

The Grey Review.

DURHAM, MARCH 11, 1905. THE LIBERAL MEETING A SUCCESS.

Both sides had a good hearing.

Somewhere between two and three o'clock, the crowd which had been gathering in front of the Town Hall, and in a few minutes every seat was secured and many had to be content with standing room.

Mr. Allan was warmly received as he came forward and declared his readiness to meet his opponent on any platform.

As Dr. Landin stepped to the front which showed his popularity had not waned. He held in a peculiar position.

THE PATRONS AND THE GOVERNMENT.

The Representatives of the Patrons of Industry in the House of Assembly have been the observed of all observers since the opening of the Legislature.

Again we are told, Christianity is a law of love, and systematic giving is a cold formal way. Well, friends, if you live up to the law of love, that is an eminently practical thing to do.

What proposition should we give? Each must fix that for himself. Commonly we speak of a tenth, only because it is the lowest portion which the Bible warrants us in fixing upon.

But it is objected, there are so many things to consider, so many inequalities in circumstances. True, and that may affect the amount and the proportion.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used.

It is the lowest portion which the Bible warrants us in fixing upon. And that we have to give to the Christian people to give even that minimum, shows how far we are from living up to the law of love.

While talking with friends in the Christmas holidays a number were surprised to hear the nature of our studies.

Finally remember that your giving should not be solely for your religious comfort. Learn to take a higher broader view of Christianity.
