will be the man of the future and as the twig is bent so will the tree incline, so that it is the duty of the press to carefully guard and uphold that which is right. Now the question arises what is meant by right? Two persons may be conscientious, but may differ as to what may be right; simply, a difference of opinion. And this is where I wish to bring the respective Editors to. There are in Canadian Dominion politics, five parties, namely Liberal, Conservative, McCarthyite, Patrons of Industry and P. P. A., and men who class themselves as Independents. I would ask the respective papers to name the party each endorses and also to to give the reason for so doing, not forgetting to give us their views on the burning question of the day, the trade Policy. The year 1894 has introduced, practically, into our country, a new element in politics, the lodge-room system, what think you of it?

ELECTOR.

VICKERS.

Mr. Jos. Corbett, jr., has gone to Muskoka, where he will remain for the winter.

Mr. Wm. Calvert, who has been absent in the N. W. has returned home.

Mrs. Jno. Armstrong of Gravenhurst, Muskoka, spent several weeks recent y visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Corbett.

A Box Social, in aid of the Allan Park Brass Band will be held in the School House here on Friday Dec. 28th commencing at 7.30. Programme of music and song.

On Wednesday the 19 inst. at 3.30 p. m. a quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Andrew Livingstone, when Miss Christie Mills was united in marriage to the man of her choice, Mr. Henry Muir of Normanby. The bride was attended throughout the performance by Miss Lizzie Muir, while Mr. Thos. Livingstone acted as groomsman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Flagg. The happy couple left with the evening train to spend their honeymoon with friends in Berlin. We voice the sentiments of the community in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Muir a pleasant and prosperous journey through life.

The Patrons of Industry, of Hutton's Hill, held a very successful open meeting on Friday evening the 21st inst. The chair was occupied during the evening by Mr. R. Watson, jr., in his usual humorous manner. The programme was lengthy and exceedingly interesting. The speakers were Messrs. Allan, McNichol, Laidlaw, Gorsline, Putherbaugh, and Rev. Mr. Burns, of Corinth. Songs by Watson Bros. T. Milligan, Mr. Neil, Miss Jessie Dunsmore and others, also several dialogues which added much to the amusement of the evening. All went away highly pleased with the entertainment. Some were overheard tosay that it was the best concert they ever attended.

PRICEVILLE. (Historical)

Priceville was surveyed into town plots in the year 1851 by surveyor Price after whom the place was named. The original town plot was on Glenelg side of the Townline where there was at one time two hotels and one store. One was kept by John McCulough and the other by the late Donald McLean and the store by the late Colin McArthur. The site on the west side of the town line not being very good, the town in a few years began its progress eastward over the big hill, now known as "Donald McLean's Hill" and we find that the first house built there by Mr. John McAulay, shoemaker, was converted into fire wood a year or two ago. The first store was kept by the late Wm. Purdy on the hillside immediately West of the old bridge near the Presbyterian Manse. Nearly opposite Mr. Purdy's store was a hotel kept by the Kennedy Bros., of the North Line, Artemesia, who sold in a few years to Mr. F. B. McMillan now of Toronto. In the year 1859 Mr. Alex. Ferguson built what was then thought a first class house and store, now owned by Mr. John McDonald, which was kept in running order for a few years, while the old D. Road was still the main travelling way, but the gravel Road becoming fit for use in a few years, he sold this house and built another store, now the property of Mr. James Brander, general merchant. In the year 1859 J. H. Yeomans erected a store on the East side of the old bridge where he carried on business as merchant and Post master for years. About the year 1874 that part of the Presbyterian Church known as the "Auld Kirk" bought Mr. Yeomans' interest in the building for the purpose of converting it into a Manse which has served for that purpose to the present day. But now, having served its day and generation, steps are now being taken to replace it by a new and more modern structure and it too will soon be a thing of the past.

