WEDDING INVITATIONS.

It is questionable if any breach etiquette is so general as that of permitting invitations to weddings to go without acknowledgment. If the courtesy of sending you an invitation has been extended, it is a mark of ignorance or ill-breeding to allow it to remain unnoticed. A form of acknowledgment now in favor is, with each wedding invitation an envelope is sent, printed on the flap: "Please present at the church; with your card inclosed." If parties receiving same do not attend the church, then the cards should be sent to the residence.
