

THE NOMINATIONS.

A TRIANGULAR FIGHT

Tuesday saw a great crowd in town and a thoroughly mixed up crowd they were all of the three parties having a fair share of support.

Mr. Thos. Lauder had three names handed in as was fully expected. Mr. McNichol was moved by Mr. Wm. Allan, seconded by Mr. E. Hunt; Mr. Morgan by Mr. Gilbert McKechnie, seconded by Mr. Geo Binnie; Dr. Jamieson by Mr. Stone, seconded by Mr. Joshua Woodland.

A very large crowd outside were disappointed in not getting seating room. The decision to speak inside was made before the hall was nearly full. We say this because a paltry attempt was made on the street to blame Mr. Morgan for the refusal to come outside.

All the speakers got a good hearing and each presented his claim in a manner similar to that done at the meetings. For once they were all together and if any one thought Dr. Jamieson's constant reference to Mr. Morgan's absence from the combined meetings had a hint that Mr. Morgan was afraid to meet them they must have been undeceived on Nominating day for in the opinion of many Mr. Morgan made the most effective speech of the day. He surprised his opponents and delighted his friends and he received many congratulations.

Messrs. Harry Willis and John Corlett, the latter we believe a good Tory Patron, demanded a poll for Dr. Jamieson.

The run of the Dr's arguments are chiefly intended to seduce Tory patrons from Mr. McNichol, 'one of the Grit candidates' as he is pleased to call him, though Mr. McNichol points out that he voted often with the Tories than with the Grits.

The result of Mr. McNichol's arguments have much the same result as he finds so much to praise in the Hardy Government (as everyone does who approaches the subject without bias) that patrons "with Conservative instincts" have more than they can stand in many cases.

This double influence is undoubtedly at work, and on March 1st few of those Tory patrons will remain true to their late allies and the result will be that Mr. McNichol's following will be chiefly a section of the reform party and a few illiberal enough to refuse support to Mr. Morgan because he is a Catholic.

Walpole once said an ambassador to a foreign country was a man appointed to do the lying for the nation. The Review never has and never will do the lying for any party, and our belief most truly is in this crisis that independent voters in South Grey should rise in their might and do themselves honor by voting for the able and broadminded candidate of that Liberal Government which has made and is keeping this province a place to be proud of even in the opinion of Dr. Jamieson.

We regret to oppose Mr. McNichol but with no chance of winning, his candidature is simply endangering a government worthy on his own testimony of a very generous support and candid men should feel like the quaker when about to use his gun on an intruder, "Friend I don't want to do thee harm but I intend to fire right where thee standest."

One week more and the agony will be over. Let there be no overconfidence, no relaxation and next week will see South Grey in line with a majority of the seats of the province supporting an honest administration with no charge over them, no scandal among them. It is not time for a change.

—Hardy for Premier
—Morgan for South Grey
—Boland for East Grey.
—Cleland for North Grey.
—Good government for us all.
—Freedom, Justice and Toleration the watchwords.

—Progressive government assured by the proud record of 26 years.

—Somebody will have a lot of explaining to do after next Tuesday.

—Speaker Evanturel, Prescott, and Trux of South Bruce are elected by acclamation, a start of two for the government.

—Mr. Knechtel, speaking at a meeting in Hanover, said that every vote cast for the independent Candidate would be a lost one, as he had no show whatever in this election.

—We don't think the Ontario government has done everything for temperance it might have done, but what it has done in the way of restriction has received more opposition from the Opposition, than was given to the expenditures of moneys by the government.

—Mr. Morgan supports this temperance government. None of the candidates are prohibitionists. They all belong to the great class of moderate drinkers, notwithstanding false and shameful stories have been circulated accusing the Liberal candidate of loose habits in this respect. Ontario occupies a foremost place in advanced temperance legislation.

—The crimes of the government: selling pine to build prisons, taking money for mining dues for the moral purpose of building asylums &c. for unfortunate fellow beings. Allowing pigs to take Cholera, selling school books cheaper than any other province in the Dominion or State in the union. But to drop the sarcasm, they are charged with being friends of Michigan more than of Ontario! What on earth would they be this for? Is there no record of the m standing up for Ontario? The only conclusion is they are charged with granting favors for money returns a charge not one of the Conservatives can substantiate. The charge comes with a bad grace from a party whose Leader, Whitney, is the acknowledged solicitor of a Michigan firm, and one of his brothers, it is alleged, is a partner in one.

—The ballot paper contains the following names arranged in alphabetical order, and we expect to see the scriptural injunction fulfilled. "The last shall be first." If the merits of the man and the Government he supports are considered he certainly will.

Jamieson.
McNichol.
Morgan x

The voter above has marked his ballot for Morgan and capable Government.

our educational system in competition with the world at the World's Fair at Chicago took first place. Mr. Whitney advised an advisory board, in which case the minister might shift responsibility upon the board and the board upon the minister and what would be everybody's business, would have been nobody's business but the people would have to pay the expense of the advisory board.

