

(From the Owen Sound Advertiser.) The adjournment sittings of the High Court of Justice were opened at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Court House by Mr. Justice MacMahon. His Lordship, it will be remembered, came very prominently before the public as the presiding judge at the famous Birchall murder trial. Owing to the death of the clerk of the Court, Mr. George Inglis, the duties of the office are being performed by his deputy, Capt. Tait Robertson. Besides the members of the local bar Mr. H. P. O'Connor, Q. C. of Walkerton is in attendance.

After the Court had been formally opened the following Grand Jury were sworn in: Jas. S. Wilson, S. A. Smelser, William Kyle, Thos. Hoath, James Smith, Walter A. Gillies, Geo. Wright, Francis Pole, Isaac Traynor, M. Howey Geo. Turner, Geo. H. Arthur. The jury chose Mr. Jas. Smith as their foreman.

The following members of the petit jury are from this end of the County: Edward Ryan, Henry Ringel, Thos. McFarlane, Normanby, John McLean, Jno. McLean, Thos. Melosh, Glenelg; Jas. Best, Jas. Brodie, Wm. L. Wright, Artemesia; Wm. Vollett, Henry Urstad, Hugel Tyreman, Wm. Wilson, Bentinck; Edward Henderson, Egmont; Thos. Carson, Thos. Watson, Proton; Jno. Chapman, Markdale.

His Lordship in his charge to the Grand Jury was happy to be able to give it the assurance that its duties on this occasion would not be at all onerous. According to the calendar which the Sheriff had presented to him there were only two persons in the jail awaiting trial for criminal offences. Considering the extent and large population of the county this was a remarkable good showing. The Judge then explained the nature and circumstances surrounding the charges which would come before them, and informed the jury that if they considered it advisable they might inspect the jail and other institutions upon which public money is expended. In closing his charge His Lordship expressed his deep regret, he remarked, which everyone who was in the habit of attending the Court would feel at the untimely death of the late Clerk. For himself, and he thought he voiced the sentiment of the vast majority of the citizens of the county, he considered him one of the most efficient and courteous officials who ever presided in a court of justice. His death occasioned a great loss to the Court, and to the community in which he lived.

QUEEN VS. CAMEY MCINTYRE.

The prisoner, Camery McIntyre alias Boyes, is a young woman from Meaford, apparently about twenty-one or twenty two years of age. She was convicted on a charge of having stolen some $70, the property of Mr. J. W. Hartman, of St. Vincent. The circumstances surrounding the case are briefly thus: In January last the prisoner was domiciled as a domestic in the home of Mr. Hartman. On Friday evening a neighbor paid to Mr. Joseph Hartman in the presence of the accused $70 in payment of a debt. The denomination of the money was five $10 and four $5 bills, the $10 bills being Bank of Hamilton notes. The next day about 3:30 o'clock p. m., while the money was in the pocket of Mr. Hartman's clothes, which were hanging in his room, the prisoner went upstairs, and immediately afterwards announced her intention of returning to Meaford. This she did and on the same evening purchased in Gray's store at that place goods to the value of $27, giving in payment bills resembling those belonging to Mr. Hartman. It was further shown that on the day previous she had been without money of any account. She was arrested on the following Sunday, and on her way to the lock-up made several incriminating statements to the constable. W. J. Hatton, her counsel, offered no defence, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred until the close of the court. A. G. MacKay, M. A., for the Crown.

DICKSON VS. MEIR.

Both parties, David A. Dickson, marble cutter, and George Meir, agent, are residents of Owen Sound. The action was for $2000 damages for slander. The history of the case is briefly thus: Dickson was invested by Meir with the powers of agent in disposing of certain sewer pipe, and in complications which arose was charged by the latter with having stolen some $187 worth of the pipe. Verdict, $800 and costs for the plaintiff. A. G. MacKay, M. A., for plaintiff; J. W. Frost for defendant.

MARTIN VS. BOYLE.

Both parties are farmers residing in the township of Sydenham. The plaintiff charged the defendant with the seduction of his daughter, and sought to recover damages to the extent of $2,000. No defence was offered, and an interlocutory judgment was entered awarding the damages assessed at $50. A. G. MacKay M.A. for the plaintiff.

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is a strengthening food and tonic, remarkable in its flesh-forming properties. It contains Cod-Liver Oil emulsified or partially digested, combined with the well-known and highly prized Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, so that their potency is materially increased.

What Will It Do?

It will arrest loss of flesh and restore to a normal condition the infant, the child and the adult. It will enrich the blood of the anemic; will stop the cough, heal the irritation of the throat and lungs, and cure incipient consumption. We make this statement because the experience of twenty-five years has proven it in tens of thousands of cases.

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. Sold in bottles of $1.00, all druggists. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

The plaintiff resides in the township of Sydenham. The action is to recover $220 for the contents of his barn which was destroyed by fire in May last, and which is alleged to have been covered by an insurance policy. Verdict for $148 and cost for plff. Kilbourn & Kilbourn for plff.; A. G. MacKay and John Armstrong & Telford for defts.

QUEEN VS. CHRISTIAN WELTZ.

The prisoner, who resides in Normanby, was charged with having carnal knowledge of Mary Catharine Travis in July 1896, then a girl under fourteen years of age. After the case was partly tried the case was withdrawn from the jury and a verdict of not guilty recorded. A. G. MacKay crown counsel; H. G. Tucker for prisoner.

A. M. RUSH VS. MURPHY.

An action brought under what is known as the "Workmen's Compensation Injuries Act." The plaintiff was severely injured while assisting in the erection of a frame shed upon the defendant's mill premises at Murphy's siding G. T. R. Negligence on the part of the foreman of the defendant in not taking proper precaution for the safety of the men engaged in the work, was alleged by the plaintiff. The defence denied negligence on the part of the foreman, and alleged contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff. The jury answered all the questions submitted by His Lordship in favor of the plaintiff, and awarded him $400 damages and costs. W. J. Hatton for plff.; H. G. Tucker for deft.

HOPKINS VS O.S. GREY & BRUCE LOAN AND SAVING SOCIETY.

This was the action brought by Benjamin Hopkins against the Owen Sound Grey and Bruce Loan and Saving Society to have the sale of a certain property on Polet street, under powers vested in a certain mortgage held by the defendants set aside as invalid. The case was compromised by the defendants paying the plaintiff $975, and each party paying their own costs. J. W. McCullough for plaintiff; Armstrong & Telford for defendants.

AN IMPORTANT CURE.

Galt, Oct. 29th, 1896. J. M. McLeod, Goderich: Dear Sir,—You will remember well the state I was in when I went to Goderich two years ago last May. I had been suffering over a year with heart disease and nervous prostration. For four days at a time I had to lie in bed. My liver and kidneys were also affected. I was run down and so weak that I could not continue on my feet. I tried three doctors without getting any benefit. I was only getting worse all the time. I took one bottle of your Protein Resurgam and one of your System Renovator. Before I was through with them I felt like a new person. I continued till I took three bottles of each. As you are aware we had an addition to the family since then. I am to-day well able to do all my own house work as well as ever. Only for your medicine I would not be living to-day. Thanking you sincerely and I wish you grand and great success. Yours, MRS. A. OLIVER. For sale at H. Parker's, Durham.
