FATE'S INSTRUMENTS.

CHAPTER XII .- (Continued).

"Poor little Lally!" said Mr. Pocklingten. Then he sat and pondered. "It is an abstacle," he said at last. "Ah!" said his wife.

"He must put himself right." "Do you mean, prove what he says?" "Well, at any rate, show he good excuse for saying it." for you to decide."

Mr. Pocklington nodded. "Then, that's settled," said Mrs.

mind on the premises."

over George's merits had by a natural impulse taken themselves to Neaera to be seen talking to him. maid, "but she won't leave her room." Gerald heard their voices, and came

"I can't think what's the matter," he said.

"Oh, I suppose the journey knocked her up," suggested Isabel. "Are you going to wait, Gerald?" asked Maud.

"Well, no. The fact is, she sent me a message to go away."

Isabel, "and we will try to console you." Gerald would enjoy their tale quite as much as Neaera.

Low spirits are excusable in persons who are camping on an active volcano, he smiled to think that a month or two was trite; but, then, many of the sadand Neaera left that this was very much her position. At any moment she might her position. At any moment she might cence, though not, it is true, with rapbe blown into space, her pleasant ture. Had the rapture existed before, face of all I have done against you." dreams shattered, her champions put to | it is sad to think that perhaps the smile shame, and herself driven forever from | would have been broader now; for love, the only place in life she cared to oc- in joy, is often buried without lamenta- wish I had starved; and seen my faher penitence, being born merely of -kindly, even tender amusement, but George wondered whether it was food field can be speedily cleared of this smile over the famous story of the Eng- ing, brings relief. defeat, offers no basis of edification. She like George's for Isabel cannot claim ed.

still amusement. An easy-going fancy field and the potato stalks raked up fight a duel in a pitch-dark room. Not avoidable errors in diet are responsible. for she did not think she could face smile-a tear which, by its presence, once a thief always a thief." grief. He would cast her off, and ant dream and a gentle awakening She society would cast her off, and those was gone; and, what is more, she ought make allowances." ders against her. She might have con- end of it. soled herself for banishment from society with Gerald's love, or, perhaps, for loss of his love with the triumphs of society; but she would lose both, and have not a soul in the whole world to speak to except that hateful Mrs. Bort. So she sat and dolefully mused, with the tailless cat, that gift of a friendly gaoler at Peckton prison, purring on the rug before her, unconsciously personifying an irrevocable past and future emptied of delight.

CHAPTER XIII.

It was fortunate that Mr. Blodwell was not very busy on Saturday morning, or he might have resented the and eyesight of mankind? choice of his chambers for a council, and not been mollified by being asked not see Laura. He saw Mrs. Pockling- claimed, changing her tone. to take part in the deliberations. At | ton, and that lady at once led the con- it, I say?" Neston arrived, accompanied by Sid- rea Witt. George could not help let- an awkward record. mouth Vane and Mr. Lionel Fitzderham | ting fall a hint of his approaching vicwho was, in the first place, Mrs. Pock- tory. lington's brother, and, in the second "Poor woman!" said Mrs. Pockling- "That's Gerald's look-out. He can do place, chairman of the committee of the ton. "But, for your sake, I'm very as he pleases." Themis Club.

ask you to use your influence with position." George. His conduct is past endur-

"No. that's just it. This is Saturday. I'm to be married on Monday week; and George does nothing." "What do you want him to do?"

"Why, to acknowledge himself wrong, as he can't prove himself right." Mr. Blodwell looked at Fitzderham. "Yes," said the latter. "It can't stay as it is. The lady must be cleared, if she can't be proved guilty. We arrived clearly at that conclusion."

The committee of the Themis." "Oh, ah, yes. And you, Vane?" "I concur." said Vane, briefly. "I've backed George up to now; but I agree he must do one thing or the other." "Well, gentlemen, I suppose you're right. Only, if he won't?" Then we shall take action."

'So shall I," said Gerald, Vane shrugged his shoulders Mr. Blodwell rang the bell. 'Is Mr. George in. Timms?"

"Yes, sir; just arrived." "Ask him to step in to me, if he will, thing to do with it, thank God.'