School Books: It is claimed that the price is too high. As an easy statement to make but as yet unproved. If school books were let by tender, as is advised, it would be much more likely to increase than to lower prices. There are but few large publishing houses in Ontario and as it takes very large capital to purchase the necessary outfit for the publication of our text books the probability is that in the event of an advertisement for tenders the publishers would combine and agree to a division of the work at prices fixed by the combine, but Mr. Ross prevents this by more prudent methods and sees that the books are furnished at prices which an independent Commission consisting of Judge Morgan, Mr. Robinson of a Presbyterian publishing house and Mr. Bain, Public Librarian, (most falsely and unreasonably termed a "free commission") after an examination of interested and uninterested paper-makers, printers and book-binders pronounce so low as to afford but a reasonable and a moderate profit. Dr. Jamieson recomends the Government to print the school books that they may be cheaper. Why not as reasonably ask the Government to make our shoes, agricultural implements or anything else that we think too dear? To establish a Government printing bureau would—like the advisory board—simply and unnecessarily employ a large staff of Government officials.

Timber Question: The Government have always sold their timber limits to the highest bidder, and with the proceeds have opened Colonization roads, built asylums, hospitals, schools and reformatories which are the property of and for the benefit of the people of the Province. Just as a farmer on a bush farm might sell his logs and cordwood and with the proceeds build houses, barns, stables and fences and make other improvements simply converting capital at present unproductive assets that which will be immediately and permanently productive.

License System: Dr. Jamieson says that the present license system is a good one and much better than total prohibition.

Time For A Change: Why do the opponents of the Government think it is time for a change? There may be some man who thinks it time that your Township should change its clerk, why? Why does he want the position and the salary for the only man to vote for, Mr. Whitney thinks it is time for a change, but how will the people be benefited?

Apparently with no hope of succeeding by fair means some canvassers and speakers opposing the Government have resorted to means most unfair and most abused, for instance, one Conservative speaker unblushingly asserts that the Government employ thirteen hundred fire rangers, that Mr. Campbell the Provincial Road Commissioner is a duly qualified and unusually capable Civil Engineer—is a lawyer, other equally untrue statements respecting the character of Mr. Morgan, that yarns must injure the cause which those who spin them seek to help.

The Candidates: we know of no reason why anything should be said against the personal character of any of the three candidates, and if they were as deservingly respected and if they were as deservingly respected as to whom should go the victory, but let every elector remember that if the present Government is to be assisted Mr. Morgan is the only man to vote for, a vote for the Independent candidate is likely to be a vote lost as it is generally conceded that he has no chance to win and every Reformer who votes the Independent ticket is assisting the Conservative candidate. To vote for Mr. Whitney to do what? What is his policy?

Yours Truly,
H. H. MILLER.

MCCALLUM IN THE RIDING.

Mr. A. B. McCallum, B. A., of Paisley one of the most ardent and most eloquent of the Liberals in the province held four meetings in the riding last week. At Priceville Watson's Hall was jammed full. Messrs. Riley and T. McComb respectively spoke for the Conservative and Independent candidates. Mr. McComb is a new stump but has surprised his friends. The meeting was a rousing success.

At Drumore Thursday night McCallum had a different audience. Russell Hall was nearly filled with a mixture of Reformers, Patrons and a few Conservatives. Dr. Jamieson had no champion and Messrs. J. Geddes, Sr., and W. Allen spoke for McNichol. Morgan was at both these meetings and made a good presentation of his case. Mr. Geddes, Sr. felt aggrieved at the alleged scurrilousness of the Review and made some pithy remarks to which we editor replied.

Drury's School House and Latona were also favored with McCallum's eloquence and wherever he has gone he testifies to the warmth of his reception as an advocate for Morgan and good government.

AGENTS

ROB ROY.
Hurray for McNichol! He's the man. Miss Esther McCoskey of Toronto is spending a week at her old home. We are glad to see her look so well. The injuries she received last week in an accident are mending rapidly and we hope she will soon be alighting again. The social which was held last Friday evening at Mr. Z. Clark's of Yarney was well represented from this part. There was a large crowd and all seemed to enjoy themselves especially "Billy" from Rob Roy.

ZION.

Snowed up, did you say! well no, no! exactly, but Graham Timmons when going to see his best girl had to order the pathmaster out to shovel a road through the side road.

Mr. C. E. Brooks, piano and organ tuner and repairer spent the 16th and 17th of Feb. around Zion.

Several of our young men talk of going west in the spring, well we think it will be a change as some of them are going east quite often.

Mr. William Edwards tells us that he has the offer of a situation in Manitoba, which he will probably accept. In that case he would like to sell or rent his farm. We understand that this move will bring him near Mrs. Edwards relations who live near Brandon.

Rather cold weather for the time of season, but that might be said of the wood bees this winter, upwards of a dozen being on the list.

Mr. Michael Kenny held a wood bee on the 14th, when upwards of thirty cords of wood was sawn, split and piled before the sun went down. Of course there was the usual party at night when all the youth and beauty of the country side were assembled, and kept the floor humming and the fiddle thrumming till the small hours.
