

BARGAIN DAY Jan. 12th.

1897.

We extend our thanks to our many patrons for their liberal patronage last year and hope that we may enjoy the same pleasant business relations during '97. '96 was for us as usual a very successful year. As the years roll on our balance sheets show an ever increasing business. There must be some reason why. Have you ever stopped to think?

Only One Quality and that the best.—

—Only one Price and that to Everybody.

As a result of the backwardness of the season, we find ourselves terribly overstocked in all kinds of winter goods—we never keep any stock over the season—it must be sold—you will find here phenomenal values in winter clothing—for Men and Boys: Caps, Underwear, Blankets, Comforters, etc., etc., by bringing your list here you will save on every article—once in a great while other stores offer a few leaders at prices that approach our values—none do it very often—our prices are low on everything in our store and yet we always keep up the standard of quality.

10c. for a 20c. Corn Broom 10c.

Not long ago the old price for Teas didn't satisfy us, we hunted long and far for a good Tea to sell at a departmental price—we found it—you got it. The usual wholesale price of which was 17c. lb. you get it at 12½c. lb. No extravagant profits about that, you get it still. Its not a cheap tea, but a good, strong, healthy tea and one you'll like. Half the country side are after it. Try a lb. Tuesday and then think of our Kolona Ceylon Tea, a dollar Tea, at 28c. lb.

A SILVER CHAMPION.

The much debated question of silver v. gold, is not over yet but is to be, for once, transferred to the columns of the REVIEW. Now, really, we would like to oblige Uncle Sam and will do it to the extent of publishing the following letter.

In justice to Mr. Cameron, from whose letter the extract was taken, the price of wheat, though lower than it had been, was yet much higher than it usual and was still a profitable price. We hope the "good times" will radiate to Denver on the South and Canada on the North and "we three" will then sing a united psalm in its honor.

"Mac." however, has the bull by the horns, as the silver party is having campaign material made for it by the smashing of banks and business failures, which will figure largely in 1900. Had Bryan been successful and the same conditions followed, "Bryanism" would have been loudly blamed, while it would have been no more worthy of blame than "McKinleyism" is now. That the "sound money" cause, however, has not been able to prevent financial collapses, is a serious blow to it, since they claimed to be the special guardians of public credit.

"Mac." is well known to many of our readers and is a professional man who has been honored by positions of public trust in his adopted city.

Here is the letter:

Editor, REVIEW,

Dear Sir,—Being a constant reader of the REVIEW and a former South Greyite, although now an American citizen, I naturally feel an especial interest in noting the prosperity of Canadians in Uncle Sam's domain.

In an article in your issue of Dec. 24th referring to a communication from Bottineau, N. Dakota, I noticed some things that so amused me that I could not refrain from inflicting upon you and the readers of the REVIEW some comments. Your correspondent you say "writes exuberantly of the good times under McKinley and sound money" and in the same breath says that "wheat is a little lower than it was."

I cannot for the life of me see how a reduction in the price of wheat is going to make better times for the farmer. This cry of "good times," which the Republican extremists would like to make us believe followed the election is all bosh. I can prove from Dan and Bradstreet's report, the authenticity of which your Bottineau correspondent cannot doubt, that things have gone from bad to worse since the election.

According to Dan's last report there have been seventy five more business failures since the election than the corresponding time last year. If the country is booming why so many bank failures in the past two weeks in the Eastern States? Referring again to Dan's review of Dec 26th it says "there was a falling off of 21 per cent in bank exchanges in the leading cities for the five days ending Dec 24th from the corresponding days of last year, and a falling off of 16 per cent from the corresponding days of 1892." These are facts, Mr. Editor which your Bottineau correspondent cannot refute.

I am no pessimist nor an extreme partisan, but it really amuses me to see people "so blind that they will not see." The Hamilton-McKinley regime promises nothing but a continuation of the principles of Cleveland democracy. The "wave of prosperity" that was promised before the election proves to be a chimera and a myth. The only place I have heard of it striking yet in this country is Bottineau North Dakota, I hope it has focused itself on that particular spot on the prairies of North Dakota that it may soon scatter, get impetus, and rapidly spread over the rest of these United States.

Hoping that I have not trespassed too much on your time and space.

Yours &c.,
"MAC."
Denver, Colo., Dec. 28th, 1896.

Last Sabbath being the Sabbath School Anniversary in the Methodist Church, the Rev. Mr. Marshall, of Conn., preached two very instructive sermons: in the morning to the children in the evening to the teachers. On Monday evening was the children's entertainment when there was a long programme of singing, reciting, dialogues, swinging clubs, etc., etc. and last but not least a treat of candies. Both old and young enjoyed themselves.

PRICEVILLE.

Christmas and New Years are things of the past, the old year passed quietly away and peacefully away and the New Year arrived with a gentle South West breeze bringing good tidings of great joy to many a home in presenting the absent son or daughter, to the dear mother, who has been longing for the coming of the 1st Jan. 97.

What a blessed reunion to find Father, Mother, brothers and sisters seated once more around the festive table on a New Year's eve at the old homestead, but on the other hand we find the arrival of the New Year brings sadness to many in reflecting upon the incidents of the past year, for we find in many a home on this New Year morn a vacant chair. The sure messenger death entered many a dwelling and claimed for its victim the father, the mother, son or daughter. No more will that son meet the dear mother, who with longing eyes watched for the arrival of her son 12 months ago and that son with father's arms may exclaim what is a home without a mother "No indeed a home without a mother, let it be ever so good, is a poor one." Many a poor son or daughter has experienced it to their great regret, and in visiting the city of our dead we only build the grass' mounds of our dear departed ones reminding us that we too sooner or later be laid to rest also.

Mr. Arch McQuigg wound up the old year by threshing with McDougall and Fisher's Machine on Thursday last Archie has about 60 loads of peas yet which he intends to thresh with his cutting machine.

Mr. John Nichol was elected Trustee in Priceville School Section, an office he has held for many years before.

S. S. No. 10, GLENELG.—The entertainment in this school on Dec. 21st was a most successful affair. Mr. W. L. Dixon acted the part of chairman in an able manner and an excellent program of recitations, kindergarten songs, dialogues in character both humorous and entertaining, club singing by the children, and also by the teacher, an affecting speech by Mr. Dan McDonald in addition to the more solid addresses of Messrs. Binns, Hemstock, Blakestone, Don, McDonald, Staples, McKechnie, and others. Mr. Jno. McDonald, aid, sang songs in Gaelic and English. A string band furnished excellent music much to the pleasure of the evening.

Miss McCannel had evidently put much thought and preparation in her work and the result is her reward. The proceeds amounted to $14.00.
