

INDUCTION SERVICES AT DROMORE.

A SUCCESSFUL SOIREE.

Tuesday of this week Amos Church, Dromore, was the centre of attraction for a very large number and the object, the induction by the Presbytery of Rev. D. L. Campbell, late of Ballinacra, to the charges of Knox Church, Normanby and Amos Church, Dromore.

A mild winter day with splendid roads favored the occasion with the result that there was a very large attendance and judging by the evening receipts, it must have been the largest ever assembled there, the sum of $83 having been taken at the door.

The induction services took place in the afternoon by a special meeting of Presbytery there being present of the clergy Rev. Miller, of Holstein, who has been moderator of session during the vacancy; Rev. Mr. Morrison, Cedarville the oldest member of the Presbytery; Rev. Mr. McKellar, Conn; Rev. Mr. Jansen, Durham and Rev. Hanna, Mt. Forest.

Considerable delay occurred in obtaining the formal "release" from Orangeville Presbytery, which was meeting the same day. The telegraphic message conveying this did not arrive before Mr. Miller left, and when he got to Amos of course nothing could be done without it. The unfortunate delay was remedied, but not until an unselfish drive to Holstein and back had secured the missing link. No delay should take place in at once supplying Dromore with telephonic communication.

Rev. Mr. Jansen preached an able sermon to the people, the others addressing the minister, and performing the other usual functions, duly installing Mr. Campbell in the important work of the ministry of that place.

There were present from the sister station, Mr. R. Watson sr., Normanby, the first we believe to suggest the union of these charges, many years ago. Mr. And. McIlvride, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Allan, Mrs. Jas. Marshall sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McIlvride, Mr. John Marshall and possibly others. They were reinforced in the evening by several combinations of Normanby young people.

From Durham Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Calvert, Mrs. John McKelvie took in the afternoon. While the afternoon brought Insp. Campbell and Mr. Thos. Allan, Miss S. McKinnon, Mr. and Mrs. Ramage.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Binnie, Bunessan; Clerk Allan and daughter, of Holstein; Mr. Wm. Hastie and a neighbor from Conn; Mr. and Mrs. Reilly and Mr. Dugald McLean, Priceville; Mr. D. McIntyre, Balsam Valley; Messrs. Ferguson and Alcorn, Swinton Park were among the many from outside points.

The basement as usual on such occasions was a gay and lively scene. Evergreen boughs, tables laden with rich viands. Sprightly youth and mature age all intermingled and furnished a most pleasing opportunity for Mr. and Mrs. Campbell to make the acquaintance of their new flock and this was well and heartily done.

For sometime past the manse has been undergoing renovation, inside and out, and now looks the warm welcome which is uttered on every hand to the young pastor and his wife by the people of Egremont and Normanby of every denomination. The REVIEW just here may throw in its cordial good wishes to pastor and people on the union just consummated.

EVENING MEETING.

Moderator Miller occupied the chair and most have been gratified at the excellent order maintained throughout.

Rev. Mr. McKellar spoke on the light that had emanated from that pulpit in the past, and trusted a long era of prosperous spiritual light and life was before them. In common with all the successful speakers warm felicitations were extended to the two chief figures of the occasion, and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell must feel that they are entering on a pastorate under happy and harmonious auspices.

Mr. Jansen paid Dromore young ladies the compliment of having influenced him to remain for the evening, a statement which drew upon him some pleasant rallery from succeeding speakers. He referred to the time Mr. Campbell had been one of his "boys" while stationed on Manitoulin Id., and if Mr. Campbell was a success he was going to claim a share in it. He reminded the people that they had made vows to-day as well as their pastor and hoped they would ever give him encouragement by regular attendance, faithfulness, etc.

Mr. T. Allan forcibly pointed out that pastor and people were one whole and hoped the united spirit and devotion to make a successful going church would be fully in evidence.

Rev. Mr. Humphreys of the Methodist charges of Priceville, Greenside, etc., was the next speaker and expressed the pleasure it gave him to welcome his new neighbor. He also spoke impressively on the value of the habit of regularity in all church duties and especially the service of the sanctuary.

Rev. Mr. Morrison, Cedarville, though with vision getting dimmed to earthly things still has spiritual light and clearness, when before the people with a gospel theme or presenting gospel privileges. He spoke very warmly of Mr. Campbell, whom he had valued as a co-worker in Proton, and hoped the people there would ever hold up the hands of their new pastor.

