REVIEW AND GLOBE.

DAILY GLOBE.
We are able this week to make an extraordinary announcement. We can furnish the Daily Globe during this session of Parliament for 50 cts. and for one month, if the session does not last that long. This will be a fighting session by appearances, therefore get the fullest news, at once.

WEEKLY GLOBE.
We will furnish you with the Weekly Globe to the 1st of January 1897 for 15c or Globe and REVIEW for the same time for 30 cts. We will furnish both papers to the 1st of January 1898 for $1.50. Those who have already paid for the REVIEW may have the same advantages on the Globe if desired.

Our Subscribers need not be told of the excellence of the Globe which has no equal as a weekly newspaper even outside of politics. Moreover new features are to be added in a month or so, that will largely increase its value.

The REVIEW will be better than ever the coming year, and as a local paper will have no superior. We have to thank our friends for the generous support of the past and hope our efforts to supply them with local and general news at a very low clubbing rate will be appreciated in "hard times." Other papers desired can also be secured at low rates.

Editorial NOTE and COMMENT.

—The Senate is indescribably funny. Since the bar in the House of Commons was closed drouthy members of that body have been in the habit of going to the Senate bar to have their thirst quenched. The old gentlemen have been shocked at this, and on motion of MacKenzie Bowell have carried a resolution limiting the sale of liquors to Senators only. Who now will dare say the Senate is no use? If they can keep our commoners straight business will be rushed and speeches will be lessened! Speaking seriously however it is rather gratifying to find that a vote on a motion by Senator Parley that the sale of liquors be prohibited altogether in the Senate should have been defeated by only 7, the vote standing 16 to 23. The two knights Bowell and Mowat both voted to abolish it, and then Bowell's amendment, mentioned above was carried by 20 to 16. Since the commoners have stopped the business in their own chamber, their mouths are shut, but if it is good to abolish from the popular house, it should be good for the Senate also, and if good for these, it will also be good for the homes of the whole country. The day is coming we hope when the evils of the drinking habit will be merely a memory. The campaign for the plebiscite will soon be begun.

—The last number of the Canada Presbyterian has the following note on the Armenian situation. Since it was written a Vient correspondent of a London paper, a settlement, honorable to all parties, has been reached, while another London paper has it that Great Britain has notified the powers, that failing immediate action by them she will act alone.

"The people and government of Great Britain are at the present moment in a situation, as to Turkey and its awful outrages against Armenians, so peculiar as was probably never before known. The people, wild with rage and righteous indignation, smitten with horror, are calling upon the Government for active intervention to put a stop to a state of things which is a blot, and shame, and disgrace to humanity at large to allow. The Government, anxious, of its own natural inclination to put down summarily and by force the bloodthirsty assassin who rules in Constantinople, hesitates, having to face if it should strike, the combined opposition of Europe, with the threat, we are told, that the first shot fired against Turkey would be the signal for an European war in which Britain would have to fight alone against such tremendous odds. Both people and Government are paralyzed, doomed to enforced inaction. The position is like that of an animal confined, pacing restlessly, helplessly in its den, chafing, raging and yet to no purpose. While the natural feeling of everyone would be to put down at all hazards the demon who revels in cruelty and blood, yet who can wonder that Lord Salisbury should hesitate, when upon him lies the tremendous responsibility of striking the blow which may set, practically, the whole of Europe against England in what would be one of the deadliest wars of all history? In the meantime the crowned assassin, with a maddening deliberation, is carrying on his work of carnage with a depth of deceit no unworthy of the father of lies. For it is now said that the attack upon and seizure of the Ottoman Bank really a plot laid by the minions of the Sultan, to furnish the occasion for yet another butchery of Armenians, with all its accompanying Turkish ferocity; and cruelty to the number of 6,000 or, as some say 10,000. Whether, as is hoped, anything will come out of the visit of the Czar to our good Queen, and the influence by which for a few days he will be surrounded, we say it with all reverence, God only knows. In any case, as the Manitoba Free Press says, "Events are so shaping themselves in despite of the Czar and all the Powers that great changes are inevitable in the near future." At such a time and in such circumstances while not inactive, but watchful, the Christian can only find refuge in the assurance that "The Lord God omnipotent reigneth." "The Judge of all the earth will do right."

BROWNSVILLE NEWS.

Mr. George Sackett, the Mail driver has got a new top for his cart which makes it very convenient these cold and wet days. He is also getting the upper part of his house plastered. Mr. James McLean, of Proton, has the contract.

Thrashing is the order of the day around here now. The oats are bulky but light. McLean Bros. of Proton, with a steamer thrashed 900 bushels for Neil McFayden in 5 hours and Joe Ferris with a horse power thrashed for Mr. A. McDougall 1500 in 11 hours and Mr. Albert Haw cleaned out the barn on the Model Farm in less than a day including the buckwheat, but we expect a record breaker next week when the McLean Bros. of Artemesia, come to thrash for the old war horse, John Campbell, on the North Line. Mr. Hugh McMillan is keeping his eye on them all and says they will have to take a buck next year when he gets his new steamer.

We are glad to see that Dugald McCall is able to get around again.

Rumor says there will be a wedding at the Corners this fall when Dan gets through thrashing. We hope so and we can say the: e will not be a chavivari either.

Sir Oliver wears a smile since the arrival of a young daughter at his home some time ago.

Young men should be careful who they ask to have a ride in the morning as some of these old fellows who have to go to thrashing these cold mornings without their breakfast are very crusty.

I see the Boothville man wants to know who the Conservative was who wrote for the keeping of the Post Office at Drumore. Never mind Mr. Boothville he did not get it eye with the bribe thrown in.

We are glad to hear that the last pay night at the cheese factory passed off quietly as the way some of the people have been doing lately was getting disgraceful.

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this: "In September, 1894, I made a mistake and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards.

I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My
