DURHAM, Oct 15th. 1896.

SCOTCH TOWN. MAPLE GROVE. TO THE PUBLIC.

Potato digging is the order of the day. A better crop could not be wished for although not corresponding with the Balsam Valley potatoes in the line of six pounders. Why, that's nothing. Clerk Jno. S. Black has a crop of potatoes of such a size that many of them would fill a pail. We expect that the majority of the diggers will turn over a new leaf as they have been on their knees for the past week. Messrs John Black and Peter McArthur have returned home from the vicinity of Bramford where they put in a good season's thrashing. Mr. Black did not bring back his Waterloo thrasher as he intends making a howling season next year in that district. Mr. Jas. White spent Saturday in Durham.

The youth of our town took in the world's fair at Priceville last week and report a good day's outing. A merry scene was the surprise party at the home of Mr. Alex. Murchison, warden, Priceville show night. There were representatives from Spring Dale, B messan, Maple Grove, Irish Lake, Pomona and Scotch Town. Mr. Murchison was highly pleased with the crowd and went object to such an agreeable audience at any time, especially during Leap Year. Several reporters being present we expect full particulars will be forwarded from other points. Scotch Town's annual picnic on the 23rd inst. as was predicted a grand success. The day was beautiful, the crowd a merry one and all spoke in high terms of Anderson and Arrowsmith and the committee was well satisfied. Alex. and Archie McMillan leave again this week for timber making. Master Wille Beaton and his sister Jenny, spent Sunday with friends in Corith and was accompanied back by their cousin, Miss Maggie McGillivray.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS—On Saturday night a man broke into the residence of a woman in Durham, robbed and assaulted her. On Monday Mr. Robert Folis, Chesley's chief of police, received a telegram to be on the lookout for the suspected party. In the afternoon a man arrived in town and put up at the McDonald House. Folis spotted him and came to the conclusion he answered the description of the party wanted at Durham. He kept his eye on the stranger and finally decided to arrest him. The party went to the premises in the rear of the hotel and as he appeared Folis stepped up to him and said: "I have orders to arrest you." "What for?" replied the stranger. "Never mind that—come along," said the chief. "Don't be rash; had we better not talk over this matter?" "Oh, it is not necessary, but if you wish to make any statement, I will hear you, as I am arresting you for burglary and outrage at Durham." "Oh, that's it, is it? Just look at that paper," taking a document from his pocket. Mr. Folis did so and found it to be the original warrant for the arrest of the party he suspected his prisoner was! The man he had taken in charge was the Durham chief constable. It is not known whether Bob "set 'em up" or not, but the joke got out and was told to the Free Press.—Oh esley Free Press

The grain harvest and most of the thrashing is now over in this vicinity and lifting the root crop is now the order of the day. Some of our neighbors claim full crops in roots and the mango's a fair turnout. Some of the boys from the Grove visited the Priceville show on Oct. 7th. Although they went with peaceful intentions some visitors started the ball rolling and the result was not at all creditable to those engaged in the fracas. Some further news may be heard of this matter later. Mr. Arch. McMullan and Miss Jane Carson were guests at the Murchison dance last week. Judging from the hilarity displayed going and coming they must have enjoyed it immensely. Miss N. Sullivan and Mr. M. Neil took in the Scotchtown picnic. Mr. Neil took great pleasure in showing his lady friends round the old homestead. Wonder if he is thinking of transplanting some of them. Miss G. McFee, of Guelph, is visiting Mr. Henry, of the Grove. She expects to spend a few weeks among her friends and relatives here. Mr. Alex. Carson visited his sister at Vandeur last Sunday. The picnic ground at Scotch town did not seem large enough for some of the visitors. They got the Grove girls to show them the walks round and nearly got lost. Mr. Angus Kennedy has returned to the old homestead looking well. We hear he is likely to spend the winter here. Our friend, Mr. F. McArthur, deserted the Grove to fit up Mr. Jos. McDonald's trotter for the show. Mr. J. Henry showed up in great style at the last of the Thrashings. He is quite an ace in the song and dance. Mr. McKillop is putting up a new house on the corner of McLinn's farm. This will be quite an improvement to the corner. The old log house has stood on the corner for about 40 years. Its days of usefulness are over. Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bolger passed through the Grove last Sunday on their way from Dundalk to visit at Mrs. P's, father's. They were both looking hale and hearty.

ROCKY SAUGREY—Rev. Mr. Jansen delivered his lecture, "Life in Holland," to an appreciative audience here on Monday evening last. He spoke for about two hours in his usual graphic way, and left his hearers in Holland. He intends to extract them by a second lecture at an early date. The same lecture will be given in Doroch on Monday next. A nice collection was taken up which goes to the benefit of the Leprosy Mission.

hour or two with him and his family, before leaving for India. Friends began to arrive early in the afternoon and at 4 p.m. an informal meeting took place, speaking being done outside. Revs. Jansen, Durham; McNab, Kilsyth; Anderson, Durham; Thompson, Chatsworth, and the Rev. Mr. Little, all made brief and affectionate addresses. Dr. Smith was deeply touched and replied appropriately. He left Tuesday by noon train for Hamilton and goes thence to Montreal on his way to India to assume the duties of chaplain to the British regiment stationed at Mhow, and will act as treasurer for the Foreign Mission stations in India. Doroch has a name among the Northwest Indian circles, having sent out Mr. Skene among the Northwest Indians, Mr. Leithingam to Indore, India, and Dr. Smith to Honan, China. The best wishes of a wide circle go with Dr. Smith and family