The first blacksmith shop in our village was converted from an old house, (occupied by one Jno. Campbell) by Mr. Francis Wait. This served the purpose for a year or two, but business increasing, Mr. Wait, was obliged to build a new one which is yet to be seen near his residence on Front Street. Mr. Wait, by strict attention to business, accumulated some wealth, and finding his age beginning to tell, he retired some 15 years ago and now in the sunset of life he is enjoying the fruits of his active years. About 32 years ago, Mr. Beverage, now of Collingwood, built the Tannery, which is now owned by our worthy townsman Mr. C. C. James, who has been in possession about 25 years. Then as now people got sick and the first professional to attempt to relieve human ills was Dr. Seaman, who only remained a few years. He was succeeded by the late Dr. Ghent, whose name was associated with Priceville for 20 years. Dr. Burns, now of Toronto Hospital served a few years during Dr. Ghent's time, but feeling that there was not enough work for two, he left, leaving the field entirely to Dr. Ghent. However in a year or two the late Dr. Bennet put in an appearance serving also for a few years, but finding the little Dr. too much for him, he also left and Dr. Ghent was again alone. He moved to Toronto in the year 1885, and was succeeded by Dr. Hixon, who practised for 3 years but for some reason or other best known to himself he gave up his practice in favor of our present worthy man Dr. Hutton.

Mr. John McKinnon who for the past 3 years has been so successful in training the youthful minds of S. S. No. 2 Holland and Sullivan, severed his connection with that section on Thursday evening last. In the evening a grand concert was held in the School, the building being filled to overflowing. During the evening's programme the teacher, Mr. McKinnon, was made the recipient of a beautiful writing case and address by pupils in addition to a well-filled purse by the section. The teacher made a touching reply, thanking pupils, trustees, and ratepayers for the kind ness shown him. The sorrow manifested by the children at parting showed the respect which they had for the teacher, also the harmony and good will which existed between teacher and section.

The following is the address:

To Mr. McKinnon.

Dear Teacher:—Before the tie which for three years has bound us as pupils and teacher be severed, we as pupils, feel it our duty to express in our feeble way the esteem in which you are held by us and also our appreciation of your services.

In your three year's stay amongst us, you have endeared yourself to its by your kindly and affable manner and also by your great success as a teacher. We are very sorry to part with you, but as your term has expired it cannot be otherwise. However wherever you may go and wherever your lot in life may be cast you will have with you the best wishes and kindly feelings of pupils and people of S. S. No. 2

We beg of you to accept this present as a token of remembrance, and we close by wishing you a life of happiness and prosperity.

Signed on behalf of pupils.

A Marvelous Medicine

Whenever Given a Fair Trial Hood's Proves Its Merit.

The following letter is from Mr. J. Alcide Chausse, architect and surveyor, No. 153 Shaw Street, Montreal, Canada:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for about six months and am glad to say that it has done me a great deal of good. Last May my weight was 152 pounds, but since

PRICEVILLE SOIREE.

Priceville Presbyterians had their annual Soiree on Wednesday of last week. The evening was as good as one could wish, without snow, and notwithstanding counter attractions on three sides of them the church was comfortably filled. The basement for about two hours presented an animated scene as the tables, containing the excellent viands prepared by the ladies of the congregation were surrounded and lightened.

The meeting was opened with a hymn of praise, and Mr. Jno. M. Arthur was sent to the popular leader for the choir, which he filled in an ideal manner. Th Durham Choir led by M. E. Parker was present, and fairly excelled themselves, and much private gratification was expressed as well as public compliments on their performances.

Mr. Riley, in just as popular as that "village blacksmith" Longfellow celebrated and made a happy speech. Rev. Mr. Hartley, the Methodist divine of Priceville outlined an ideal social in a useful yet humorous manner, and showed the necessity of a warm connection between pastor and people. Among many ways of helping a pastor, was the unique one of having a good cure baker to have the place well vaulfisted. Mr. Dugald McLeish, one of the fathers of Priceville and a first class aleomaker, spoke on "Time." He never fails to say something useful, in a taking way. Rev. Mr. Harrison, Pres. Minister of Dundalk is a fluent speaker and therefore well fitted for the subject for [illegible] on well, "talking." He presented various kinds as loose, false, malicious, &c. Dr. Mello-bic, of blackburn, opened in a facetious manner with some fine examples of Irish and Scotch wit, and made a slip, or a laughable hit while complimenting Durham "sinners" on their excellent music. He then made an address on the necessities of Church work which treated "Grace, Gift, and Gear." He spoke long on Gift or Course, in a strain not only eloquent but elevating.