I don't see," he continued, "why you shouldn't settle it with him. I've no-George entered. He was surprised to see the deputation, but addressed himself exclusively to Blodwell. "Here I am, sir. What is it?"

"These gentlemen." said Mr. Blodwell, "think that the time has come for you to withdraw your allegations or to prove them."

You see, George," said Vane, "it's not fair to leave Mrs. Witt under this ndefinite stigma." "Far from it," said Fitzderham. George stood with his back against he mantel-piece. "I quite agree," he "Let's see-to-day's Saturday. When is the wedding, if there--- ?" 'Monday week," said Blodwell, hasti-"Very well. On Tuesday-" "A telegram for you, sir," said Timms, "Excuse me," said George. He opened and read his telegram. It can, "Yes-my handwriting. Will reurn by next post registered-Horne, Bournemouth.

"On Monday," continued George, "at five o'clock in the afternoon, I will prove all I said, or withdraw it.

"Couldn't help it," said Vane, briefly. "I think it's a little hard. But it's if necessary; and although an impulse of pity had led him to shield Neaera at Liverpool, he was in no way debarred by that from summoning Mrs. Bort to his assistance if he Pocklington. "It's a great comfort, wanted her. The Neston honor was Robert, to have a man who knows his safe, an imposter exposed, and the cause prospect were so great, that George never have seen the inside of Peckton "From Mansions, they were informed that set out to call on the Pocklingtons. not superhuman. would certainly be very pleasant to moment. prove to the Pocklingtons, especially to "You's tolerance accorded to honesty, but to only-to thank you. the admiration due to success. In matters of love, at least, George to thank me for."

The delights of the last-mentioned money to dress properly, she might growth.

Neston cannot be presented as an ideal without stirring his blood. When she presumed to be so ill-advised as to "Then come home with me," said side against him, he resigned, without that money you sent, I cried. I could the pretty image of Laura Pockling- been kind to me."

ton had filled the vacant space. As he George was embarrassed. He had phosphate, a full wheat crop can be English captain challenged by a French. wended his way to Mrs. Pocklington's, an uneasy feeling that the sentiment grown after potatoes.

> the bell with a composed mind. He might ask Laura Pocklington to marry George. him to-day, or he might not. He would "No, I didn't. I know what you mean be guided by circumstances in that mat- | - I lied." ter; but at any rate he would ask her, "Yes, you lied, if you choose had no unduly modest view of his own let it all go-I couldn't!" claims, he felt it behoved him to be "You yourself have made pity imposup and doing. It is true that the crowd sible. of suitors was not very much in evi- "Oh no, not impossible! I loved him dence, but who could doubt its exis- so, and he-he was so trustful." tence without questioning the sanity "The more reason for not deceiving and eyesight of mankind?

As it so chanced, however, George did "What is it, after all?" eleven o'clock in the morning, Gerald versation to the insistent topic of Nea- "Well, if you ask me, Mrs. Witt, it's thought that you were absolutely bound | George shook his head. "Anything new?" asked Mr. Blod- to prove what you said, or at least to give a good excuse for it." "Absolutely bound?"

"Well, I mean if you were to keep And she stood before him proudly and your place in society." scornfully. "And in your house?"

"Oh, he did not go so far as that Everybody comes to my house. "Yes; but, Mrs. Pocklington, I don't want to come in the capacity of 'everybody."

"Then, I think he did mean that you must do what I say, before you went on coming in any other capacity." George looked at Mrs. Pocklington. Mrs. Pocklington smiled diplomatically. "Is Miss Pocklington out?" asked George.

said Mrs. Pocklington, "she back soon?" asked George, "Not smiling in his turn.

"Not yet." "Not until-" "Well, Mr. Neston, I dare say you know what I mean.' "I think so. Fortunately, there is no difficulty. Shall we say Tuesday?" "When Tuesday comes, we will see if we say Tuesday. "And, otherwise. I am--- "

"Otherwise, my dear George, you have no one to persuade except-"Ah, that is the most difficult task of all."

"I don't know anything about that. Only I hope you believe what you say. Young men are so conceited nowadays. "When Miss Pocklington comes in. you will tell her how sorry I was not to see ber ?"

