OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Ottawa, June 26th.—Immediately after Sir Chas. Tupper had left the city, last week, en route to England, the vague, but doubtless well founded rumor again became current in the lobbies of the House, that the venerable leader of the opposition had issued, prior to his departure, to his followers the probability of his early retirement from active political life. In the same breath it was whispered that Sir J. A. Chapleau, whose term of office as Lieut. Governor, of Quebec will terminate with the close of the present year, was likely to be called to lead the opposition forces. Hon. J. C. Paterson, the Manitoba governor, has also been spoken of, but as the latter gentleman has several years more before him of gubernatorial sweets of office, it is not probable he would leave them to accept the unremunerative honor of opposition leader, did he possess the necessary qualifications of that post. However all speculation of this character, in the event of the retirement, is mere idle report while George Eulas Foster sits and talks in parliament. Then there is Sir Chas. the younger, who also aspires to fill his sire's shoes. His aspirations in this direction, too, are backed up by the aforesaid sire. Here is the real sticking point. The insatiable ambition of the Tupper family blinds each member of it to the real situation of affairs. The country has plainly rejected the Tupperian dynasty and will have none of it, while many of the Tory rank and file, in and out of Parliament, secretly rejoice thereat. It was the towering and unscrupulous ambition of G. Eulas, on the one hand, and Sir Hibbert on the other, which led to the Weyler like treachery perpetrated against their erstwhile leader, Bowell; and it is the same dominating spirit of these two, which now keeps the Tory camp alive with its internecine warfare. I have often wondered why the irrepressible Davin—who represents a prairie returning officer of Tory predilections—has not also been spoken of as a possible leader of the opposition. He certainly takes the coin for that pre-considering Tory qualification for leadership—wind. It is said that he took the undertone this session to make a volume of Hansard for himself, has been a remarkably successful achievement for, it has been remarked, that the pages of Hansard which he has filled, would if placed side by side carpet the broad territories and leave several pages to spare. But that is a Tupperian story.

The Crow's Nest Pass Bill. At this hour of writing the bill providing for the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway has not passed the House. It will be the fault of the opposition if it is dropped this session. Sir Chas. Tupper, while he took occasion to criticise the government's proposals in relation to the railway was heartily in favor of its construction at the earliest possible moment. The government have, on their part, not been over anxious about the matter, but recognizing the necessity of the road being built in order to develop the region through which it passes, and that the project should be undertaken not by government but by private enterprise, made the terms with which we are now all familiar, with the C. P. R. for the purpose of obtaining the desired end. The interests of the Dominion have been carefully guarded by the bill brought down by the Minister of Railways, yet in order to pose before the country as opponents of the government's proposals, Mr. Foster, who leads the opposition in the absence of Sir Chas. Tupper, has seen fit to put up a very strong kick which, Mr. Blair said today, may result in defeating the bill. The government is not disposed to allow the specious criticisms of Foster and his colleagues to go before the country unchallenged and unanswered and as the life of the present session of parliament is expected to finally ebb out on Monday next, no time will be afforded for that purpose. To have the bill dropped just on the eve of its passage through the House would be a severe set-back for Mr. Foster, whose fondness for hearing the sound of his own voice and whose double attitude of sympathizer and bitter critic of the measure, will be the sole cause of its failure to pass, if so it should transpire.

Governmental ownership and control of this line of railway has been urged by many who are the members from the far west. The fear that vast monopolistic corporation, the Canadian Pacific Railway, has prompted many to advocate this course. But ownership by government and by it operated has been demonstrated in the case of the Intercolonial as an inadvisable alternative, and so it is regarded by Sir Charles Tupper as well as by the government of the day. Such an agreement cannot bring the same measure of success and profit to railway enterprise as when operated under the management of private corporations. Such a proposition is particularly applicable to the ownership and management of the Crow's Nest Pass road by the C. P. R. Company which has been so prominently successful in its vast trans continental

Merit Talks

"Merit talks" the intrinsic value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses actual and unequalled curative power and therefore it has true merit. When you buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, and take it according to directions, to purify your blood, or cure any of the many blood diseases, you are morally certain to receive benefit. The power to cure is there. You are not trying an experiment. It will make your blood pure, rich and nourishing, and thus drive out the germs of disease, strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best, in fact—the One True Blood Purifier. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Hood's Pills Do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists. 20c.

This company too, having control of the lines east and west of the Pass, must therefore influence, to a greater or less degree, the traffic expected to flow over the proposed new road, and are best interests of the whole region which they have done so much to develop.

Intercolonial extension. With a partisan Senate at their backs the Tories in the Commons are very cocky of late. They know right well that their overwhelming loss of political sympathizers in the Upper House can always be depended upon to make a sensational coup when an opportunity presents itself. The recent display of subservient partisanship in that irresponsible body, in respect to the killing of the bill relating to the extension of the Intercolonial railway from Levis into Montreal, bears out the assertion fully. It seems to me that this expected coup was undertaken more for the purpose of working upon the credulous, and timid portion of the electorate, throughout the country, by giving them the false impression that there must be some truth in the suspicion, set on foot by G. Eulas and the rest of his ilk, that there was something corrupt in the plan of the Ministry to lease the Drummond County railway in the manner and under the terms proposed. By the aid of the scrylle Tory machine in the Upper House, the weight of the semi-somnolent Senate has been lent to aid the opposition leaders in endeavor to make political capital, in the shape of a scandal they eagerly hope, out of the government's scheme in the public interest to change the annual Intercolonial railway deficit into a substantial surplus. The Senate now proposes to investigate the Drummond county railway affairs. Mr. Blair on the floor of the House to-day threw out his defiance and invited a most thorough inquiry. The result will explode another Tory fallacy and reveal the sham of the opposition charge.

Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured.

571 St. PATRICK STREET, OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896. To the Phenoline Medicine Co., Ltd. Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN.—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man.

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly, (Signed) JAMES CARROLL, Foreman of Works, Rideau canal.

Only by H. PARKER, Durham.
