JUMPING A STRAW,

Some years ago the late Maj. Roddy Owen was at Aldershot, and offered to back himself to make a horse he was laughed, and although his fondness for horses was well known, none believed he could accomplish the feat. A long straw was procureed and laid on the ground. Owen proceeded to blindfold the norse, and rode him at the mark, which he animal cleared with a bound that would have settled a five-bar gate, When he returned to collect his bets all the sportsmen had vanished.

GOLD IN SEA WATER According to Prof. Liversidge, of Sydney University, the waves that beat on he New South Wales Coast are literally golden. By exhaustive experiment he has demonstrated that the sea waer contains gold to the amount of half a grain to one grain per ton, or 30 to 260 tons of gold per cubic mile. If the same proportion is found in the ocean as a whole, then, at the rate of a grain per ton of water, there are 109,000,000,000 tons of gold in solution. The problem is how to get at it.
