

MORGAN MEETINGS

Opening of the Campaign

The first meetings in the Liberal interest in the riding will be held as follows:

LOUISE, Monday Jan. 24th.
ELMWOOD, Tues. Jan. 25th.
NEUSTADT, Wed. Jan. 26th.
AYTON, Thursday Jan. 27th.
HERBST School House, Friday January 28th.
HAMPDEN, Sat. Jan. 28th.

Meetings at 8 p. m. They will be addressed by Mr. J. D. Morgan and his friends, and opposition speakers are invited.
GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

NOTE & COMMENT

Queen Victoria recently paid a fine of five shilling for allowing one of her dogs to go unmuzzled though in charge of an unuzzled. Exemption was claimed for her but the Magistrate ruled otherwise, and she paid it.

"Time for a change" yes, when, say, Ross, Gibson and Davis desert the Cabinet and go into the sulks, when Harby calls them a "nest of traitors," when the public business is delayed to patch up ministers' quarrels, when the air is rank with jobs and jobbery, then it will be time for a change indeed.

Judge Jette has been appointed Lieut. Governor of Quebec in place of Sir Adolph Chapleau. The Premier has again solved a difficult problem for many friends of Langelier, a prominent Liberal, were pushing him for the position and tory papers were openly exulting at what was deemed a "split in the Cabinet" or at least in the ranks. Langelier has been raised to the bench, and the cunning ways of Sir Wilfred have again brought peace and harmony.

Bengough has a powerful cartoon in a recent Globe dealing with the statement the Mail makes, as if there were no qualifying circumstances, that "if 18 years were so long that it was time for a change surely 25 was." In one corner is a rapacious wolf, labelled "extravagance and corruption" while the other has a faithful sheep dog representing "honest service," while the Mail and Empire Prof. of Logic! is saying "surely if 18 years is too long for a wolf to prey on you, 25 must be too long to retain the services of a faithful sheep dog.

For the first time in many years there is no sectarian issue in an Ontario election. We ought not to forget that this is a splendid vindication of the policy of the Ontario Government. Every vulnerable point, every point supposed to be so, has been carefully scathed by its opponents. It was charged with appointing too many Catholics to public offices, it was charged with neglecting Catholics. It was charged with strengthening the separate School law. It was charged with constructing a part of the ceiling of the Legislative chamber in the form of a cross. It was charged with mutilating the Bible in collusion with the late Archbishop Lynch. It was charged with giving too much money to Catholic Hospitals. Mr. Whitney was once among the assailants of the Government on this very ground. By his silence now he simply says, "All these years the Liberal Government of Ontario has been right on these questions."
—Globe

MR. HARDY.

The Legislature has completed its work and the 4th session of the eighth parliament of Ontario has closed.

Mr. Hardy as premier has never yet appealed to the people though he has led the house for two sessions. To follow such a man as Sir Oliver Mowat was no easy task, but Mr. Hardy has justified the expectations of his friends that, as leader he would have the firmness and the suaviter required in that important position.

The success of the Ontario Liberal administration has been very largely aided by Mr. Hardy, who for about the whole of 25 years has been prominent in the councils of his province.

He is still in the prime of his political life, has a record unassailable. No personal blemish attaches to his name and his administrative record is remarkably free from stain of any kind. It is this honest, capable, leader of a capable administration that should be sustained at the polls and we hope when the day comes the Liberal Candidate here, Mr. J. D. Morgan, will be sent from South Grey as one of a large majority to prolong the blessings of a Liberal administration for this province.

"ANNUAL BALL"

But it cannot and shall not be that the gentlemen are over-looked. All night they flew under the electric lights resolved to do nothing to chill the enthusiasm of the young hearts there. Some one said your cotem, wronged himself by writing as he did, but still he must be congratulated on the graphic descriptions in the report but, still read it over, read it over again and you will agree with me that it was a very nice offering.

There was Mr. Black, did he not look charming in black with diamonds? and the up-town Jim, you know him, with those lavender kids and that fascinating glance. Mr. "Munn" wore lovely cuff buttons; "Charlie" was there, wouldn't he kill you? Lower town Jim had his "locks" dressed in Toronto and looked very pretty; the "Doc" wore a white vest and a pair of cashmere socks. "Wasn't he fetching?" "Norm" was there and the lights kept on—nuff said—"Ben" looked well, so tall and aristocratic, and talked "chickens."

But who was the champion? "Sammy" of course, although he did say next morning, "I passed a miserable night." But listen at midnight, strange mystic hour, who said, "Fegone, no dread silence for me," Tell Ford we will sing—Auld Lang Syne—he wore black and white; Mr. Carr Hill looked handsome in powder and smoke—but "Reddy" he had the fever, his lips did from their color flee, as he whispered, he still my "flopping" heart be still. But "whist" did you see little "Billy" the Durham aristocrat he wore a dickey trimmed with rhine stones. The manager wearing a sweet smile and a knowing air, pleased everybody. The "sheep farmer" was detained with a pet lamb, but Upper Canada Jack took his place.

The girls may say this account utterly, totally and meanly false but read the above again and tell me is it not as true as what we read regarding the Bachelor's Annual Ball in a local cotem about a week ago.

"ON LOOKER."

VARNEY.

Mr. Wm. Edie was favored with a surprise party Wednesday night last.