"Ceratinly." "And that I look forward to Tues-"No; I shall say nothing about that, You are not out of the wood yet."

"Oh yes, I am." But Mrs. Pocklington stood firm; and tears. George departed, feeling that the last; possibility of mercy for Neaera Witt thought. "How the devil am I to get ground over which to roam, they can v. fearing an explosion from Gerald, had vanished. There is a limit to un- away?" selfishness; nay, what place is there for Alas, how great the stake, and how come!

tangled locks before she enters the dock.

ed their finest linen to face King Ed-

"Yes; your kindness at Liverpool."

"An awkward record! Yes, but for a and stretching out her clasped hands,

"Certainly; the Neston family."

never heard of them till the other day."

"I daresay not; we moved in rather

"Do you take pleasure in being brut-

"I take pleasure in nothing connect-

"It's mere selfishness. You are only

"I have a right to consider that."

"I didn't mean it-I didn't mean it," cried Neaera. "But I am out of my legs below the knee, and, he feared, was about to bedew his boots with her

"I have never had a chance," Neaera

"This is tragedy, I suppose," thinking of what people will say of

"It's mean-mean and heartless!"

ed with this confounded affair," said man in love?"

it would," he said.

ily, to begin with—'

'The family?'

different circles."

George, impatiently.

"Then why not drop it?"

George shook his head.

"Too late," he said.

"I really-"

"You pitied me then."

Who can doubt, though it be not re-corded, that the burghers of Calais, cruelly restricted to their skirts, donn-WINTER WHEAT AFTER POTATOES. "Since wheat has become too low in you have done well in forcing matters quisitors were privileged to behold to an extremity."

Since wheat has become too low in the price to make it profitable to summer many a robe born to triumph on a different fallow. ferent stage? And so Neaera Witt fallow, farmers have sought to econoadorned herself to meet George Neston mize by growing some crop which can with subtle simplicity. Her own ill- be got off in time to prepare the field knot of flowers, destined to be plucked ble under the furrow makes the soil udder, but we are getting on that way. to pieces by agitated hands—so much light, so that it dries out too quickly conventional emotion she could not and decrease the larger makes the solution of the larger makes the larg sleeves made to fall back when the This dryness of soil makes its mineral deny herself,-a dress cut low, and open returned to the strike.

The other parties to the encounter

The other parties to the encounter

The other parties to the encounter

The other parties to the encounter and to most his fair the ing that perhaps they were ashamed his lower. Neaera thought that, if up by the grain crop, the wheat which

"Yes," said Neaera, looking at the unable to use. This is seen in the im- the men of blood. "Yes, yes. When they gave me " a pang, a prospect that had become not cry in prison, but I cried then. It ly that the plant is supplied with the Englishman's aim. a pang, a prospect that had become not cry in prison, but I cried then. It almost a habit. Easily and insensibly was the first time any one had ever plenty of nitrates. With a dressing the different organs of the body that handle, and the difficulty of harvesting chose pistols. The Frenchman declar- with habitual overeating they become generally preceded by potatoes. Yet The combat naturally attracted much severely taxing the organs of excretion. the cost of harvesting the potato crop attention. A great crowd witnessed the Frequently the excess is stored up "With all my heart."

How did I? I is not increased, but rather lessened, duel. One man received three ugly in the body and goes on accumulating the work early Potato dig-prods, but finally killed his antagonist. until the system rebels, and a violent had serious thoughts of running away; even the tribute of a tear behind the "But I did it. I was a thief; and and burned, little more preparation is wishing to kill this man, the English- for more than half the disease which of the surface for three or four inches word was given, and to his surprise of life. better for the clover seeding next in France it is always the Englishman dreadful papers would turn their thunnever to have come; and there was an "Allowances?" she cried, starting up. spring, keeping at the surface the soil who was up the chimney.

