CURRENT NOTES.

The agitation in England in favor of old-age pensions for workingmen, and the existence of a limit for compulsory retirement in the army and navy, seem to have acted upon the liberal professions. From them all comes the cry, "The old men must go." A letter appeared in the Lancet not long since advocating the withdrawal of successful physicians from their practice at 65, so as to give their younger brothers in the profession a chance. The curates suggest in the Guardian the application of the army and navy limit of age to incumbents of benefices as a proper means of relieving the pressure in the Church. A law journal, perhaps not seriously, has proposed the retirement of the leaders of the bar, and, after the application last spring by Lord Rosebery's Government of the rule for age to an Irish college President and a number of Irish

INTERESTING STATISTICS

ONE-FIFTH OF ONTARIO'S TAXES GOES FOR INTEREST.

A Valuable Report From the Bureau of Industries—Borrowed Moneys, Temporary and Bonded. Take a Conspicuous Place in the Receipts of the Municipalities—Some Figures Worth Studying.

The Ontario Bureau of Industries has just issued part VI. of its annual report of 1894. This part is entirely devoted to the statistics of the municipalities of Ontario. Returns, showing population, assessed values, taxation and the financial transactions of the several municipalities are here compiled and tabulated, making a book of 168 compact pages. The statistics are brought down to Dec. 31, 1893. A report

BORROWED MONEYS.

It will be seen that borrowed moneys, temporary and bonded, take a conspicuous place in the receipts of the municipalities, and the redemption of the same forms a serious charge on the taxpayers. The interest paid is equivalent to one-fifth of the taxes levied. The total interest paid in 1893 was $2,508,691, of which the cities pay $1,639,763. Toronto paid $585,955. The expenses of municipal government ad-

THE HOME.

To Successfully "Slip" Delicate Plants.

Prepare a soil of one-third leaf mold and two-thirds fine, clean sand thoroughly mixed, and then in an old pan set two small flower pots, if the pan be oblong, at equal distances from the ends, fill in around them with sand and mold until the pan is full up to the top, then pour water in the pots until all the earth is damped. It will soak through the holes in the bottoms of the pots and moisten the soil evenly.

In this dampened sand put the cuttings so that a bud or sprout is under ground, pressing the soil firmly about the stem. By taking the cuttings from the green growth of shrubby plants they are almost certain to grow, and roots may be expected to form in about ten days.

Usually the pots need to be filled but twice a week, as the sand stays moist a long time, but careful watching will teach certain to grow, and roots may be expected to form in about ten days.

BROKEN HEARTS IN FRANCE

Held of Less Account by the Law than Broken Legs.

In no instance does the profound difference of national character in England and France appear more striking than in the views held on both sides of the Channel regarding breach of promise. Of course engagements are broken off in France as well as in England, but it is only in England that heavier damages are awarded for a broken heart than for a broken leg. The offense is all but unknown in the French law courts, whether it is that Frenchmen are less inclined to it, or that the French girl dislikes bringing her sentimental troubles into court. To show English readers how incredibly prejudiced French persons of both sexes are upon this subject, it is enough to say that a young lady who attempted to turn her wounded feelings into cash would be regarded as only a degree less mean than the faithless man.

The very small number of suits for breach of promise have always been supported by a plea that the lady was put to expense, and there must be besides evidence

A Common Affliction

Permanently Cured by Taking

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A CAB-DRIVER'S STORY.

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. Hearing that I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by a friend who told me that I must purchase six bottles, and use them according to directions. I yielded to his solicitations, bought the six bottles, and took the contents of three of these bottles before I saw any direct benefit. Before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

4.—(1) None of the contrivances for taking or killing the wild fowl known as swans, geese or ducks, which are described or known as batteries, swivel guns or sunken punts, shall be used at any time, and no wild fowl known as ducks or other water-fowl shall be hunted, taken or killed from sail boats or steam yachts, R. S. O. 1887, c. 221, s. 5.

(2) No person shall kill or shoot at any bird or wild fowl protected by this Act, between half an hour after sunset and half an hour before sunrise. R. S. O. 1887, c. 221, s. 5; 55 V.c. 58, s. 4.

(3) No eggs of any of the birds above mentioned shall be taken, destroyed or had in possession by any person at any time. R. S. O. 1887, c. 221, s. 3.

(4) No person shall have in his possession any of the said hereinbefore mentioned animals or birds, no matter where produced, or any part or portion of any such animal or birds, during the periods in which they are so protected; provided that they may be exposed for sale for five days, and no longer, after such periods, and may be had in possession for the private use of the owner and his family at any time but in all cases the proof of the time of killing, taking or purchasing shall be on the person so in possession. R. S. O. 1887, c. 221, s. 2; 55 V. c. 58, s. 5.

(5) No person shall by himself, his servant, clerk or agent, expose or keep for sale, or directly or indirectly, upon any pretense, or device, sell or barter, or in consideration of the purchase of any other property, give to any other person any snipe, woodcock or partridge, no matter where killed or procured, before the fifteenth day of September, 1897, or any quail or wild turkey before the fifteenth day of October, 1897. 55 V. c. 58, s. 6; 57 V. c. 57, s. 1.

5.—It shall not be lawful for any person to kill or take any animal protected by this Act by the use of poison or poisonous substances, nor to expose poison, poisoned bait or other poisoned substances in any place or locality where dogs or cattle may usually have access to the same. R. S. O. 1887, c. 221, 11.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—South American Rheumatism Cure, for Rheumatism and Neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. Sold by McFarlane & Co.

PROTON CENTRE.

The harvesting is a thing of the past around these parts now and the hum of the threshing machine can be heard in every direction.

Mr. W. Brice, who has been sick lately, has recovered, also Mr. William Ellis we see is moving around again.

Misses Euphemia and Flora McTaggart left this part a couple of weeks ago for Buffalo, where they intend remaining some time.

Mr. J. Stewart and Miss M. Stewart of Maple Valley, were visiting at their sister's, Mrs. W. Bryce, on Sabbath last.

Mr. J. Lake, elder of the L. D. S. Church, has been holding meetings in and around Proton Centre for the past week.

Mr. J. Jackson has rented his place and intends moving to Mt. Forest to live.

Mr. J. Ferris, of Swinton Park, was the guest of his uncle, Mr. J. Batchelor, last week.

Misses Lovina Bryce and M. J. Batchelor, were visiting friends around Hopeville and Swinton Park, last week.

The Mennonites, who have been holding meetings on the 15th con. for the past three weeks were baptising their converts on Sabbath last at the Saugeen River on 9th con. Quite a crowd gathered from all parts to witness the performance.

Miss Mamie Egan, who has been in Hamilton for the past month has returned home.

Mr. P. Lee while digging potatoes found a hill with three potatoes in it one weighing two pounds and the other two a pound each. Can any one beat that with potatoes.

MABLE.

The country newspaper is an important agency in the cultivation of public spirit, and however humble it may seem beside the metropolitan daily, it has a place in the popular education which is too little regarded. While the editor is not often above the rank of a practical printer, there are many persons in most of the suburban towns, clergymen, lawyers, teachers and others, who have the leisure and ability to use the paper as the vehicle of influence over their fellowcitizens. The country newspaper is usually local in its news, and the very people who might make it fresh and suggestive are those who complain most loudly of its meagre character. Short articles pertaining to local interest are always welcome in its columns, and the men and women who most desire to make home life in the country rich and influential can best do so by contributing freely to its columns of what they have in mind. In some places this has been done, and the result in the quickened life of the community has been gratifying.—ex.