Mr. C. Ramage, of Durham, made a few remarks in the prevailing congratulatory strain and was succeeded by the chief lay speaker of the evening, whose travels and experiences abroad are well known to REVIEW readers. We mean of course Inspector Campbell. His opening was both facetious and felicitous. He spoke of religion as a living work-a-day thing as shown by the sermon on the mount, and to show the value of concentrated ideas in religion, he took as his topic the mammoth "Bon Marche" store in Paris as an illustration of what could be accomplished in earthly things by concentrated work. The same expansion in spiritual things would follow if the same principles were applied.

The vast store employing 4500 hands was graphically portrayed in some of its wonderful features especial emphasis being laid on the relation existing between employees and employer, a relation founded on practical Christian Socialism.

Rev. Mr. Campbell was then called upon and paid a fine happy compliment to Rev. Mr. Morrison whose fatherly interest in him in Proton had been much appreciated. He then very warmly and courteously thanked his people for the splendid provision they had made for their comfort in the manse, as well as the cordial spirit displayed in their reception. He also referred happily to his acquaintance with Mr. Jansen on the "island." He looks into the future with a trustful confidence which will not be misplaced. He sat down amidst warm applause.

The benediction by Rev. Mr. Morrison closed a very pleasant meeting.

NOTE & COMMENT

—It is over 30 years since the American Civil war closed, yet the Pension list has continued to increase. The threat of publication of the pensioners has, however, caused awakening enquiries and a "revolving system of imposture" has been revealed. Bystander in last week's Sun says: "It appears that maladies easily curable by a light operation are cherished as title to a yearly demand upon the State. Pensions are claimed on account of fanciful diseases of the nerve centers, alleged deafness, and impairment of vision. The chief agents of fraud are the pension attorneys, who are everywhere at work. But it finds abettors in the people of the districts into which the money is brought. Dr. Stebbins, an expert and a veteran of the war, describes the tricks practised by malingerers. Soldiers would walk on crutches, feigning lameness, simulate corruption by painting their cheeks a ghastly color, simulate spitting of blood by chewing red chalk, and pretend that they were blind, deaf or dumb. Not only do the impostors themselves draw pensions, but they transmit the fraudulent claim to worthless women, who, for the sake of it, have become their nominal wives. It is no wonder that desperate opposition has been made to the publication of the pension list." It is believed that 20 millions are spent fraudulently for this purpose.

THE PAPAL ENCYCLICAL.

The long expected document from the Pope on the Manitoba School Question situation has been made public, having been read in the Basilica, Quebec last Sunday. It is addressed to "Our Venerable brothers the Archbishop, Bishops and other ordinaries of the Dominion of Canada having peace and communion with the Holy See," and is signed: "Leo. P. P. XIII." It is a lengthy affair couched in a pleasing, earnest strain, gentle, yet firm, in its outline of the course to be pursued, but, alas for human fallibility, there is the Globe says, a distinct difference of opinion between Ontario and Quebec Bishops as to its correct interpretation.

After a historical reference to the part played in the development of Canada by the early French Missionaries and the zeal yet observable in clergy and people it goes on to observe the importance which the Catholic church places upon education and so comes to the main question, which he had considered after hearing from the delegate Del Val.

He takes as premises that "the Act of Confederation secured to Catholic children the right of education in public schools in keeping with their conscientious convictions" and comes to the conclusion that a grave injury was inflicted when "the parliament of of Manitoba abolished this right by contrary law."

It goes on to object to scientific instruction and mere intellectual culture in public school as sufficient to induce good morals and deduces that Catholic schools are imperative. The clergy are commended for their vigilance but he deprecates the fact that Catholic Canadians would not all see eye to eye on this matter. Fraternal unanimity and not discord must prevail if their ends were to be attained.

We append a specimen paragraph of a document which may have far reaching effects but which will never bring about a restoration of the schools as they existed prior to 1890.

"As regards especially the Catholics of Manitoba, we have every confidence that by God's help they will succeed in obtaining full satisfaction. This hope is founded, in the first place, in the righteousness of the cause, next in the sense of justice and prudence of the men at the head of the Government and finally in the good will of all upright men in Canada. In the meantime, until they are able to obtain their full rights, let them not refuse partial satisfaction. If therefore, anything is granted by law to custom, or the good-will of men, which will render the evil more tolerable and the dangers more remote, it is expedient and useful to make use of such concession and to derive therefrom as much benefit and advantage as possible. Where however, no remedy can be found for the evil, we must exhort and beseech that it be provided against by the liberality and munificence of their contributions, for no one can do anything more salutary for himself or more conducive to the prosperity of his country than to contribute, according to his means, to the maintenance of these schools."

—The British engineers' strike, the greatest industrial struggle of modern times, is having disastrous effects on British trade. The outlook however is favorable for a settlement in a few weeks, with as usual, capital on top.