"Allowances?" she cried, starting up. which have comwhich has been enriched by the sum- | Fighting Fitzgerald was successful in George, having buried Isabel, rang pity! never mercy! never forgetfulness!" mer's cultivation. It has always been that he always wore a coat of mail. on for years without making them noted that the finest clover catches that he always wore a coat of mail.

ing potatoes with wheat is that it objected when his sword snapped on a ing been suspected. On the other hand, girl he could ever be happy with, and, when the truth was told, you called it makes a shorter rotation and does heart-thrust and demanded an investiaway with the necessity for sowing gation. He was afterwards hanged in Of course there was a crowd of suit- Neaera had sunk back in her seat spring grain, which is now every year Ireland for murdering a neighbor. ors at her feet, and, although George again. "Yes," she moaned. "I couldn't so cheap that in the eastern states it I have been dead feelings in the cardist is grown at a loss. If a winter grain between Lord Byron, granduncle of the regions, palpitation, irregular breathcrop follows that of spring grain it poet, and a kinsman. It was fought in ing, etc., and such symptoms would as makes a four years' rotation, which is a tavern room by the light of one tallow turally suggest disease. In these cases not less profitable but more exhaustive candle. Lord Byron was tried for mur- the trouble is purely nervous in charof fertility than a rotation in which der, but got off on manslaughter, from acter; that is the nerves which control clover or grass seeding comes every the penalties of which he escaped bethird year, and above all, with a high- cause he was a peer of the realm. This what deranged. And very generally ly cultivated crop in this rotation to safeguard of peers was done away with this derangement is the result of dys keep 'he land free from weeds."

ABOUT POULTRY RAISING.

"Is there any profit in poultry?" "What, after you have put me to writes a farmer's daughter. I have al-"We have come, sir," said Gerald, "to "Yes, it gets me out of an awkward open shame? And for what? Because ways found it to be a profitable as well Parisian detectives are best. English- powers, tea and coffee cause palpiters are best. position."

"Just what my husband said. He thought that you were absolutely bound to prove what you said or at least to prove what you were absolutely bound to prove what you were absolutely below to prove what you were absolutely below to prove what you were absolutely below to prove you will all you will be prove you will be proved to prove you will be "If you were in love-in love, I say poultry colum, I will give my short pride its local "sleuth hounds." with a girl-yes, if you were in love experience in that line of business.

with me, would this thing stop you?" bought me a few old hens, in the fall them all. "Then." she asked, advancing a step, of '90. It is needless to say that when out of school I was kept very busy pert thieves, and at another the most "why ask more for another than for caring for my biddies. Since that time skilled detectives in the world. A my flock has gradually increased until Chinaman can steal your watch while "Gerald will be the head of the famwere not the kind of fowls wanted. two eggs for every one they deposited watch over each other. in the nest. Seeing it took two hens to keep one, we sold them and said matally "good riddance." George rose. "Really, it's no use go-Having given a number of breeds a ing on with this," said he. And, makthorough trial, we have decided to keep ing a slight bow, he turned towards none but the Barred Plymouth Rock. believing them to be the best all-pur- once an Ambassador to a European goose as if it were a dogpose gfarm fowl. If you wish a fowl for the table, a good, fat P. R. would mind. Ah, have pity on me!" And she flung herself on the floor, right in his satisfy the most fastidious, and for egg producers, none excel them. Last winter we kept a flock of 120 hens. Dur-George felt very absurd. He stood, his ing the three winter months we rehat in one hand, his stick and gloves ceived $25.40 cash for our eggs, and in the other, while Neaera clasped his considering the very low price received per dozen, we think it paid very well As my father is quite an extensive farmer, we raise all the grain we feed, he and as the fowls have a large area of pick the most of their living in sum-and George, to his horror, heard her Although it is a slower way than by ing it all in all, I consider it a very good occupation.

LOSS BY SLOW MILKING.