Mr. McGregor, Reeve of Dundalk made a brief address, followed by Mr. Bainsg, who dealt with Priceville in a reminiscent manner. The proceeds amounted to $36, and this is added one more success to the list of Priceville successes. Dr. Hutton moved the usual votes of thanks. Rev. Mr. McLeod spoke briefly, and the meeting which was most exemplary in attention and deportment was closed by the doxology and the benediction.

Turn over a new Leaf in 1895 and give our Cash Store a trial if you have not already done so.
We are doing the business and with health and success we intend to do even better, but we must have the support of every man, woman and child in and around Durham who buys their goods for Cash. We can give you cash prices of goods in this column and say what they used to be when we sold for credit but we find the only genuine way and the true way is to call at this Store yourself and examine the Goods.

We have made a tremendous slaughter of prices in Men's Overcoats, Suits, Pants and Vests, and Boys' Clothing.

Give the Cash System a Trial

And we will guarantee that next year 1896 will not bother you with dunners and old unpaid accounts. It is hard to pay for worn out clothes and high priced credit goods. Pay as you go. It is better for you and better for me.

We have to thank the large number of our customers who have called at our office for their account, and would ask those who have not yet called to do so at an early date.

We would call the attention of our readers to a slight mistake in our issue of last week wherein some might think Mr. Wm. Derby had joined the Mormons. Not so. It was his cousin Andrew who married Miss Hughes but the type made it Wm. and we hasten to make the correction.

THE modern mother has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Nothing more delightful than a sharp Carving and Bread Knife to carve your Christmas turkey and cakes with. Take them to Taylor's workshop on wheels, opposite Middaugh House, and have them ground and made equal to new. Also Scissors and Razors, Saws filed and set; Umbrellas and Parasols neatly repaired and old ones purchased; Skates hollow ground by latest improved machinery no better work done in Canada. Razors ground honed and set ready for shaving; new blades put into old handles. If at have your work spoilt by incompetent workmen, if you want first class work done come to W. Taylor, the Sheffield Cattler, Durham.

The Hanover Post has a full account of a meeting held in Corinth lately, in the interest of the P. of Industry at which Mr. McNicol, M. P. P. was one of the speakers. He refers to some Sunday printing which was done in a certain office in the interest of his opponent. If the REVIEW office is meant we have the authority of Mr. McArthur, the late proprietor, to state that no Sunday work was ever done in his time, by him, self or any of his staff. An unfortunate mistake did occur in a bill, not a dodger, printed on June 18th but dated June 17th which was Sunday. The mistake was a purely clerical one, and was fully explained at the Yeovil meeting and several times since. Any way, it may easily be supposed that had there been morality loose enough to violate the Lord's Day, it would also have been cute enough to change the date to a week day.

An accident, which might have had serious results, befell the Chatsworth and Durham stage about two miles north of the town on Friday night last. It was in charge of Mr. Tom Noble on this occasion and the other occupants were Joseph Burnet and Dora Davidson. In coming down the hill in front of Donald McArthur's, where the road is narrow and in bad condition. The rig came too near the edge, and in the dark night toppled over the bank turning twice in the descent. Noble got some bad bruises. Burnet scrambled out safely but the little girl went to the bottom, receiving a wound on the head and some bruises on the body, but nothing very serious. That she escaped with her life seems a miracle, since the rig is a wreck, and one of the horses it is thought is useless. They got free and dashed off into McArthur's place. Mr. Jas. Burgess drove the little girl home, and the thankfulness of the parents can well be imagined. The county will likely have to make good Mr. Caldwell's loss, as the road is not only now ill-, as it should have been, but is in bad repair as well.