—Britain and France are each on "the race to Khartoum" from different directions. France would like to have zone of influence from the east to the west coast, while Britain's aim is to have the waterways from the Nile to the Cape.

HOLSTEIN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Vance of Riverview, attended the marriage of their niece, Ethel M. Micklebrough to Alex. Brown which took place last Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's father, Robt. Micklebrough.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsburgh visited friends at Irish Lake over Saturday and Sunday. John Hunt and wife and son Fred of Fergus, were guests of Holstein friends for a few days last week.

Willie Starling and Geo. Lewis Mt. Forest, visited at Geo. Freeman's lately.

James Wilson, of Fergus, was renewing old acquaintances in the village for a couple of days last week.

Sam and Morice Tribe and Miss Mattie are this week visiting Winterbourn friends.

A few evenings ago a young man living not more than a hundred miles from the village took his best girl out for a drive but having to go by a road they had not been accustomed to, and the snow being deep and the road drifted, which caused an upset. Now Jack, you will have to be more careful when you are driving over those high roads and bye roads and lanes.

Miss Mary Leslie who has been in the City for the past few months is home for a few holidays.

TOP CLIFF.

Wood cutting and choring around is the order of the day and we are having fine weather for both.

Mr. Alfred Hincks has been engaged for some time past drawing out logs and taking home lumber and preparing all the necessaries for erecting a combined barn and driving house.

"It is better to be sure than sorry." So thinks one of our young men who drove down the line one evening last week but was disappointed owing to the absence of the object of his visit and a circling outer track marked the course of his downward trip.

Cut In Two

We counted up our stock of Trimmed Hats the other day and found we have still 25 (Twenty Five) on hand. Now we dont want to carry one of them into the stock book and there's only one way of doing it. Regardless of cost we have cut the prices exactly in half.

Like our Boothville friends we are badly in need of a Literary Society or a Debating Club of some sort where our friends could meet and enjoy themselves. Talent is not lacking as we have any amount waiting to be developed.

Mrs. McPhail is at present visiting friends in Bruce where she intends to remain for some time.

A jolly crowd from Scotch Town visited Mr. Pat. Sullivan's on New Year's night where they spent an enjoyable time as is generally their custom. Come again boys not forgetting the ladies.

Mr. Dan MacDonald is at present troubled with a sore eye resulting from a bad cold which terminated into something like inflammation. We would advise him to take care of that precious organ as lack of attention might result in something worse.

We are pleased to state that Miss Hannah McKinnon has recovered from her erysipelas attack.

This week it is our painful duty to eulogize the death of Mr. John McDonald, South Line, Artemesia, who died on the 4th day of January at the early age of 17 years after a sickness of only nine days. He was a clever, industrious, promising, young man, highly respected by all who knew him and his sudden departure from our mid-is felt keenly by all. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved parents in their sad affliction.

CULTIVATING THE HABIT OF PROMPTNESS.

Elizabeth Harrison, in one of her talks to mothers on child-culture, relates the following incident:

"A friend came to me and said; 'What shall I do with my Willie? He dallies so about everything he has to do. If I send him upstairs after my thimble and thread it may be a half-hour, or even an hour, before he returns. I have scolded and scolded him, but it seems to do no good.'

"By scolding," I replied, 'you have emphasized the fault you wished to cure, and have separated yourself from your boy. Now, try to emphasize the opposite virtue—promptness—by praising him for it when you have the opportunity.'

"There's no use talking of that," she answered; 'he is never prompt.'

"Then," I said, 'if he is never so voluntarily, make any occasion. Ask him to go to the kitchen or some other part of the house, on an errand for you; tell him that you will count while he is gone. When he comes back commend him for having returned more quickly than usual. At noon tell his father, as if it were a fine bit of news, 'This will make it a meritorious achievement in your son's eyes.'

"The next week she came to me with her face fairly radiant, and said: 'I have been counting, and Willie has been trotting ever since last week.' I laughed, and told her that her mother wit would soon have to hunt up some new device,

Further, so cultivate the rational element in yourselves that you can see that every fault in your child is simply the lack of some virtue. In the inner chamber of your minds study your children, confess their faults to yourselves, not to your neighbors, and ask what is lacking that these defects exist. Like Nehemiah of old, build up the wall where it is the weakest; if your child is selfish, it is unselfishness that needs cultivation; if he is untruthful, it is accuracy that is lacking; perhaps he is tyrannical to the younger brother or sister; it is the element of nurture of tenderness which should be developed. Build up the positive side of your child's nature and the negative side will not need to be rebuilt.—Ez.