Mr. D. Allan took a load of youth and beauty of our town to Orchardville Church, last Sunday night with his handsome boys.

Lookout for the concert in the Orange Hall on the 25th; it is going to be a good one.

A number of our young people drove out to the home of Mrs. Robson on Monday night last and spent a pleasant evening.

Miss Lula Dickson of Glen Eden is spending a week with her Aunt Mrs. D. Allan.

MURDOCH.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sharpe and Rena, of Dundalk, spent a couple of days last week visiting Murdoch, Holstein and Mt. Forest friends.

Mrs. Jas. Sharpe, of South Bend, was the guest of Mrs. D. Sharpe last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Corut of the North West are at present renewing old acquaintances. Jake it will be remembered worked for a number of years in the employ of Mr. J. Brown.

We are sorry to state that Mrs. Baird is at present in a very low state of health but under the care of Dr. Jamieson, we hope soon to hear of her recovery.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. J. Lunny almost despaired of the life of their little baby girl, who is just arriving at an interesting age, but under the care of Dr. Park, hopes are entertained of her recovery.

A little girl arrived at the home of Mr. Alex. Allan and one at the home of Mr. Wm. Grasby recently. Both are welcome.

A sleigh load of the 2nd spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Miss M. Oreilard, of your town last Tuesday evening.

BOOTHVILLE.

Thos. Wilson and his cousin James R. visited the parental home last Sunday.

Angus McCannel with his sister Margaret visited Osprey friends last week. Angus has bought Duncan Galbraith's farm for the sum of $1800. He has a cheap farm.

Mr. Donald Graham, of Scotch Town, drove through here to transact business between his sister, Mrs. McKepnie and Noble Wilson who has leased her farm for a term of years.

Miss Lizzie Wilson, of Boothville, visited friends at Dromore last week.

John McQueen disposed of seven head of cattle to a farmer east of Cedarville for a good price. There are lots of fat cattle at this corner yet.

The Annual Meeting of the Boothville Cheese Factory will be held at the factory on Monday 24th. All are requested to attend.

Jack Campbell and Herman Haw were to the Liberal meeting in Durham last Saturday to arrange matters.

What we would like to know:— If Angus is going to Klondyke? Did D. get his over-shoes? Will there be some weddings soon? Who will break the ice?

DROMORE.

Mr. Robt. Russell is at present visiting his sister Mrs. A. Taylor here.

A charming little lady came recently to stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Aitchison. All are well.

Miss Davison, of Mt. Forest, who has been visiting here, returned to her home Saturday.

Fair and good looking Miss Ferris from near Markdale, is at present enlivening our town with her presence.

A Magic Lantern performance was given here Monday night by a Mr. Steer, who is unfortunately blind.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Margaret Amos, met with a severe accident by falling down stairs and received some bad bruises.

A sleigh load of the youth and beauty of this fair hamlet enjoyed a drive to, and the hospitality of the home of Mr. Wm. Hunter on Thursday last.

A very large congregation, some from other churches turned out on Sunday to hear the Rev. D. L. Campbell's first sermon, which proved to be very appropriate to the occasion. Mr. Campbell passed through the ordeal of his first effort very successfully.

FAIRWELL CORNERS.

Mr. Fred Hargrave visited friends in Walkerton recently.

We are glad to hear Miss Hannah McKinnon is able to be around again.

A jolly load of young people from Priceville drove through here on their way to Mt. Forest last Tuesday. We hear they were well supplied with matches—as could be seen by the flame of them a half mile in distance.

Mr. D. McKinnon was in Markdale last Tuesday week and disposed of a fine horse while in care.

Misses Maggie and Flora McCannel and Messrs McLeod and D. McKinnon spent Thursday evening with a pleasant surprise party—from Priceville and vicinity—at Mr. Robert Shurtreed's.

Miss Alice Wilson spent a few days pleasant visit with friends near Durham recently.

Mr. Angus McLachlan was a visitor at the Corners last Friday.

A wedding and a party is the expectation south of here in the near future.

We join in wishing the Editor and the many readers of the REVIEW, a very happy and prosperous New Year.

ROB ROY.

Grant McComb we learn has been under the weather for a week lately.

Mr. Jesse Edwards has intentions of moving to the County Town in the spring. He visited there lately and says that the Owen Sound people expect good times next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McComb visited Varney one day last week.

The home of Mr. Alex. Morton of the south line was the scene of a pleasing event last Monday evening when three sleigh loads of pleasure seekers found their way there. Two loads were taken from near by, Mr. Wm. Britton and G. McComb. Mr. Dan. McDonald brought a load from Durham. A most enjoyable time was spent in playing games, etc. Messrs. John Gray and Wm. Britton gave several selections on the violin which sounded fine. Mr. and Mrs. Morton used their best efforts to entertain the company and after partaking of a refreshing luncheon the guests were kept going an hour or two longer when all came to the conclusion that it was time to go home, well satisfied with the evening's amusement.

Mrs. Wm. Britton and her two daughters are at present visiting friends in Bentinck.

The entertainment which was given in the school last Saturday evening by Edmund Steer did not turn so good as was expected.

Mr. Wm. Ryan was busy last week hauling out his stock of dry four foot wood. He had two carloads which even at a low price would bring a nice little pile.

Miss Ida McEwen of Mt. Forest who spent the last two weeks visiting among the McComb families left for her home last Friday.
