Mr. Brown, go up higher.

THE NIAGARA CAMP.

The 12th, 31st, 35th, 37th and 39th Battalions are in Niagara this week numbering nearly 1800 men.

No cavalry or artillery meet with them this year, and their absence will make the outing tame to old timers.

Capt. McGill, of No. 4 Company, 31st Battalion, has been busy for a week or two in putting his company into shape, and for the brief time he has had some of the recruits under him he has made astonishing progress.

This work of training a class of men in ability to kill and wound another and similar class of men of another country is a great institution. It has two sides: the romantic and the real. Our boys see the former, and give scant thought to the latter. Glitter and sound, bright coat and shining button, a free trip, romantic surroundings, what use of thinking of death or glory, perhaps both probably neither when we all hope they may never have the experience. May we hope that the expenditure of over $1000 a day is recouped in the formation of better physical habits, a healthy self control, and an increased patriotism in the young men who may, one day be our country's defenders.

A number of citizens saw them off in the morning, they are having good hot cool, weather and those of them who come in contact with cook Saunders are not likely to be lonesome.

WITH THE BATTALION.

From our own Correspondent.

From Ferguson I send you a few lines written on the way down. All goes smoothly, humorous Jack Saunders proving the life of the company, and selling copies of the "Globe" before it is printed to the people of Palmerston. The band played a couple of times there. Capt. McGill says this is the best company he ever went with.

Some of the "boys" are rehearsing old times in camp, while others are on the train for the first time and full of expectancy and importance.

I will write you more fully on our arrival unless the enemy should turn up and we have to turn in to turn him up, in which case we are determined to make him turn over a new leaf and return.

Rev. Mr. Hartley, late of Pricewille, was on the train to day off to Manitoba where his son is stationed, to engage in Mission work. Mrs. H. is in poor health, but the girls, Flossie and Edith are well.

SEPTEMBER FAIR.

This is generally the largest Fair in the year, but this year there was marked decrease as compared with last year, the quantity of feed growing and stored, being this year abundant. A large number of buyers were present, and prices ruled better than usual, though still low. The buying was nearly all done by the head and might average 2 1/2 cents live weight. Five 2 year olds sold for $81 cash and from $15 to $20 was the range of price. Cows in milk were very scarce the increased prices in dairy products especially in cheese, giving, no doubt, encouragement to keep them for what looks to be a profitable fall season in prospect.

IN MEMORIAM.

The death of Miss Margaret Cameron at the residence of her sister, Mrs. McLean, on Sunday last was somewhat sudden, she having been ill only a few weeks. Her removal is much regretted by a wide circle whose intimacy with herself and her family has been of an enduring kind. She is a sister of Mr. Jno. Cameron, of town, the late well known Rev. Jas. Cameron was also a brother. Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Rev. Chas. Cameron are also sisters. She had a large acquaintance in Chatsworth, Pricewille and adjacent neighborhoods. She was buried in Saugeen Cemetery on Tuesday, a large number of friends, some from outside points, attending.

Miss Cameron came to Canada from Inverness in 1856 in company with her two brothers who preceded the rest of the family. After her father and mother arrived in Canada she devoted herself to them and remained by their side till the death of the wife of her brother, the Rev. James Cameron in 1885, when she took charge of his house. Upon his second marriage in 1871 she returned to live with her parents who had meantime removed to Durham.

When they were both gone, she took up her home with Mrs. McLean, who had been left a widow in 1873, and remained with her till the present time.

Miss Cameron will be remembered by her nearest relations for her noble and unselfish life which was completely devoted to the happiness of others. Rarely have we met any one who so entirely surrendered her own interests to those who needed her kind assistance. By all who knew her she will be missed for her gentleness and her genial humor which was mingled with the deepest capacity for affection and unflinching cheerfulness.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Tuesday evening of last week, one of those little events in which two principals are highly concerned, and a varying number of friends and relations more or less interested took place at Fiesherston Station.

The principals in this case were Miss Annie E. Legate, the fair daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Legate, and Mr. Robert H. Wright, one of Artemesia's stalwart sons. The knot was tied by the Rev. Mr. Mahan, Fiesherston, and was witnessed by a large number of friends and relations, who showed their regard for the young couple by the beautiful and valuable gifts given below. The bride was tastefully dressed in white and looked every inch a bride. She was assisted by Miss Mary E. Wright, sister of the groom, while Mr. Wm. Coleridge assisted the groom. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. R. Legate, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. D. Coleridge, Sr., of North Egremont. A pleasant evening was spent in song and music.
