

The Merchant who is not alive to the Interests of his Patrons is no longer worthy of their patronage. We are aware of this fact. There is no such thing as a stationary business; it is either progressing or the reverse. We know that we are progressing when, with pleasure, we announce to our many patrons our intention of holding A WEEKLY BARGAIN DAY. We do not think it necessary to speak further: knowing that our prices speak for themselves. Remember, we will not lower the standard of our goods: therefore, you will get HIGH CLASS GOODS--ALWAYS.

We wish, however, at the commencement, to remind our readers that the bargains which we shall offer will positively hold good only on the TUESDAY ADVERTISED, unless otherwise stated.

We don't expect to sell the store on Tuesday, the 17th March, the FIRST BARGAIN TUESDAY, but by the aid of Money, Experience and Brains we shall endeavor from Tuesday to Tuesday to unearth bargains in our many great departments which must interest our readers: But monopolizing any more space in conversation would only be tantalizing, when there are such bargains awaiting your consideration as these:--