Dr. Babcock found in some experiments he tried regarding this matter one's age, individual constitution, on that slow milking had a very decided cupation, habits of life, and to some effect in reducing the butter fat in extent upon the climate in which one milk, there being an average decline lives. An active child twelve or fif. Mrs. Horne's telegram made George's with subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity. Her own in time to prepare the subtle simplicity in time to prepare the subtle simplifiest in time to prepare the su plainly made in clinging folds; but she change. "On a large scale the small result of slow milking, while also there plainly made in clinging folds; but she change. "On a large scale the small result of slow milking, while also there and exercising freely, may require and fancied that the motive would be too grains, oats and barley are most gentify though in a prolonged trial with the original document and contrasted it with Neaera's doctored copy. Besides, Mrs. Bort was in the background, if necessary, and although as econd Queen of Scots. White the soil of precisaly the kind of plant if necessary, and although as important the motive would be better white could cling as the soil of precisaly the kind of plant in the disadvantage of exhausting have the disadvantage of exhausting have the disadvantage of plant the soil of precisaly the kind of plant would be better white could cling as the soil of precisaly the kind of plant would be better white could cling as would be better; white could cling as the soil of precisely the kind of plant sult over a season, however, is benewould be better; white could cling as the soil of precisely the kind of plant well as black, and would so mingle food that the wheat plant requires. Suit over a season, however, as a fair guide, and the child will selden quick milking, not to speak of the eat too much if he can be taken as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide, and the child will selden as a fair guide. well as black, and would so mingle rood that the wheat plant requires. suggestions of remorse and innocence Besides, after harvest the ground is that surely he could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants to the milk yield in the case of the quick milking, not to speak of the eat too much if he is taught to eat the ground is saving of time. We do not know all very slowly, and the child will seldom that surely he could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground is saving of time. We do not know all saving of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the ground in the case of the could not be hard-heart-hard and when plants are the case of th that surely he could not be hard-hearthard, and when plowed the grain stubabout the secretion of the milk in the

THE DUELS OF FAME.

Incidents of European

Even in Germany the popularity of only she had been granted time and follows can only make a weakly fall the duel is open to some doubt. Its existence is due not so much to a de- tivity. "From all these objections the po- sire for combat as of fear of what for their holy zeal. They were disappointed, for, on arriving at Albert pone them, and, in the afternoon, he man, or, if that be disputed, let us say the least of the least o set out to call on the Pocklingtons. not supernuman.

There could be no harm in giving them George came in with all the awkward- haustive except to some extent of potat least a hint of the altered state of ness of an Englishman who hates a sah. The thorough cultivation they rehis fortunes, due, as it was in reality, scene and feels himself a fool for his ash. The thorough cultivation they rethey entered a drawing-room women the development of the body and his fortunes, due, as it was in reality, scene and feels himself a fool for his ash. The thorough cultivation they rehis fortunes, due, as it was in reality, scene and feels himself a fool for his ash. The soil a large pool, was not visible. "Mr. Neston has his fortunes, due, as it was in reality, been waiting over an hour to see her, senting him to Lord Manladurham It. to a chair, and they sat silent for a amount of available nitrogen which been waiting over an hour to see her. to Mrs. Pocklington's kindness in pre-miss," said Neaera's highly respectable would certainly be very pleasant to moment.

Neaera indicates in pre-awkwardness. Neaera indicates in pre-awkwardness. Neaera indicates in pre-senting him to Lord Mapledurham. It to a chair, and they sat silent for a moment.

justified in standing by him, and that fire. Then, with a sudden turn of her mense crop of weeds which starts just During the occupation of Paris by the justified in standing by him, and that life. Then, with a sudded, "It was as soon as cultivation ceases. If no win- allies there were duels every day, the perous, and perhaps acquire more luxonly—to thank you."

"I'm afraid you have little enough ter grain is sown after the potatoes, Frenchmen usually being the challeng- urious habits of living, they are agt ter grain is sown after the potatoes. Frenchmen usually being the charles to take less exercise and, at the same weeds use this fertility, not only without advantage to the farmer but to skilful with the small sword. Some- dulge in food which is not needed and "Oh, it seemed the best way out. I his injury. It makes one of the great times, however, they made a mistake as which is imperfectly consumed in the George had displayed neither. Isabel Bourne had satisfied his judgment yours."

