1. If any person or newspaper discloses the name of all arrangements, or the publisher, nor consent to send it until payment is made, and collects the whole an civil whether it is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not is responsible for the same.

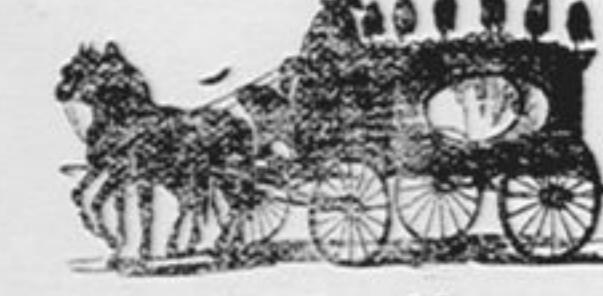

3. If a subscriber orders a paper to be copied at the office, and the publisher consents to send, the subscriber bound to pay for it if he takes it off the post office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.
