It has popular cartoons almost daily, and many excellent special features, 6 to 8 Pages and a large Saturday edition. For 6 months the two papers for $1.35. All in Advance.

ABANDONMENT CASE.—Roeve Binnie, George H. H. Miller, the Hanover Conveyancer and Clerk of the Municipal Council, set as a court of arbitrators under the Municipal Act in Arvon on Tuesday. The dispute is a sidewalk case in which the Township and two private parties are concerned.

GREAT VALUE.—The REVIEW and the Weekly Globe will be sent to any address on this continent till 1st January 1898, for $1.35. Join the REVIEW club—over 150 others have done so—and get all the news of the world and the locality. The Globe is bigger than ever and the REVIEW is absolutely necessary as a local paper.

SUCCESSFUL.—Mr. Ferguson Gray, at the examination in summer was recorded in Physics only. Now as he was a pet subject of his and he thought he had done pretty well, Ferguson was surprised. A request to the department to look into the matter has proved that he passed all right, and has secured his complete Junior leaving certificate. Congratulations.

We supply the REVIEW and Weekly Mail and Empire to Jan 1st, 1898, for $1.00. The Saturday edition has 16 pages of illustrated stories, fashions, picture news, and the price is $2.00. By the order of the publishers we are able to supply you with the REVIEW for $2.00 or better still for three for the sum of $4.50. Can you do better?

Blood is Life. It is the medium who carries to every nerve, muscle, organ and fibre its nourishment and strength. If the blood is impure, rich and healthy you will be well; if diseased, disease will soon overtake you; if impure, Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to keep you in health by making your blood rich and pure.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, biliousness, constipation.

AMONG THE TEACHERS.—Last week the Association of the S. Grey Teachers of this district or at least the Eastern District, for, of three dozen teachers in the district, and normally only 2 teachers were present. Regarding for our own gratification ourselves and our readers we have secured and exhaustive report, which will be found in a future issue. This is a very good reading even outside of the profession. Next meeting is to be held in Markham, unless the Department order otherwise.

ROAD AND TRACT SOCIETY.—Dr. Moford, secretary of this Society, who has been the representative of the Society at the annual meeting of the Road and Tract Society, Monday night, Rev. Mr. McGee was in the chair. The report given was an interesting outline of the work done by the Society among the poor, and others not likely to be benefited by the usual means of regular service. The usefulness of the work was pointed out by Rev. Mr. Jansen, and a Report of the work of the year was read, the report being a very interesting and well-written one, reflecting great credit on the Society. The old officers were reappointed.

Miss E. McFarlane and Mr. R. McFarlane, Jr., came home Tuesday night from their trip to the Maritime province, having enjoyed the outing immensely.

A LECTURE AND A TREAT.—On Monday night, the Methodist Church was packed with an audience that went home delighted with an interesting lecture, delivered by Rev. Mr. Williamson, of Mt. Forest, chairman of the district. The occasion was an anniversary one, the subject of the lecture, "Hunting Foxes" and for nearly two hours the speaker entranced his audience with the delicious blend of humor and instruction. A voluntary collection, amounting to $80 was taken up and the company adjourned to the basement, where the wants of the inner man were attended to.

WEDDING BELLS.

There was a large gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. McTavish on Oct. 14th, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Lizzie, to Mr. J. R. Wells of Toronto. The bride was becomingly attired in pale green and white brocaded moire poplin, trimmed with chiffon, and carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns. She was supported by her sister, Miss Maggie McTavish who was prettily dressed in cream moire, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of bluish roses. Little Jessie McTavish acted as maid of honor dressed in pure white. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. McQuarrie, of North Bruce. The groom was assisted by his brother Dr. R. B. Wells. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations has been offered to the happy couple, they all repaired to a dining room where a sumptuous repast was laid. The tables were tastefully decorated and laden with all the delicacies of the season. The evening was spent in mirthful songs and recitations and the "wee small hours" were creeping on ere the guests had bid farewell to the genial host and hostess with best wishes for the young couple just starting on the journey of life. The presents received by the bride were both useful and of sentimental value. [The bride's family have relatives in Durham and at Rocky Saugeen. ED]