The ground that the grain crop needs no over losing his leg at Waterloo The without stimulation of the first satisfied his judgment yours." ground that the grain crop needs no over losing his leg at Waterloo. The may result from eating too little nitrogenous manure. The bright green jeerer discovered that the loss of his from overindulgence. In either case of the young wheat shoots shows plain- leg did not interfere in the least with the difficulty is made serious by long

"The potato crop in a heavy one to man, had the choice of weapons and an occasional excessive meal, whereas with winter wheat are got where the For years his fame in society had rest- elves known to the victim; and in ad grain crop has been sown after pota- ed on his invariable success as a duellist, and this discovery was his undo-"One of the advantages of succeed- ing. A certain major in fighting him such disease without its existence hav-only during the present reign.

CHINESE DETECTIVES.

writer, after three years' residence in nerve weakness, should When but a small child, my greatest China, says he does not think either functional, the remedy lies with desire was to possess a flock of chick- of the three countries are entitled to victim, and by wise restraint a cure is George looked at her. "I don't think ens, and to gratify my wish, my father the credit given them. The Chinese beat generally effected. In fact, medical

> They are at one time the most exnow I have the care of all our fowls. you are looking at it, and he can catch Two years ago, thinking I would the man who stole it, if it happens to

"Who are they? Are they famous? I like to raise Leghorns, I procured six be some other man than himself, settings of eggs from thoroughbred The writer has seen evidences of defowls. I raised about twenty hens tective ability among the Chinese which from them. During the first winter would startle even Lecocq. It is imonly about eight of them laid-and they possible for an evil-doer to long elude the riverine population. The owners live the Chinese detectives. They scent a in houseboats, and every night the lay in the field—dead. It took but a crime and follow it to the last before flocks of ducks are driven home in very short time to decide that they civilized detectives would know of it. But to give them a thorough trial, we kept them until spring, when they laid kept them until spring, when they laid the world. They have an eye upon exceedingly well, and would have given better satisfaction had they not eaten every man, woman and child, foreign goose, is kept as a watch near the better satisfaction had they not eaten better satisfaction had they not eaten or native, in China, and in addition duck pens. It is one lusion is impossible. The head of the Chinese police is not known, but there approaches it. Mrs. is one, and a very active one, too. It is reported that the present head was once an Ambassador to a European 000 men under him and his assistants kept, the gander mounts guard he is. There are said to be over 60,who control the various districts.

BLOWN FROM A TRAIN. "I do not suppose that once in a hundred times we ever learn the real cause of a railroad accident," said a man who is always well posted on such matters, "when any one of the principals concerned is killed. In individual cases, current "Review of Reviews." where a man is lost from a train, day he brings 3,700 of his children from pity when public duty and private in-terest unite in demanding just severi- when at last—" Her voice choked, raising our chicks—the old sitting and terest unite in demanding just severiand George, to his horror, heard her ty?

Her voice choked, raising our chicks—the old sitting hen. Although it is a slower way than her track, suicide is the first thing suggest. End. It is a small army—a larged track, suicide is the first thing suggest. the incubator and brooder, we think ed; but you can never tell. A peculiar army than that with which Britain to He nervously shifted his feet about, the chicks are more healthy when cared accident happened to a friend of mine. won many of her most brilliant as well as Neaera's eager clutches would for by the mother. We are think and brooder, we think ed; but you can never tell. A peculiar army than that with which brilliant accident happened to a friend of mine. as well as Neaera's eager clutches would for by the mother. We are scarcely He was traveling Eastward with some tories. Under his able direction that allow him. How he wished he had not ever troubled with any kind of the was traveling Eastward with some Neaera Witt had one tast card to play.

Is, how great the stake, and how light the chancel Still she would laber to the stake, and how light the chancel Still she would play. The little red lice annoy us in the sum-mer by getting in our houses. We ents to go to the smoking car. As he the Prince and Princess of Wales, bring the Prince and slight the chancel Still she would play "I cannot bear it!" she cried. "They it. If it failed, she would only drink will all write about me, and jeer at me; shut our chickens out of the little red lice annoy us in the summer by getting in our houses. We crossed from one car to the other—that ling with them a paraphernalia illustration. If it failed, she would only drink will all write about me, and jeer at me; shut our chickens out of the houses was before the time of the vestibule tive of all their enterprises, their work ittle deeper of humiliation, and be and Gerald will cast me off. Where entirely and as they are the state of the vestibule and Gerald will cast me off. prove all I said, or withdraw it."

