About 80 were present, and enjoyed themselves with vocal and instrumental music, the thunder outside giving an accompaniment more alarming than harmonious. Mrs. Blyth and Mrs. Clark are two public spirited ladies and got the whole thing up themselves. There was abundance to eat, and the proceeds were very gratifying.

FREE SILVER is now all the talk. In a letter received from Rev. C. H. Leeson, Royal Centre, Ind. he says: The money question is the all absorbing topic at present. LIGHTNING'S DEADLY DOINGS Killed in the Barn.

On Saturday afternoon, last during the electric storm which raged in this district, a boy of 16, son of Mr. Arch. Robertson, N. Glenelg lost his life. He was assisting Mr. Geo. Henderson, of the 12th Con. in mowing away sheaves, while a man named Hall was pitching from the waggon. All three were instantly struck and stunned. Hall came Kincardine this week in a holiday mood. to first and roused Henderson by calling the barn was on fire. Henderson recovered and seeing the boy's legs projecting from some sheaves above him pulled him down to the load and out of the barn to find he was dead. Both men were weak and a few minutes more of unconsciousness would have caused a triple tragedy. The boy was buried at Latona on Sunday great numbers by their presence showing their sympathy with the family so sorely bereaved.