Gerald looked uneasy, but he tried to think, or at least to appear to think, it as a little deeper of humiliation, and be said the little deeper of humiliation, and be said the little deeper of humiliation, and be said the little was before the time of the vestibule and confirmed of the was before the time of the vestibule and confirmed of the was before the time of the vestibule and off. Where shall be under the deeper of humiliation, and be said the little was before the time of the vestibule and confirmed of the huminity, and the deeper of humiliation, and the little deeper of humiliation, and the li

HEALTH.

A PROPER DIET

The nature and quantity of an appro

Throughout the school years the growth of the body is continually going on, and, therefore, if a proper development is to be maintained, the food must be abundant and of a character to furnish new tissue and to yield in the form of heat and muscular as

The full adult weight is not usually ishing fuel for the development of

So great is the force of habit over

MISTAKES ABOUT HEART DISEASE. The changes which go to make up heart disease take place slowly, and go a few cases death occurs suddenly from that organ is perfectly healthy. They the workings of the heart are somepeptic trouble. Those who exhibit the signs described should turn their at tention to the stomach and try and overcome them by careful attention to diet. The quantity of food taken should We often hear the question asked: They Are Said to be the Shrewdest in the be no greater than health and strength demand, and only substances easily dibe to tone up the system.

CLEVER GEESE.

China still uses two birds for special purposes, and shows no disposition # part with them. Duck breeding on s mestic breed, not unlike an English awake and vociferous Informers are encouraged, and col- ently never sleeping, and uttering in found the mandarin in charge of the At Hampton Court, where a pair a semi-circle canal, and if any one come near the bank sounds its alarm incer santly.

AN ARMY OF STREET ARABS.

Dr. Barnado, the London works among the street arabs, and his home are described by Editor Stead in ber eyes. and the eorge sat down her face, an on him. He lo and she she mirror, and t on him aga nile coming to h "You will?" she George petulantl table near him. and knelt down by and on his shoul "You have made he said. "See, n won't make me ci George looked a half veiled in tea trembling on the very good. "It is Gerald," strict. And the "You don't kno "I do indeed: I you are generous. your face away!" George still sat his hand in hers. "Ah. do!" she sa

PTER XI

ing. And the e

George smiled-Neaera. "Well, don't cry "or the eyes will b "You will, you eagerly. He nodded. "Ah, you are g George: you are g

"No. I am only Neaera swiftly hand, "The hand she said. "Nonsense," sa oughly. "Will you clear "Oh, yes; everyt

"Will you give I er?" She seized his issed it again. "I have your we "You have." She leapt up, su "Ah, George, Co love you! Where George took the pocket. Neaera seized it George with an ed her. "You hold the burn it!" And per consumed with ful child. Then ed her arms. " "Poor child!" sa leave it to me not "However shall er can." Then s cat, ran to him. "We are forgiver given!" she cried George watched She put the cat him. "See, you hi Is that enough?" "It is something "And here is so she threw her arm kissed him. "That's better," more?" "No, no; don't you going?" Yes, I must o straight." "Good-bye, Ifind it very hard. "I have been pai Neaera blushed i You shall be b can," she said. George paused of arette; then he s and walked slowly he went. When Park Corner, he his reverie. "Now the woman ne, as he hailed a CHAPTI Mrs. Pocklingto amazement in her the second edition her hand. On the widely spaced, ber ine, appeared a Neston, running ti To the Editor "As you hay to interest yourse tunate enough to i in the subject of made by me in res name has been me umns, I have the I that such allegat baseless the result blance between the person, and of my sions drawn there drawn all my asse reservedly, and have for them to those receive apologies. "I have the Your of

And then a colur tire, ridicule, prea phesying, moralisir The pen flew with ink was nothing re Mrs. Pocklington woman; yet, when vindication, she fo to say than-How very provo And it may be th exclamation fairly feeling, if only pub indecent enough to A man shown to be too common a spec fashion proved a th world-and, indeed other—we must take and since society of Neaera Witt, it co spirit of George Ne shook his empty lit